Three Hollywood favorites, Sally Eilers, John Beal and Harry Carey, head the cast of "Danger Patrol," new film melodrama from RKO Ra-dio. The picture is a vivid story of the professional handlers of high ex-plosives in the Texas oil fields.
Carey is cast as a veteran "soup handler" and Miss Eilers portrays his daughter, while Beal plays a young medical student who enters the industry to earn money for his edu-cation.

(By Don Bailey)
The Coquille High scored its fourth win over Marshfield this year, in the Community Building, Tuesday evening.

Coquille started out like a flash, to take the lead 8 to 0, Fuhrman mak-ing the first three baskets, with Bailey scoring the other. Marshfield kept firing at the hoop but couldn't seem to score, so called time out. After time in Hanen fouled, but Bailey missed, and McFadden went in for Hanen; Walker fouled McFad-ent who missed. Bailey broke down the floor but could not shoot as E. Smith fouled; McFadden again missed as the quarter ended, 8 to 0.

As the second quarter started, Goodman missed a pretty set up but Bailey, who was coming up, scored on a follow in.
Marshfield called time out, after which they followed with scores by Chaney and McFadden, making the count 10 to 5, and Coquille called time out. Marshfield scored two more by Hanen and then fouled Bailey, who put the free one in. Just as the half ended, Chaney dropped one in to make the score at half, 11 to 9, for Coquille.

The second half started with Co-quille getting the tip, at which time Fuhrman was hurt when he fell, but he stayed in the game. Smith scored a free throw, followed by two more points by Bailey and Goodman.
The line up: Coquille and Marshfield went in for Bessee. After time in, Bailey scored two, while Fuhrman made three more; bringing the score to 21 to 9 for Coquille at the end of the third quarter.

Quarter number four: Marshfield sent in two subs, who couldn't keep Coquille from scoring three more, by E. Smith. Goodman went out on fouls and Shambow took his place. Marshfield scored four points in the rest of the quarter. Coach Hutton sent in the rest of his subs. "Hal" told them to go in there and stall and, boy, they did. The game ended the series for Marshfield.

BLIZZARDS IN THE MOUNTAINS MAYBE!

But—
Uninterrupted service is the ideal of every electric service company, and it is a continual battle with the ele-ments to provide it. Many a stormy night when you are cosy and warm inside your house, with cheerful lights and an entertaining radio, our line-men are working desperately out in the storm because the service must go on

Sometimes, of course, the elements win. But these occasions are so in-frequent, and service is in most cases so quickly restored that we feel justified in calling to your attention how nearly we do approach our ideal of uninterrupted service.

Mountain States Power Company

Lewis' organization made to Roose-velt's campaign fund in 1936, and of the president's talk of control of labor unions, which drew a caustic remark from Lewis about those who supped at labor's temple, a chiding which F. D. R. "took like a whipped cur," Mr. Liljeqvist added.

The meeting of the Lions was at-tended by about 40 Coquille business men and in congratulating the speak-er afterward everyone expressed a wish to belong to such an organiza-tion as the speaker had urged.
