For five successive July fourths neighbors at Arago, who could not leave home for an extensive celebration due to the press of work, have gathered together for a picnic dinner and a day of games. For several years this has included one night at least of camping out on a spot chosen for its accessibility. Plans are under way this year for a big time to begin with a picnic lunch at one o'clock on Sunday and to last till Monday evening for those who can stand that much. At any rate there will be two picnic dinners and a firelight supper with fireworks either Sunday or Monday and one camp breakfast for those who are hardy enough for a night in the open if the weather permits. All neighbors and friends are welcome to join the fun. Further announcements of place will be made later.
