

ARAGO

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barnett and Esther were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Watson, of Bridge.

Mrs. C. A. Swift, of Bandon, is spending several days visiting at the Watkins home. She arrived Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Barklow, who have been living at Bandon this winter, arrived Friday. They left for Portland on Sunday morning with Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Woodward for a business conference. They are expected home again the last of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. George King, of Alameda, California, arrived Saturday to spend the week-end with Mrs. King's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Lafferty. They left again Monday, taking with them Mrs. Everett Lafferty and children, Mayre Lee and Allen, for a two weeks' visit.

Mrs. Frank Burbank, who has been down with the mumps for the past two weeks, is able to be up and about again. Her friends welcome her speedy recovery.

The home demonstration meeting was conducted by Miss Jessie Palmier last Friday at the home of Mrs. Ernest Hammack. Those present at the meeting besides the leader and the hostess were Mrs. J. L. Burtis, Mrs. Ward Evans, Mrs. John Carl, Mrs. Albert Lillie, Mrs. Lawrence Rackleff, and Mrs. Jess Robison. This meeting was the last of a series of meetings that Miss Palmier has conducted here this past winter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barnett will be in Sunday noon on a business trip to San Francisco. They are expected back the latter part of the week.

Luncheon guests at the home of Mrs. J. W. Barnett on Monday were: Mrs. B. B. Watkins, Mrs. C. A. Swift, Mrs. Sam Damron and Mrs. J. J. Damron.

Miss Annie Deardorff started to work for Mrs. Mix until Mrs. Mix is in better health. She has been suffering with an abscessed ear for several weeks.

Daisy Mae Hammack, Lillaverle Myers, Angela and Josephine Milani helped Glenda Steward celebrate her birthday Sunday. Mrs. L. A. Myers was also present. The little girls all reported a good time.

Those attending the wedding ceremony of Mrs. Mabel Hughes and J. A. Newton in Marshfield Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Halter, Mrs. Daisy Doyle, Mrs. Albert Lillie and Laura Bernice.

The carnival presented by the Arago high school last Friday night was a big success. "The Unexpected Guest" presented by some grade school girls showed training and practice on the part of both teacher and cast. The part of Ruth was portrayed very well by Mary Jean McAllister, Anne Watkins was her sister, Beth, and their mother, who played the part of Mrs. Ross, was really Laura Bernice Lillie. Mrs. Ross' sister, Jane McNeil, was Dorothy Stevens. Madge and Norma Oakley were played by Maxine Rackleff and Peggy Blondell respectively. All six girls were well cast in their respective parts and kept the audience entertained throughout the play. "The Womanless Wedding," in which George Hampton, as the bride, married Mary Watkins, who was the groom, was a constant source of laughs. The bride wore a lovely black dress and the groom was dressed in a full dress suit. The bride was given away by her father, Leatha Munford, in the midst of much sorrow on the part of her mother, Annie Deardorff, and rejoicing on the part of her younger sister, Clarence Schroeder. She was attended by a flower girl, Ernest Hamack, who wore a short white dress trimmed in blue ruffles and a blue hair ribbon, and by Charles Webb, as the ring bearer, who was in short pants and ankle socks. The minister, Orvus Miller, quite ably married the couple and gave them his blessing. Pola Negri attended the wedding and spent most of her time flirting with Father. She might be better known as Pearl Hampton. Mutt and Jeff were also present and spent the entire time making fun of the ceremony and feeling sorry for the groom. This comic strip couple was portrayed by Lawrence Rackleff and Jean Watkins, respectively. The whole performance was quite a hilarious affair and will be remembered for some time. Another attraction that was a big success at the carnival was the showing of some 4-H club pictures by County Agent George Jenkins. Several former high school students' pictures in the reel made it quite an interesting show.
