Appointments by New City Administration Made Monday

lected to serve as president of the Dairymen's association during 1937 and J. D. Carl, of Arago, was re-elected to the office of vice-president. J. N. Jacobsen, of Coquille, will serve as secretary-treasurer, and the following directors were re-elected for the next year: George Hampton, Arago; Hillis Perkins, Bandon; George Landrith, Coos River; E. L. Clausen, Broadbent; E. L. Detlefsen, Coquille; Alton Kay, Bullards Rt., Coquille; Jen Monson, Lakeside; S. S. Reed, Myrtle Point; S. L. Leatherman, Lee Valley.

Approximately 90 dairymen attended the meeting.

It was stated by dairymen in the northern part of the county that the division for the purpose of carrying out the tuberculosis and Bang's disease testing was not equitable and the association went on record requesting the county court to make an equitable division of the county so that each of the herd inspectors will have one-half of the dairy herds of the county in their respective districts for the tuberculosis and Bang's disease testing.

Following a general discussion on dairy inspection the organization went on record favoring the continuing of a dairy inspection work this year on a plan similar to that carried out in 1936. This matter was referred to the quality improvement committee, including E. L. Detlefsen, John Carl and Ernest Clausen for the dairymen; J. A. Larson, Floyd Bennett and Chris Nelson for the factories.

It was announced that the annual meeting of the Oregon State Dairymen's association would be held at Corvallis on January 19 and 20, and all Coos county dairymen were urged to attend. In order to arrange transportation in advance it was requested that dairymen in the county, who plan to attend, leave their names at the county agent's office as soon as possible. The program for the state meeting calls for consideration of many problems of vital importance to dairymen, including the Bang's testing law.

New Students
Four new students, two juniors and two freshmen, enrolled in high school last Monday. The juniors are Orville Weekly, from Grants Pass, and Jim Avery, from Yreka, California. The freshmen are Leland Sutton, from Myrtle Point, and Jim Alford, from Longview, Washington.

Cure for Baldness

The barber of ancient days had his cure for baldness, too; one recipe coming down to us, reading as follows: "Mix together fat of the lion, fat of the hippopotamus, fat of the crocodile, fat of the cat, fat of the serpent, and rub the mixture in the hair."

Steve Dey Heads Townsend Club

The Coquille Townsend club held its first meeting in 1937 Tuesday evening and started the new year out with a real show of determined enthusiasm. The Townsend orchestra, under the leadership of Clyde Gage, played several enjoyable selections during the evening session.

The first action of the club was the election of officers, who will serve for six months. They are: president, Stephen Dey; vice president, O. T. Gant; secretary, Geo. Swinney; treasurer, Wm. Schroeder.

The new advisory board was then chosen. The following will serve with the four principal officers, Tom Drake, Mrs. Z. C. Strang, Mrs. Stephen Dey, L. W. Oddy, Mrs. W. W. Tighman and George Davis. The new officers will take charge at the next meeting.

The club voted to change the number of meetings each month. Instead of meeting each week, the club will meet on the first and third Tuesdays of each month. The next meeting will be January 19th. At that time the ladies of the club will serve a turkey dinner. This dinner will be a banquet served to anyone who wishes to come. A small charge will be made to cover expenses. Dinner will be served from 5:30 p. m. to 7:00 p. m. Following the dinner the club will hold its regular meeting at eight o'clock. A program is being arranged and everyone is invited to remain and enjoy the evening.

Attention of the members is again called to the new schedule of meetings. Keep January 19 open and enjoy an evening social entertainment.

Birthplace of Permanent Wave Claimed by Britain

It is interesting to learn, as one of the results of the hairdressing exhibition at Olympia, says the Manchester Guardian Weekly, that it is British hairdressers who claim to have discovered, in the year 1907, the art of applying a permanent wave to tresses that would otherwise be as straight as the path of duty.

For it seems an epoch-making event to have put the permanent wave on the restless sea of fashion—perhaps the most important contribution to waves and their behavior from this country since Britannia began to rule them. One has a feeling that other countries might possibly challenge the British origin of what is now so widespread an addition to the resources of civilization—but then other countries are always challenging something, including the original Britannia's supposedly commanding interest in wave management on the ocean model.

And any little arguments over the waves of the hair are certainly likely to lead to less trouble than conflicts about command of the sea. In the matter of expense there may be not much in it; it possibly costs about as much to keep all the permanent waves of old England in working order (for their permanence is not so imperishable as it sounds) as it does to build a few battleships.

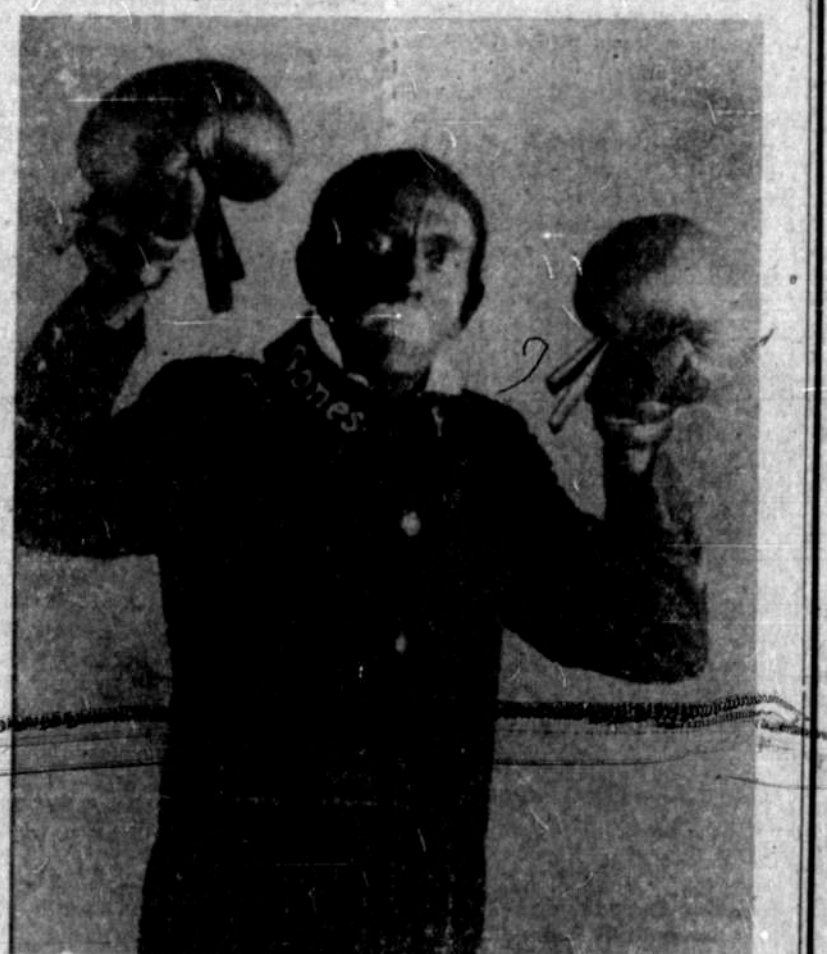

Rats That Do Not Mix

White rats are natural enemies of the black or brown rats. Albino, or white rats, are members of other rat families, but have a congenital deficiency of pigment in the skin, hair and eyes. Domesticated animals are especially liable to albinism, and by selective breeding races of albinos (as the white mice), have been produced.

Crosses and Losses

By crosses and losses men grow humbler and wiser.
