

Believe it or Not!

Handsome Edmund Lowe — as a cop — and buxom Mae Mest — as a swindler — are sweethearts in "Every Day's a Holiday," the gay comedy opening Sunday at the Liberty for a three-day run. The big cast also includes Walter Catlett, Charles Butterworth, Charles Winninger, Lloyd Nolan and over a hundred others.

Hobbies

Coquille's No. 1 hobbyist is at the moment without a hobby, unless you might call making resolutions a hobby. Buzz Holmstrom tells me he made a good resolution not to shoot any more rapids, but is beginning to wonder how the car will hold. Having explored the dangers of America's most treacherous rivers at the peril of his life, it does seem that there are no fields left to conquer. I suggested going over some falls in a barrel but that was not nearly original enough to appeal to Buzz, so the public will have to wait for developments on some other angle.

An ardent fisherman and one who was acclaimed for his lucky catches, Buzz became disgusted with the reluctance of the fish to succumb to his lures over a particularly unlucky season and sold all of his tackle. He made a resolution at that time not to get another license. That was a year and a half ago and he has not broken that one since.

"And what is your hobby?" I asked Mrs. H. S. Norton.

"Oh, I keep scrapbooks," she told me.

One of Mrs. Norton's scrapbooks contains clippings concerning the Price and Norton families. She calls this the ancestor book, and it is to be a recording of the family history for the use of posterity.

Bound in a large, black scrapbook, ("It is large enough to last until I am an ancestor," Mrs. Norton explained), are clippings dating back as far as 1804. The oldest one is an account of her husband's great, great, great uncle who was on the staff of the British army opposing Moncalm at Quebec, and his son who was captured by the enemy and later exchanged.

Another scrapbook which has aroused considerable interest among those to whom she has shown it, is the Coquille Valley collection. It contains clippings from the Sentinel depicting the progress of the community and items about people and events that will be of interest to future generations.

A third book contains pictures cut from magazines of yards and gardens she admires. "All the gardens are those that surround little long, low cottages," confided Mrs. Norton, "and when I run out of clippings and pictures I paste stamps in a stamp-album."

Another hobbyist who has turned towards satisfaction and in knowledge is that of Mrs. A. B. Cummins, who lives in the Knife Apartments. Writing poetry and hymns has been one of her pleasures for almost thirty years.

Twelve hymns with words and music are among the collection. Her "Oh, I Know a Friend," was published in sheet music form. Another, "Rose of Sharon," has been presented frequently in recital. The words of one short hymn which was especially appealing follows:

Thou That Shinnest through the Gloom
Thou that shinnest through the gloom,
Chase away my doubts and fears;
Guide my wandering footsteps home,
Lead me through this vale of tears.
Though the way be dark and drear,
And my path I cannot see,
I will trust and never fear,
For I know Thou leadest me.

This group has been printed on tracts and distributed in foreign mission fields.

Another of her achievements is a poetic work on the Bible. This comprises five large volumes, yet in manuscript form, although Mrs. Cummins hopes to publish the first volume some time in the near future, the other volumes appearing in succession. This work required ten years to complete in long-hand. The typing of the manuscript alone took her spare time for two years. The vast amount of study and research that was necessary in order to finish this undertaking have afforded a thorough acquaintance with this most important Book.

Social Notes

The J. G. W. club ladies enjoyed a fine ten o'clock pot luck luncheon at the home of Mrs. C. J. Fuhrman last Friday. The afternoon was spent in sewing, knitting and chatting. Members enjoying the day were: Mesdames Birdie Skeels, C. J. Fuhrman, Bert Folsom, J. A. Lamb, J. L. Smith, H. A. Young, J. E. Norton, Ed Lorenz, Henry Lorenz, Lloyd Rosa, Mrs. J. E. Walstrom, of Bandon, Mesdames Marvin Lyons, J. S. Lyons and C. W. Endicott, of Marshfield, and a guest, Mrs. E. F. Lucas, of Bandon.

The winners of the "Entre Nous" club were royally entertained last Saturday for an eleven o'clock "bruncheon" at the Wilson cottage at Bandon. The afternoon was most enjoyably spent in playing cards and in sewing. A very special treat of ice cream and cookies were served late in the afternoon. Those present were: Mesdames W. S. Sickels, R. E. Boober, M. Earl Wilson and C. A. Rietman.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. McCune entertained a few friends for cards Saturday evening at their home on Henry street. Contract bridge was played with Mrs. R. E. Boober winning the travelling prize. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames W. E. Bosserman, Julius Ruble, R. E. Boober and the hosts.

A lovely party and miscellaneous refreshments were given at the home of Mrs. Monroe Swindall, nee Mary Edna Lorenz, a recent bride, by her cousin, Mrs. Lloyd Wood, at Mrs. Wood's apartment last Thursday evening. The evening was spent in playing hearts and other card games. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess late in the evening. Invited guests were: Misses Margaret Belloni, Lurene St. Clair, Audrey Taylor, Helen Lund, Maxine Johnson and the guest of honor.

H. W. Mast, of Lee, was most pleasantly surprised with a lovely dinner party last Wednesday evening, given by his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Mast, assisted by Mrs. Wm. Mast. The occasion was his birthday and several old time friends were invited to honor this occasion. After a grand dinner, the friends gathered around the fireplace and talked over old times and renewed old friendships. Invited guests were: Messrs. and Mesdames E. M. Kay, Hal Pierce, F. C. McNeily, Geo. Johnson, Wm. Mast, Mr. Ralph Larwell, the hosts and the guest of honor.

Beulah Chapter, No. 1, O. E. S., observed "Obligation Night" at its regular meeting in Masonic Hall last Thursday evening before a large number of members. After the meeting, a social time was enjoyed with cards and chatting.

Mrs. Ed McKeown was hostess to her bridge club for one o'clock dessert luncheon Friday. Duplicate contract was played with Mrs. McKeown and Mrs. T. B. Currie being high for the afternoons play. Those present were: Mesdames J. L. Aasen, E. M. Kay, Hal Pierce, R. E. Boober, A. B. Collier, T. B. Currie, George Johnson and the hostess.

The Junior Contract Club was entertained by Mrs. Lorraine Perrott last Thursday evening. Contract bridge formed the evenings entertainment with Mrs. Evelyn Elliott winning high score and Mrs. Hazel Foss, low. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess late in the evening. Members present were: Mesdames Maxine Stevens, Evelyn Elliott, Margarita Brodie, Hazel Foss, Misses Eunice Carmichael, Geneva Agostino, Marjorie Knight, Carol Young, Delores Belloni and two guests, Mrs. Marjorie Smith and Miss Irene Sandon.

Mrs. G. A. Ulett entertained her bridge club for one o'clock luncheon at the hotel last Thursday. The ladies later went to the home of Mrs. Ulett and had a pleasant afternoon of contract bridge. Ladies present were: Mesdames F. S. Emery, L. H. Hazard, F. L. Greenough, R. A. Wernich, W. S. Sickels, J. A. Lamb, R. L. Stewart, Geo. Chaney, Lafe Compton and the hostess.
