

Return Engagement "Trail of Lonesome Pine" on Double Bill at Liberty Sat.-Sun.

John Fox, Jr.'s beoved story of the Cumberland Mountains, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," comes to the Liberty Theatre Saturday and Sunday in an all-color motion-picture version starring Sylvia Sidney, Fred MacMurray and Henry Fonda. Produced for Paramount by Walter Wanger, and directed by Henry Hathaway, it was filmed outdoors using natural colors and natural backgrounds almost exclusively.

"The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" is a story of mountaineers and their feuds. Family battles family, clan battle clan, for years on end—and for causes long since forgotten. Miss Sidney and Fonda are members of the Tolliver clan, united in their love for each other and their undying hatred for the rival Fallon clan.

Their first contact with civilization and its ways occurs when MacMurray, a young engineer, arrives to construct a railroad line through their remote hills. At first antagonistic and suspicious, they become his friends when he saves Fonda from death, and, as time goes on, Miss Sidney falls in love with him.

Fonda, knowing only one code—to fight and kill for what he loves—sets out to "get" MacMurray. But simultaneously, the rival Fallon clan sets out to "get" Fonda. The events that follow when these opposing factions meet bring the film to a stirring climax.

In addition to the three stars, the cast includes such favorites as Fred Stone, Fuzzy Knight, Beulah Bondi, Spanky McFarland and Nigel Bruce.
