Services for Mrs. Thos. Fee
Funeral services were held at the Gano Funeral Home at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon for Mrs. Thos. D. Fee, who passed away last Sunday as she was preparing to leave the hospital after apparently recovering from an operation for appendicitis ten days before. Interment was in the G. A. R. cemetery at Bandon where she had resided all her life.
Mrs. Fee was born Annie Florina Leneve, at Bandon, Dec. 28, 1900. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse G. Leneve, who were among the first settlers at Parkersburg, and was a granddaughter of Dr. Leneve, Coquille pioneer.

She was united in marriage to Mr. Fee, at Bandon, April 23, 1919. Beside her husband she is survived by a daughter, Bonita, aged 17.
Mrs. Fee was an active worker in the Parkersburg Community club, a member of the Baptist church and of the American Legion Auxiliary at Bandon.

Auxiliary Membership Is Larger
With enrollments running approximately 25,000 members ahead of the same date last year, the American Legion Auxiliary is making a strong bid to exceed last year's record enrollment of 424,311, according to Mable Kunz, membership chairman of the local Auxiliary unit. On March 1st, 347,308 members had enrolled for 1937. Three membership trophies awarded this month went to departments of Louisiana and Wisconsin. Louisiana won the Towne trophy, for the largest percentage of gain up to March 1st, and the Carpenter trophy for the department in the southern division first reaching its quota, while Wisconsin won the MacDowell trophy, for the department in the central division enrolling the highest percentage of its quota up to March 1st.

Coos County's Agricultural Conservation Rate Is Higher

Coos county farmers who are participating in the Agricultural Conservation program will receive an average diversion payment of $9 per acre instead of $6 which was the average for farms throughout the United States for diverting land from the production of soil depleting crops to the production of soil conserving crops, according to information just received by the local association from the state office.

In addition to the $9 diversion rate, a payment of $5.95 for each acre diverted will be made to apply on the soil building allowance on diversion farms and the average soil building allowance rate per acre on all crop land on non-diversion farms will be $1.19 per acre as compared with the 80c for an average for the United States as a whole.

According to the information just received, practically the same payment will be made for the diversion from the production of depleting crops such as grain, corn, potatoes, root crops, etc., to the production of conserving crops, such as alfalfa, clover, and permanent grasses. The only difference from last year's program is that $5.95 of this payment goes to build up the soil building allowance instead of being paid direct for diversion, it was stated by George Jenkins, county agent.

These figures will be used during the next few days in the county agents' office in determining the total allowance which can be earned on all farms which are included in the program this year and this information will be sent to each owner on a form provided for that purpose. This will make it possible for the farm operator to determine how much he can earn and what can be done to earn the allowance, Jenkins stated.

The rate of payment on individual farms will vary according to the productivity of the farm as determined by the county committee just as the rates paid in each county vary with the productivity of the crop land in that county. The rates paid in Coos county are second from the highest paid in Oregon being exceeded only by Malheur county which carries a rate of $10 for diversion, $6.70 for soil building allowance on diverted acres, and $1.34 on crop land on non-diversion farms. Other high counties are Hood River, Columbia and Washington.

The Boy Scout Camporee

Nearly 100 Boy Scouts and their leaders registered for the Coos District Camporee held at the site of the Scout cabin near Coos Head over the week-end where they camped, cooked, and participated in scouting events and games.

The scouts hiked from Bastendorff beach to their camp site, carrying their packs and equipment on their backs where, under the direction of their patrol leaders, they set up camps, some on the sand at the water front and others on the grass near the scout cabin. There under their own organization they all shared the responsibility of running their camp according to standards set by the district officers.

An evening campfire program was held, each patrol unit rendering a number for the entertainment and instruction of the entire group and following the flag ceremony an early morning Sunday service was held with the twelfth Scout law, "A Scout is Reverent," as the theme.

One of the most popular events was a project of tent-peg making and driving following which the pegs were used as firewood in a fire-making and string-burning contest. Soft ball and capture the flag were also greatly enjoyed by the group.

Scouts present represented troops from North Bend, Marshfield, Eastside, Coquille and Myrtle Point. Bandon scouts were unable to participate as planned, due to last minute difficulties.
