Club Notes and Other Social Activities

The Wednesday Evening Bridge club met at the home of Beneva Volkmar Wednesday evening. The house was prettily decorated with Christmas trees and other Yuletide decorations. Extra guests were invited to make three tables of contract. High score was won by Miss Genevieve Foster and low score by Miss Fay Waggoner. Delicious refreshments were served later to the following members and guests: Dorothy Bunch, Maxine Stevens, Lorraine Perrott, Eunice Carmichael, Fay Waggoner, Helen Glenn Margarita Brodie, Geneva Agostino, Jessie Lawhorn, Marion Endicott, Genevieve Foster and the hostess.

The Past Matrons and husbands and the Past Patrons and wives held their annual Christmas party in the banquet hall of the hotel Thursday evening. The guests assembled for a seven o'clock dinner. After they were seated, Christmas carols could be heard outside the door. The sound penetrated to such extent, the singers were invited to enter and share the feast. The singers, nothing loath, entered and sang a few more carols. The head caroler then presented each with a lighted candy candle. These souvenirs were designed by one of the past worthy matrons. The room was resplendent with Christmas decorations, a large tree occupying a prominent corner. After a bountiful dinner, the tables were cleared and soon the sound of sleigh bells could be heard. Santa, resplendent in red with a fetching beard, leaped from his sleigh into the room. Old Santa was in a merry mood and made things lively for all, giving all sorts of gifts from silverware to orchestral instruments.

The members and guests enjoying the occasion were: Messrs. and Mesdames Bert Folsom, Henry Lorenz, W. V. Glaisyer, G. A. Ulett, Roy Neal, Frank Leslie, J. E. Norton, Lafe Compton, W. E. Bosserman, C. A. Rietman, E. A. Walker, F. P. Setzer, Mesdames Bertha Smith, Sadie Jayes, Hal Pierce, Geo. Lorenz, Flora Dunn, Ora K. Maury, Etta J. Nussel, Julius Ruble, Maud Woodyard, Geo. Bryant, Birdie Skeels, C. W. Gano, R. E. Coober, Misses Edna Robison and Jess Maury, Laura Emily Ruble and Messrs. John Quiek, Theodore Clinton and Geo. S. Robison.

The Pioneer Missionary Society met in the church parlors Thursday for their regular meeting. The rooms were beautifully decorated with potted poinsettias, Christmas festoons and a large Christmas tree. A fireplace also added to the Christmas cheer. A short Christmas program, consisting of carol singing and the reading of the Christmas story made the assembled guests feel the spirit of Christmas. This was followed by two splendid practical talks on "Stewardship" by Mrs. James Richmond and an interesting paper on Christmas in other lands by Mrs. Walter Oerding. Several Christmas games followed the program and then the Christmas exchange made the final bit to a lovely afternoon. Delicious refreshments were served by Mesdames Richmond, Ireland, Adams, J. L. Smith and Wm. Peart to the following ladies: Mesdames R. B. Rogers, D. D. Dale, Frank Leslie, Viola Newton, Walter Oerding, Clyde Minard, Amanda Way, Lena McCurdy, Minnie Laws, C. V. Carmichael, Robert Gile, Ernest Purvance, W. R. Wilder, K. P. Lawrence, Henry Ellis, Birdie Skeels, A. T. Morrison, Leland Peterson, Leland Peart and Roy Boober.

BREWSTER VALLEY

Mrs. Leslie Groat was truly and happily surprised last Tuesday when a group of club members and friends drove in and gave her a shower of many and lovely little things. Those taking part in the affair were Mesdames Oscar Durrell, Minor Mead, Perley Crowley, Phoebe Harry, J. D. Laird, Chas. Obermann, Harold Shepherd, Wm. Keller, Elmer Wilson, W. A. Nickason, Carrie Nickason, Julius Benham, C. M. Wilson, Elwin Alford, P. A. Alford, Zelphia Krewson and Mrs. E. T. Bales, Mrs. Geo. Pratt, Mrs. Mike Oberman and Mrs. Theodore Easton, of Dora. Fruit salad, cake and coffee were served to those present.

Mrs. Perley Crowley received word that her daughter, Esther, is still not able to be about from an injured back received when lifting a patient some two months ago. It has become necessary for her to wear a cast.

Albert Carver led the young people's meeting Sunday by giving a very interesting and inspiring talk. Betty and Fern Nickason and Virginia Wilson sang a special song, "Jesus is Dearer than All."

Little Lila Mae Laird has been suffering from flu, pneumonia threatened, for the past week and was taken to the hospital Saturday. At this writing she is better but will remain in the hospital for a few days yet.

What might have been a much more serious accident took place Friday when C. M. Wilson drove a little too far out on a soft shoulder in passing another car and went over the bank just beyond Hailey Laird's place. The car turned over once and landed right side up. Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Elmer Wilson and baby Earl were with him. Minor bruises and cuts were received by all except the baby who came out without scratch.

Chas. Oberman and family, who have been living on the Brant Taylor place moved into Everett Howe's house at Dora Friday.

The Herman Grays, who recently purchased the Taylor place, moved on the following Sunday. Minor Mead went to Myrtle Creek Saturday and moved their furniture Sunday.

Ernest Krewson, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia at the hospital in Myrtle Point, is improving now.

Mrs. Phoebe Harry, who has been visiting in the valley for the past month went home last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Benham have moved and are comfortably settled in the Hailey Laird house.

J. C. Keller from Norway visited at the Wm. Keller home Monday.

Roy Henry has started logging operations in the Paulson timber across the river from the P. A. Alford place.
