Club Enjoys a Fine Program

Tuesday evening the Coquille Townsend club met in the W. O. W. hall and every available seat was filled. The meeting was opened in the regular form with two numbers by the Townsend orchestra under the baton of Clyde Gage. The hall was decorated for the occasion and a Christmas tree added a touch of holiday spirit. As this was strictly a social meeting the evening was given over entirely to entertainment. Those who did not attend missed the best program even given at a Townsend meeting. Following is the program in the order of presentation:

A violin solo by Little Nell Hage, aged four years, was the first number. He was accompanied at the piano by Marilyn Compton. A vocal solo by Genevieve Peart. A Christmas recitation by Mrs. D. H. St. Clair. A tap dance by Evelyn Wallerman, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Southstone. Vocal solos by Harold Hayes with his guitar. Violin solo by Lyndell Southstone, accompanied at the piano by her mother, Mrs. Southstone. Orchestration by Townsend orchestra. Vocal solos by S. M. Nessler, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Birdie Skeels. Violin duet by Clyde Gage and J. L. Backman. They were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Skeels. Quartet numbers by Cornfed Canaries, O. T. Gant, J. L. Smith, E. D. Webb and F. G. Leslie. Tap dances by Townsend Tappers, Bernice Hage and Wilma Drake. They were accompanied by Tom Drake and his violin.

Each number on the program was given generous applause by those present and each one called back for an encore. The Townsend club wishes to express its appreciation to those furnishing the program and every number deserves great credit.

After the program the delighted audience retired to the banquet room where the ladies had prepared delicious refreshments. The next meeting of the club will be held Tuesday evening, December 29th. No meeting next week because of the nearness of Christmas.
