S. P. Shows Big Loss While the operating revenues of Southern Pacific in 1937 will show an increase of $22,000,000 over those of 1936, the net income will show a reduction of more than $13,000,000, according to Hale Holden, chairman of the Southern Pacific Company, testifying before the Interstate Commerce Commission in support of a rate increase for all the railroads.

The 1937 increase of $22,000,000 in Southern Pacific operating revenues, he said, will be accompanied by an increase of $27,000,000 in operating expenses, because of increases in wages and prices of materials and supplies, and by an increase of $5,000,000 in taxes.

essentials to that program. "In the national interest, the situation of our employees must also be considered. The Southern Pacific employees in 1929. Under falling revenues, there was a decrease to 45,362 in 1933, and with improvement in earnings a gradual increase to 65,480 on September 15, 1937. An average of about one-half of the gross income goes to payrolls. Gross revenues are dependent, of course, both upon the volume of business and the general level of rates, but if a railroad is to maintain and expand its employment, it must have an adequate general level of rates so that it may undertake changes and expansions which it would normally do if financially able.

Former Loggers' 1937 Records From the averages of the Western International League: E. Peterson: games, 102; at bat, 345; runs, 44; hits, 77; total bases, 104; two-base hits, 11; three-base hits, 8; home runs, none; sacrifice hits, 9; stolen bases, 5; base on balls, 35; hit by pitcher, 2; runs batted in, 42; strike outs, 40; average, .233. This E. Peterson must be "Rocky" Peterson. The record isn't exactly formidable, but "Rocky" was in his first year as a professional. He will likely be very promising if he'll learn the meaning of the word hustle.

Picture Authentic in Detail Few pictures filmed against the background of a technical subject have been placed upon the screen with greater authenticity than Universal's "Flying Hostess," dramatic film romance of the air which comes to the Liberty Theatre next Sunday.

In much of the picture real TWA airliners were used. The huge airplanes seen in the film are the very same ones which daily speed across the continent, carrying passengers and mail to and from New York and Los Angeles. They are Douglas transport ships that carry 14 passengers and a crew of three. They have twin motors of 710 horsepower each and their cruising speed ranges from 180 to 190 miles an hour.

The air hostess school, shown in the story as having been held in a hangar, actually was conducted in a hangar at one of the airports near Hollywood.

The interior scenes reproduce the surroundings of the airlines. "The Barrier" at Liberty One of Rex Beach's greatest outdoor stories and one of the most beautiful settings in the world, the North Woods, combine with stirring action scenes to make "The Barrier," which comes next Sunday for three days to the Liberty Theatre, outstanding.

"The Barrier" tells the love story of a girl of Alaska and a young army officer, set in the days of the Gold Rush. Jean Parker and James Ellison are the romantic team, and are part of a cast which includes Leo Carrillo, Otto Kruger, Robert Barratt, Andy Clyde and Sara Haden. The picture was produced by Harry Sherman and directed by Les Selander.
