Large Group to Study 4-H
A large gathering of leaders, parents, 4-H club members and others interested is expected at the January 10 meeting to be held at Myrtle Point at 8:00 p. m. This may be the last general county meeting prior to October so it is hoped that an unusually large number will be in attendance. Miss Helen Cowgill, who is the head of the Home Economics division of 4-H club work, will be the chief speaker. She will have with her a display of canning and sewing techniques and will be of much help. Mrs. Jessie Ingram and George Jenkins will also speak. Demonstrations and a model club meeting will also be a part of the program. At two o'clock Monday, Jan. 10, a local leaders' meeting will also be held in the Junior High School building, at which time Miss Cowgill will work definitely with leaders' problems. It is hoped that at this time all of the leaders in the Myrtle Point vicinity will be in attendance. Other local meetings are being planned for Tuesday, Jan. 11, in other parts of the county. These will be announced in the next issue of the paper. Both of the above-mentioned meetings are open to the public. Music Committee to Present Song

The songs which have been selected by the County Music Festival committee will be presented to teachers on Saturday, January 8. The singing will be led by Miss Anita Pageler, music supervisor, Coquille, during a part of the program of intermediate and primary teachers. Each teacher is asked to bring along her one book course and book containing "The Last Rose of Summer." Dr. W. G. Beattie, of the University of Oregon, will speak on the social subject, and Camilla Freel, special teacher in Marshfield, will speak on child guidance remedial work. A short business session will be held. All interested are invited to be present. Bancroft

Church of Christ Activities

The Church of Christ is having an interesting and intensive program of music and other activities during the Christmas season. The first of these activities was the Christmas cantata which was sung by a choir of 27 voices under the direction of Mrs. Maud Woodyard Sunday night, December 19. The entire choir repeated the cantata the following Monday evening at Arago in the new church. Thursday night, December 23, the Sunday school presented a beautiful pageant under the direction of Miss Ruth Towne. About 50 children and young people took part in this most impressive service and were assisted by members of the choir. Christmas eve a large group of the young people had a party at the church, after which they sang Christmas carols in many places throughout the town. This is an annual event and is much enjoyed by those who hear them. Activities this week include regular church services and the annual business meeting.
