Social Activities

Mrs. J. E. Axtell was hostess to two of the loveliest parties last week at her home on First street. On Wednesday she had a one o'clock luncheon for the younger married ladies. The parties carried out the signs of the Zodiac in colors, refreshments and score cards. The rooms looked most attractive in blue and silver, a small plant forming the center piece on the luncheon tables and the luncheon cloths being blue and the napkins of silver shade. Four tables of contract were in play Wednesday. This party was given in honor of Mrs. Paul Trojell, a newcomer to Coquille. Mrs. Ray Vaughan won high score and Mrs. Donald Estes second. On Friday there were three tables of contract. Mrs. W. V. Glaisyer won high score and Mrs. Geo. Bryant second.

The contract club of the younger group met at the home of Mrs. Vera Gaslin Wednesday evening. After a very pleasant evening spent playing cards, refreshments were served by the hostess. Miss Beneva Volkmar won high score at contract and Mrs. LeVerne Pernell low. The following members and guests were present: Mesdames Fay Waggoner, LeVerne Pernell, Maxine Stevens, Lorraine Perrott, Evelyn Elliott and Misses Eunice Carmichael, Dorothy Bunch, Verna Haller, Geneva Agostino, Genevieve Foster, Beneva Volkmar and the hostess.

The Ecadriens met at the home of Mrs. W. V. Glaisyer Monday for a one o'clock luncheon. The ladies were delighted to have one of their shut-in members, Mrs. Amy Aasen, with them once more. After a delicious luncheon the ladies spent a pleasant afternoon sewing and chatting. Members present were Mesdames George Johnson, Earl Noleser, J. E. Axtell, John Aasen, W. E. Bosserman and the hostess.

The Friday afternoon duplicate bridge club met at the home of Mrs. U. E. McClary last week for dessert luncheon. The following members and guests were present: Mesdames E. M. Kay, Ed. McKeown, R. E. Boober, H. S. Norton, Frank Thrift, A. B. Collier and F. C. McNelly. Mrs. McClary and Mrs. McNelly won high score.

The Friday afternoon bridge club of the younger married ladies met at the home of Mrs. Leland Peterson for dessert luncheon at one o'clock last Friday. The afternoon was pleasantly spent playing contract. Mrs. Harry Godard won high score and Mrs. Paul Simpson low score. The following members and guests were present: Mesdames J. G. Toole, Leland Peart, Harry Godard, Paul Simpson, Kenneth Graham, J. G. Gillespie, E. C. Ashworth and the hostess.

The O. D. O. club met at the home of Mrs. John Jayes last Friday afternoon. The ladies spent a very pleasant time sewing and chatting. Delicious refreshments were served later to the following members: Mesdames C. W. Gano, Fred Kunz, Guss Tillmann, Lee Hand, H. E. Huddle, Grant Wilcox, and a guest, Mrs. A. J. Thorp, and daughter. The club will meet with Mrs. Kunz in two weeks.

The Needleworkers club members and their husbands were entertained for a six o'clock dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pook Sunday evening. After a sumptuous dinner at a table set for eighteen, the guests spent a social evening playing cards. Members and guests present included: Messrs. and Mesdames Ray Simpson, E. A. Wimer, George Gilman, E. C. Yarbrough, John Ruble, Jack Arnold, Cecil Elwood, of Marshfield, Bill Pook, Mrs. G. Miller, Mr. Zosel and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pook.

Job's Daughters met for their regular meeting in Masonic Hall Monday evening with Marilyn Campton, H. Q. presiding. The girls have had "secret Dads" for a few months, so Monday night these special guests were honored and had the pleasure of finding out who their "daughters" were. After the meeting the "Dads" and guests were entertained by several selections from Miss Muriel Dae's string ensemble. Dorothy Glaisyer delighted the guests with two readings. All sorts of games were then enjoyed, followed by an oyster stew supper. Fourteen "secret Dads" enjoyed this lovely occasion.

The Episcopal Guild ladies met in the Parish House Wednesday afternoon for their regular meeting. After a short business meeting, the ladies tied a quilt. Refreshments were served by Mesdames L. H. Hazard and Jas. Laird to the following ladies: Mesdames A. J. Sherwood, C. J. Fuhrman, E. E. Johnson, J. D. Gillespie, E. L. Vinton, C. T. Selbig, Lloyd Rosa, Ida Owen, Muri Pettit, Chas. Stauff, J. S. Barton, W. H. Mansell, J. A. Lamb, C. W. Kline, A. R. Dimick and C. K. Norcott.

Mrs. U. E. McClary entertained with a lovely dessert luncheon for Mrs. Ed McKeown Wednesday. This affair was in honor of Mrs. McKeown's birthday, which occurred a few days ago. The guest of honor received many lovely handkerchiefs. After the luncheon, the guests had a most enjoyable time playing contract. Mrs. F. C. McNelly won high score and Mrs. McClary second. The invited guests included: Mesdames A. B. Collier, E. M. Kay, F. C. McNelly, T. B. Currie, Frank Thrift, George Johnson, Hal Pierce, H. S. Norton, R. E. Boober, John Aasen, E. D. McCune and the guest of honor.

The duplicate contract club met at the Tip Top Wednesday for luncheon. The ladies later went to the home of Mrs. R. L. Stewart, where they had a most pleasant afternoon playing cards. The following members and guests were present: Mesdames M. R. Thomas, C. M. Gray, Bert Folsom, D. E. Rackleff, R. E. Boober, F. L. Greenough and Louise Carruthers.

The J. G. W. club are meeting at the home of Mrs. J. L. Smith today for luncheon with Mrs. Henry Lorenz, Mrs. H. A. Young and Mrs. Smith as hostesses.

The Laf-a-lot club met at the home of Mrs. O. K. Rakestraw on the Myrtle Point highway Thursday afternoon. The ladies had a most pleasant time sewing and "laughing a lot." Refreshments were served later to the following members by the hostess: Mesdames E. A. Wimer, Earl Cross, George Gilman, W. H. Myers, John Martin and Bruce Martin.

The Thursday contract club met for luncheon at the hotel this week. The ladies then spent a very pleasant afternoon playing contract at the home of Mrs. W. S. Sickels. Members and guests present included: Mesdames F. S. Emery, F. L. Greenough, Louise Carruthers, Lafe Compton, L. H. Hazard, J. A. Lamb, M. R. Thomas, and W. S. Sickels. Mrs. Lamb held high score for the afternoon.

The MacDowel Music club met at the home of Mrs. L. H. Hazard Tuesday afternoon. The club ladies are studying the works of the composers: John Phillip Sousa, Steven Foster and Ethelbert Nevin.

Owing to the illness of the president, Mrs. Roy Barton, Mrs. George Bryant presided. After a short business meeting, Miss Inez Rover delighted the ladies with piano solos from the composers Sousa and Nevin and Rev. W. R. Wilder sang most pleasingly two solos of Steven Foster's, accompanied by Mrs. C. A. Rietman. The following ladies were present: Mesdames R. B. Rogers, Lafe Compton, O. C. Sanford, F. G. Leslie, Geo. H. Bryant, L. H. Hazard, C. A. Rietman and Miss Inez Rover

Gaslin-Gage

Miss Bonnie Gage, daughter of Mrs. Mary Gage, and Gilbert Gaslin, of this city, were united in marriage last Monday, at Vancouver, Wash., by Rev. Paul Kunzman.

Those attending the ceremony were the bride's mother and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Perrott, the latter a sister of the groom. The four drove to Portland last week and joined the bride who had been visiting there for a ing widow on whom the crook—played by Mr. Hatton—exercised his wiles, gave a perfect imitation and could easily be regarded as an outstanding character. The only time she lost her dignity was as the curtain went down just after she had discovered her lover to be a crook and charlatan. She fainted backward into Clarence Osika's waiting arms, but his hold was poor and she slipped through them to the floor.

Faculty Play Pleases An Audience of Nearly 900

P. W. Lane, the count, and his American wise-cracking, as well as clear-seeing, friend, Mr. Osika, kept the audience in a continuous state of apprehension as to what would happen next.

Janet Robison, the pretty daughter, who complied with her mama's wishes by falling in love with the count, who was at the time masquerading as the crook, lacked in no smallest detail carrying out the action of the play. Miss Phyllis Hall was the mama, and papa was played by A. L. Beck, whose whole thought and conversation was of golf.

Mrs. Marie Stewart gave an inimitable characterization of the widow proprietor of Cherry Creek Hotel, where the plot of the play was laid.

Harold Smith, whose only spoken word was that of "yes," his face being utterly blank and his actions indicating a weak mind, brought forth laughter every time he appeared.

Miss Esther Stahl was the newspaper reporter who failed to achieve her desire of interviewing the count for the Sentinel.

Tom Preece as the sheriff who finally took the crook, Grace Ellingsen as the flutterbugget maid in the hotel and George Fuller, bell-boy, completed the cast and all ended well when three couples achieved their hearts' desires.

"It's Great to Be Crazy" was probably the best performance yet presented by the faculty and it was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience in the well-filled house.

Calling cards, 50 for $1.00.

Mrs. A. C. Dye Buried Wed.

Funeral services were held at 2:00 p. m. Wednesday, at the Gano Funeral Home, for Mrs. A. C. Dye, of Riverton, who passed away at her home last Monday morning, following an illness of five months duration. The services were conducted by Rev. W. Raymond Wilder and interment was in the Odd Fellows cemetery.

The deceased, who had lived here for the past 17 years, was born Daisy Belle Pryer, in Kansas, April 3, 1877, being nine months and 22 days past 59 years years at the time of her passing.

Beside her husband she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Cora Belle Goodman, of Spokane, Wash., and Marie Dye, of Riverton; two sons, Fred Dye, of Portland, and John, of Reedsport; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Billingsley, of Spokane, Missouri, and Mrs. Grace Hilton, of Kansas City, Mo.; and one brother, Roy Pryer, of Spokane, Mo.
