Social Activities

The Royal Neighbors met at the lodge hall Wednesday evening. After a short business meeting, the members played Kenos. Prizes were awarded to several. Owing to the cold weather, there was not as large an attendance as usual but the ones who came had a good time. Refreshments were served later.

The Episcopal Guild ladies met in the Parish house Wednesday afternoon for their annual election and business meeting. The following ladies were chosen to serve this coming year: president, Mrs. J. D. Gillespie; vice president, Mrs. C. J. Fuhrman; treasurer, Mrs. Ida Owen. After a short business meeting, the ladies finished tying a quilt. A social time was enjoyed by the following ladies: Mesdames C. J. Fuhrman, Bert Folsom, Ida Owen, George Taylor, Geo. Lorenz, Muri Pettit, C. B. Selbig, James Watson, A. J. Sherwood, W. H. Mansell, Lloyd Rosa, J. S. Barton, Annie Robinson, Clarence Tuttle, L. H. Hazard, J. D. Gillespie, C. K. Norcott, Adams and Rev. G. R. Turney. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Norcott and Mrs. Gillespie.

One of the outstanding social functions of the younger set was the dance given by Job's Daughters in the Masonic banquet hall Friday evening. Elizabeth Varney was chairman of decorations and she and her corps of assistants made the hall a bower of beauty. The color scheme was red and green; streamers hung from the lights and were entwined in the lattice work, cedar boughs helped to make the hall look very festive. The punch table was attractive with red tapers and a basket of holly. A grand march started off the festivities. Marilyn Compton, honored queen, escorted by Leonard Golden of Newark, N. J., led the march, followed by the past honored queens and their escorts, princesses, other officers and guests. Southstone's four piece orchestra furnished the music for this joyous occasion. Over fifty couples enjoyed this new year's dance. The patrons and patronesses were Messrs. and Mesdames Lafe Compton, W. V. Glaisyer and W. E. Bosserman.

One of the lovely new year's eve parties was the one given by Messrs. and Mesdames George Ulett and Lafe Compton at the home of the former. Seven tables of contract were in play. First prize for men was won by Willard Bosserman, second by W. V. Glaisyer; first for ladies was won by Mrs. George Bryant, second by Mrs. Louis Charneski. A splendid chorus, mostly male, ushered in the new year with old time songs. Delicious refreshments helped to make this party a most enjoyable one.

A lovely new year's eve party was given by Miss Dorris Compton and George Ulett, Jr. They started out the joyous occasion with a theatre party at the Liberty Theatre. This was followed by a most entertaining show at the miniature theatre in the Ulett home, with George Ulett, Jr., as master magician. The next feature for the hosts and guests was the dance at the Community Building. After the dance, the young people returned to the Ulett home and took charge of the recreation hall where pool and dancing was enjoyed. Refreshments were served to the following guests: Misses Marilyn Compton, Dorothy, Betty and Beth Glaisyer, Marianne and Betty Axtell, Zelma Bosserman, Leveille Walstrom, Harriet Webb and Geraldine Ensele, Messrs. Leonard Golden, Allington Glaisyer, Forrest Kirby, Howard Hickam, Cecil Laws, Gross Wood, Donald Smith, Leonard Ensele, Ross Mintoynne and Sanford Davis.

The "Friendly Seven" met at the home of Mrs. George Ulett Tuesday for dessert luncheon. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in sewing, knitting and conversation. Those present were Mesdames Lafe Compton, F. S. Emery, Kennett Lawrence, Roy Boober, E. A. Bradford, of Marshfield, and the hostess.

Mrs. Lloyd Oddy had a lovely surprise party Friday evening for Mrs. Annie Robinson. The occasion was her birthday, the guests bringing handkerchiefs and other useful gifts. The evening was spent in knitting and sewing. Delicious refreshments were served later to Misses Ruby and Pearl Snyder, Myrtle DeLong, Bess Maury and Mesdames Eva Watson, J. J. Geaney, S. L. DeLong, Ora Maury, Emma Pierce, Mable Laird, Bertha Smith, Sadie Jayes, Ida Owen, Annie Rooney and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Boober had a small new year's eve party. Monopoly was enjoyed by Messrs. and Mesdames D. D. Dale, Lloyd Oddy, Mrs. Maud Woodyard and the host and hostess. Refreshments were served.

The "Entre Nous" club, a foursome that has been meeting for more than two years, met at the hotel last Thursday for a one o'clock luncheon.

The losing two of the group entertained the winners in royal style with a luncheon, a vivid automobile trip and then repairing to the losers' homes alternately for cards. Attractive prizes were the goal of every four hands for the winners. A grand time was enjoyed by the four: Mesdames W. S. Sickels, C. A. Rietman, M. Earl Wilson and Roy E. Boober.

Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Denison held an informal open house new year's afternoon from three to six o'clock. About fifty invited guests were able to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haglund entertained at their home new year's eve. They had an eight-thirty o'clock buffet dinner for the following guests: Messrs. and Mesdames Harold Gould, Don McEniry, Elbert Schroeder, Miss Eunice Gremsgaard, of Marshfield, and Mr. Bill Barrows. After the dinner, they went to Marshfield to attend the dance.

The Pythian Home Club met at the home of Mrs. Sam Arnold on the Marshfield highway Tuesday for dessert luncheon. The ladies sew for the Pythian home. The members and guests included Mesdames Clarice Clarino, E. A. Wimer, George Gilman, Guss Tillmann, Neil McGilvery, Jack Arnold, Clarence Tuttle, Grant Wilcox, Harold Varney, Roy Pettengill, S. H. Stockhoff, W. L. Kistner, W. E. Cross and James Watson.

During the last month the Zodiac Club has had three very lovely meetings. Dec. 5th, the club met at the home of Mrs. Jane Burch in honor of Virginia Kolstad, the occasion being her birthday. Members present were Mesdames Lydia Willey, Gladys Wheeler, Ora Tennant, Emma Gasner, Edna Kern, Helen Detlefsen, Ethel Fuller, Blanche Mast, Hannah Josal, Robah Robison, honor guest, Virginia Kolstad, and the hostess, Mrs. Mabel Willey was a guest for the day. A lovely pot luck luncheon was enjoyed at one o'clock, at which time Virginia was presented with a birthday gift from the club. She also drew the "lucky slip" for the tea towel shower.

On December 17th, the Zodiac club met at Emma Gasner's home in honor of Ethel Fuller. A lovely potluck luncheon was enjoyed at one o'clock by the following members: Hannah Josal, Jane Burch, Blanche Mast, Ethel Fuller, Helen Detlefsen, Lydia Willey, Virginia Kolstad, Edna Kern, Emma Gasner, Ora Tennant, Gladys Wheeler, Robah Robison and the hostess, Mrs. Mabel Willey and Mrs. Joe Thorp were invited guests. Ethel Fuller was presented with a lovely birthday gift from the club. The Christmas exchange was also enjoyed, each one receiving a lovely gift. Robah Robison drew the lucky slip for a towel shower.

One Jan. 5th, the Zodiac club met at the home of Ora Tennant in honor of Lydia Willey. As she was ill, she was unable to be present and enjoy the lovely potluck luncheon at one o'clock. The following members were present: Mesdames Virginia Kolstad, Edna Kern, Emma Gasner, Helen Detlefsen, Gladys Wheeler, Hannah Josal and the hostess. The club sent a lovely birthday gift to Lydia Willey. Plans were made to have a Keno party at the home of Gladys Wheeler March 20. The next meeting of the club will be given by Virginia Kolstad at the home of Edna Kern in honor of Blanche Mast, Feb. 17th.

BREWSTER VALLEY

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Alford had Christmas dinner at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Albert Christensen. This is the first time Aunt Fannie, (Mrs. Alford), has been able to leave home for months.

Miss Emma Lou Watson returned Sunday morning after spending the holidays at her home in North Bend.

Mrs. Anna Johnson and the Misses Edna and Anna Johnson and Ray Javendahl left for their homes in Salem Monday, after spending the Christmas holidays at the Wm. Keller home.

Mr. and Mrs. Doc Carver and son and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wilson, from Roseburg, visited at the C. M. Wilson home Sunday and were the incentive for a big dinner party that day. Those enjoying the day together were Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Nickason, Betty and Fern, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wilson, Charles, Virginia, Burton and Earl, Mrs. Ivan Laird, Muri and Lila Mae, Miss Emma Watson and the honored guests.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Robinson, from Arusa, Calif., came Tuesday morning and spent the rest of the week visiting and transacting business in the valley.

Two places have changed owners in the past week. Julius Benham bought the place owned by Richard Gibbs and B. C. Robinson bought Julius Benham's place, where Harold Shepherd lives. Mr. Robinson intends moving on the place within the next month.

Mrs. B. C. Robinson, Mrs. Elmer Wilson, Burton, Virginia and Earl, Mrs. Wm. Keller, Mavis and Wallace, went to Bridge Thursday to visit at the W. A. Lett home there. Virginia and Burton stayed with their grandparents the rest of the week.

Charles Wilson, who had been spending the past week with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Orin Lett, visiting in Portland and vicinity, came home Sunday morning.

Mrs. Perley Crowley, who has been suffering with bronchitis and had to spend a few days at the hospital in Coquille, came home Wednesday.

Miss Evelyn Land, who spent the holidays at her home in Bandon, came back to C. M. Wilson's Sunday.

Miss Velma Krewson was ill and unable to be out Sunday.

The regular Friday evening chart study was held new year's evening last week, after which games were played until midnight, when the new year was ushered in by a short song and prayer service.

Ivan Laird came home Saturday evening after a business week in Salem.

Rev. E. L. Bales received a severe blow on his forehead Saturday afternoon when he went to release the trip lever on the dump truck he was driving and it broke and hit him in the head. He was taken to the doctor immediately to have the wound dressed. He was unable to conduct services at the hall Sunday but Mrs. Bales very ably took his part.

The annual election of Sunday school officers was held the last Sunday in the year 1936. Albert Carver was elected superintendent, with Marion Miller as assistant; Zelphia Krewson secretary-treasurer, with Eloda Krewson as assistant. The following teachers are still acting: Mrs. Wm. Keller, of the young people's class; Mrs. W. A. Nickason, of the intermediates; Mrs. E. L. Bales, of the little folks; Miss Emma Watson, of the tiny tots.

Albert Christensen joined the toothless class along with Mrs. Wm. Keller, when he tried to eat hard candy Christmas and cracked his false plates.

At this writing, Tuesday morning, Brewster valley lies under a blanket of snow.

FIRST MOTOR PARTY VISITS NEW MOUNT HOOD LODGE

One of the two Ford V-8s which last week took the first motor party up to the new Timberline lodge being erected high on the slopes of Mount Hood. The road to the lodge is closed to outside traffic although the forest service is keeping it clear so that construction may continue. The partially completed lodge will provide shelter for skiers this winter. From Oregon's new bid for winter sports fame, one can view the sweeping panorama of the cascade mountains to the south and the summit of Mount Hood towering to the north.
