Woman's Club Meets—Has Fine Membership This Year

Mrs. O. C. Sanford, president of the Coquille Woman's Club, presided over the monthly business meeting, which was held in the Episcopal parish room Tuesday afternoon. A splendid attendance was present. The interesting programs that are being arranged for each meeting has stimulated additional interest in the club meetings.

Several chairmen of committees made reports. Mrs. LeFevre made a fine report of her welfare work. The club voted $10 for the Doernbecher Hospital fund. Mrs. H. A. Slack, chairman of the library committee, made the very gratifying report of $79 raised for the library. Mrs. Sanford gave a report on the district convention which she attended at Corvallis, Oct. 26. The club was enthusiastically in favor of improving the appearance of the city in general.

As the club was observing "Art Week," Mrs. Sanford had secured a loan from the state library of a collection of copies of paintings by the old masters, which were greatly admired. Mrs. Pearl Ellingsen, efficient librarian, was present with a collection of new books which she exhibited and urged the public to read.

The business meeting concluded. Mrs. L. L. Bonney took charge of the literary program. Miss Murfel Davis sang a lovely solo, "Roll on 'Arrest Moon.'" Mrs. M. O. Hawkins accompanying. Mrs. Bonney then introduced Mrs. T. T. Denison, who gave a very fine review of Margaret "Helen" popular book, "Gone with the Wind," a romance of the civil war period, which is being widely read.

Hostesses for the tea were Mesdames Geo. Lorenz, C. A. Rietman, H. A. Slack, L. H. Hazard, M. O. Hawkins, A. L. Beck, J. G. Toole and C. W. Kline. Guests of the club were Mrs. Wm. Hicking and Mrs. Roy Willoughby.

breeders and families. Among the distinguished guests were: Milton L. Gumbert, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. E. Olden, Salem; Morris Greenburg, New York City; Irving Glassbeld, Seattle; Geo. P. Williams, Portland; Fred Hamberg, Seattle; C. W. Stacey, Salem, president of Oregon State Fox Breeders Association; Eugene Finlay, Jefferson, secretary of the association. Miles Hartwell, 14-year old son of C. M. Hartwell, of Riverton, was the youngest exhibitor, yet he won the grand show champion prize with his only adult male fox. He owns only six foxes, two of which he exhibited, winning on them one first, one second and grand show champion. His sweepstakes winner was a pup last year, when he exhibited him at the Coquille Fox Show on Nov. 1. He won first place then in the pup class and was runner-up for sweepstakes.
