Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Watkins and daughters, Mary, Jean and Anne, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Baker in Bandon last Monday.

Mrs. B. B. Watkins spent Tuesday in Myrtle Point visiting Mrs. Emily Miller.

Bible Study was held Wednesday evening at the church with J. D. Root leading the discussion, which was on the third chapter of Ephesians. There will be no Bible study held this week on account of the Christmas programs. The next meeting will be held Jan. 7 in the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Jackson and Dianne, of Coquille, visited at the L. A. Myers home Thursday evening.

Mrs. Ed Myers, who has been in the Coquille Hospital for the past eight weeks, was able to be moved to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wayne Woodward, last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Myers have moved to California to spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo L. Cox, of Bandon, visited at the home of Mrs. Cox's brother, S. C. McAllister, Sunday.

The white elephant party given by the Morning Star Sunday school class, Friday at the gym, was well attended, there being around 100 present. The evening was spent playing games, after which Santa passed out the gifts. The money from the candy and popcorn sale will enable the singing class to buy enough music to keep them busy for quite a while. Refreshments of cake, cocoa and coffee were served and a good time was had by all.

Rev. Howard L. Graybeal, of the Pioneer Methodist church of Coquille, preached his first sermon at Arago Sunday morning. Sunday school followed with an attendance of 85. In the evening a Christmas pageant was given in place of the regular Christian Endeavor lesson. The pageant, "When Christ Was Born," was directed by Mrs. Ward Evans and Mrs. S. C. McAllister, with the following cast of players: The historian, Mrs. H. E. Watkins; An elderly shepherd, J. D. Carl; The other shepherds, Nile Miller, Marvin Shaw, Orvus Miller and Stanley Halter; The boy, John Paul Root; The angel, Mrs. Sam Root; Mary, Mrs. Naomi Robison; Joseph, S. C. McAllister. Music during the pageant was furnished by a quartet as follows: Mrs. Stanley Halter, Annie Deardorff, J. D. Root and Sam Root; and a chorus of angels consisting of the following: Mary, Jean and Anne Watkins, Leatha Munford, Annie Deardorff, Gladys Miller and Mary Jean McAllister. There was no preaching service in the evening but the congregation had a half hour song service. Services next Sunday as usual.

The school Christmas program will be held at the Arago gym Thursday evening at eight o'clock. The teachers and pupils have prepared a very nice program for the community so every one be sure and attend. Treats for the children will be given after the program.

At 11:00 a. m., on December 25, at the Church of God in Coquille, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Watkins are celebrating their Golden Wedding anniversary. Everyone is invited to attend, so don't forget to be there, to wish them many more happy years together.

Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Christian church at Coquille the Ninety and Nine men's meeting will be held. This is a national movement of men to help their fellow men who are less fortunate than they and who need help financially or otherwise. A prize is to be given to the group having the largest attendance, so go and help your group win. The men in the Arago district belong to the Myrtle Point group.

Word has been received that Mrs. Arthur Doyle has been ill for some time with measles and bronchitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mast, of Allegany, called on Mr. and Mrs. Ward Evans Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert DeMoss visited at the home of Mrs. Edith Woodward over the week-end.

Charles Webb left Monday morning for California to visit with his aunt, Mrs. Warfel, for a few weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Webb took him as far as Roseburg.

Wallace Carl came in Thursday evening from Corvallis to spend the Christmas holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Carl.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schroeder and Price arrived from Corvallis last week to visit friends and relatives of this community.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Carl received word Monday morning of the birth of a son, to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Carl at Portland, Sunday evening, Dec. 19.

J. J. Pool had the misfortune to cut his hand with a saw Sunday.

Jack Farrier was able to return to school Monday.

"Double Wedding" Brings Powell and Myrna Loy to Roxy Screen in Gay Film

Myrna Loy and William Powell in "Double Wedding"

With William Powell and Myrna Loy back in the farcical type of roles which have made them famous as the most amusing co-starring team on the screen, "Double Wedding" opens Thursday at the Roxy Theatre with the advance reputation of being the dizziest, daffiest and drollest comedy hit to be shown in this vicinity in some time.

This is the setup: Powell is a penniless, happy-go-lucky artist, making his home in a trailer and refusing to take life or anything else seriously. Miss Loy is Margit, owner of a fashionable New York dress shop, a woman too busy to have time for love or any other foolishness. Florence Rice is her younger sister, Irene, with suppressed desires to be a movie star. John Beal is Waldo, whom Miss Loy has chosen to marry her sister.

When Irene meets the fascinating artist she doesn't want to marry Waldo any more. When the artist meets Margit he doesn't want to both with Irene any more. Poor Margit and Waldo conspire to straighten things out but before the uproarious climax of the story is reached, everything is more complicated than ever. It is all pure unadulterated farce.

The comedy is enriched by the smartest New York interiors that the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer designers have ever constructed for a picture, and the women will rave over the stunning new gowns designed for Miss Loy and Miss Rice by Adrian.

Richard Thorpe, who directed the Robert Montgomery thriller hit, "Night Must Fall," now shows his flair for comedy in directing the current laugh-maker. Together with the principals the cast of the new picture includes Jessie Ralph in another of her inimitable dowager roles, Edgar Kennedy as the dumb proprietor of a beer parlor, Sidney Toler, Mary Gordon, Barnett Parker, Katharine Alexander and Priscilla Lawson.

leader. A business meeting will also be held and officers elected for the coming year.

Mrs. Lucy E. Culver was honored on her birthday, Wednesday, Dec. 15, with a fine turkey dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Culver. Those enjoying the happy occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Culver and daughter, Eleby Ann; Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Culver, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Taylor and baby, Mary Ann; Archie Culver, the honored guest and the host and hostess.

Miss Dorothy Hooton arrived home Tuesday from Grants Pass to spend the holidays with home folks.
