Class Officers for Next Year
 Class meetings were held last week for the purpose of electing officers to serve during the following year. All candidates were required to have a three grade average in order to be eligible for office. Senior officers for next year will be Orville Clinton, president; Preston Moy, vice president; Mary Robb, secretary-treasurer; and Imogene Hickam, class representative to student council. Junior officers will be Ralph Fuhrman, president; Fred Watson, vice president; Dorothy Minton, secretary, and Jack Martin, representative. The juniors of next year are very proud of the fact that their newly elected president, Ralph Fuhrman, has held this same office every year consecutively, since the sixth grade. Sophomore class officers who were elected for next year are Robert Arnold, president; Charles Thommen, vice president; Charles Hawkins, secretary, and Jeanette Wheeler, class representative.

Service Pins Awarded by Girls' League
 Mary Robb, president of Girls League, presented the Girls' League award pins at a student body assembly held this morning. Hazel Morris, last year's president, in turn, presented Mary with a pin in recognition of her services to the league this year. The pins are awarded for high grades, school activities, and student leadership. A definite point system has been established whereby every girl may earn points throughout the year. The first award is a small gold pin, the second award is a pin with guard attached, the third award is set with small pearls, and the fourth award for four consecutive years is the small diamond-set pin. The ten high point girls from each class are selected and of these the five lowest receive honorable mention, while the five highest receive the pins. The task of keeping the individual scores belongs to Georgianna Johnson and Margaret Stewart.

Honorable mention was made of Georgia Sherwood, Kathleen Brady, Eileen Percy, Georgianna Johnson and Elizabeth Varney, seniors; Margaret Stewart, Mary Robb, Jean Nye, Annamae Holverstott and Elaine Gray, juniors; Ruth Pettengill, Donna Getz, Margaret Finn, Donna Dear, Bosserman, and Fauniel Moore, sophomores; and Gretchen Clinton, Lillian Bauer, Violet Sutton, Jeanette Wheeler and Shirley Nye, freshmen.

Pins were awarded to Eunice Howe, Elaine Young, Glennis Finley, Muriel Davis, and Dorothy Newton, freshmen, all first awards; Yvonne Kern, Ann Hawkins, Jane Kramer, Videlle Kelley and Leta Shultz, sophomores, all second awards; Marion Hess, second award, LaVelle Dale, third award, Barbara Leslie, first award, Emma Frances Mulkey, first award, Lucille Sherwood, first award, and Maxine Knight, third award, all juniors; Dorothy Glaisyer, fourth award, Marilyn Compton, fourth award, Ellen Bloomquist, first award, Mary Lou Nosler, first award, and Audrey Taylor, third award, all seniors. Marilyn Compton and Dorothy Glaisyer are the only two girls to receive the small diamond-set pins signifying four years of outstanding service and leadership in high school. Only three girls received the pearl pin signifying three years of outstanding work: LaVelle Dale, Maxine Knight, and Audrey Taylor.

Soap From the Buckeye

In early Ohio, the buckeye, the nut after which the state got its name, was used by the cabinwives in washing clothes. By washing the kernels, the women could produce a soapy substance.
