American Legion Junior Auxiliary Met Saturday

The first business meeting of the American Legion Junior Auxiliary was held in the Legion Home last Saturday at two p. m. Mrs. Gladys Wheeler is Junior Auxiliary chairman for the Coquille Unit.

Mrs. Robah Robison, president of the Auxiliary of Coquille Unit No. 36, gave an introductory talk, then turned the meeting over to Mrs. Wheeler, who gave a talk on the study and importance of learning the preamble to the constitution of American Legion and Auxiliary; and the correct way to pledge allegiance to the flag of America; also the proper way to salute our flag.

Many of the girls brought their scrapbooks, which were very attractive. The girls are planning on finishing their books by the first of March. Then they will send them to the children hospitals in Portland to be enjoyed by shut-ins.

Plans are being made for an "old-fashioned taffy pull" to be held the latter part of February, at which time a lucky prize drawing will be held.

All the Junior Auxiliary members, interested in buying Auxiliary pins, can purchase them from Mrs. Bertha Selbig for 25 cents each. There are nine paid-up members at present, with expectations for many more soon.

Delightful refreshments were served to: Jeanne Claterbos, Jeanette Wheeler, Jean Laird, Beth Houston, Elaine Gray, Dorene Robison, Alene Hunt, Shirley Nye and Betty Lou Donsted.

The next business meeting will be in March, at which time there will be nominations of officers.

Convention Dates Set By Morticians

Southwestern Oregon Funeral Directors held a meeting in the Chandler Hotel last Friday evening and set the dates for the annual state convention of the Oregon Funeral Directors association for May 19, 20, 21. Representatives of national funeral directors associations will be invited to the convention as guests together with presidents of the state associations in California, Washington, Idaho and Montana.

George S. Ryan, of Portland, executive secretary of the Oregon Funeral Directors Association, announced that a board of directors meeting would be called next week to appoint convention committees and start preparation of a convention program.

Discussions on professional subjects were led by Henry A. Schroeder, of Myrtle Point; Elbert Schroeder, Coquille; E. C. Thuerwacher, of Marshfield, and Chas. Schroeder, of Gold Beach.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Coulter, of Portland, and Chas. Bergreen, of North Bend.

Invitation of Reedsport members was accepted and the next meeting will be held in Reedsport. Mrs. A. M. Peterson, of North Bend, and Mr. and Mrs. John Unger, of Reedsport, were appointed program and dinner committee.

A vote of thanks was given Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Thuerwacher, of Marshfield, for arranging for the dinner and program.
