NOT MUSH-FAKERS, THEN

"Yes," remarked the barber, in a reminiscent tone, to the man he was shaving, "in the olden times we were almost classed as churgeons, practiced chiropody and prescribed simples for all ailments."

"Yes," replied his customer, "and I notice you are still extremely proficient in one of your ancient accomplishments."

"To which do you refer, sir?" asked the delighted barber, eagerly. "Blood-letting" replied his victim, sadly, as he watched the reflection, in the mirror, of the sanguinary corpuscles chasing each other down his cheek.

Sixty Days!

"Haven't I seen you before?" asked the judge.

"Maybe," replied the tailor. "So many men owe me money I can't remember their faces."—Case and Comment.

NOT IN MOURNING

"Didn't I hear you speak of your late husband?"

"Yes. He never showed up last night until after 2 A. M."

Panic
A woman ran out of a house shouting "Fire!" A passer-by started to run to the fire alarm, while another dashed into the hall and, being unable to see or smell smoke, turned to the excited woman and asked: "Where is the fire?"

"I didn't mean fire! I meant murder!"

A policeman arrived at that moment and demanded to know who had been murdered.

"Oh, I didn't really mean murder," wailed the hysterical woman, "but the biggest rat you ever set eyes on ran across the kitchen just now."—Halifax Herald.
