Agricultural Interests Initiate Bill to Quell Racket

Organized agriculture in every part of the state has composed all minor differences and united in the support of an initiative measure designed to protect agriculture in all future labor troubles arising in Oregon.

The bill was filed with the secretary of state several days ago and petitions will be placed in circulation just as soon as the attorney general completes a ballot title for the measure.

Organizations sponsoring the new measure are: Associated Farmers of Oregon, Inc., The Oregon Farm Bureau, the Eastern Oregon Wheat League and the Hood River Growers Club.

The new measure, which has the united support of the Associated Farmers of Wasco county, gives complete protection for the growing, harvesting, and marketing of agricultural and other products. It defines a labor dispute as one between an employer and a majority of his employees, and gives the courts jurisdiction to issue injunctions in labor troubles. It compels organizations to keep an accurate record of all receipts and expenditures and permits members to inspect them at all times.

According to Howard L. Shoemaker, president of the Associated Farmers of Oregon, the farmers of Oregon are determined to protect agriculture in future labor disputes and a definite campaign will be prosecuted to pass the measure at the general election next November.

Ralph W. Perry, who is a candidate against Ray W. Gill for master of the state grange in the grange election next month, said he is finding widespread support for the measure in spite of the opposition of Grange Master Gill, whose close alliance with leaders of organized labor has brought about a revolt among the farmers of Oregon who are members of the grange.

Following is a copy of the initiated measure which will be voted upon at the November election.

A BILL

For an act to protect the employee, the employer and the public in case of labor controversies to define the term "labor dispute;" to regulate collective bargaining agencies; to protect persons not direct parties to labor disputes from interference with their persons, property and civil rights; to protect the buying, selling, transporting, receiving, delivering, manufacturing, harvesting, processing, handling, and marketing of agricultural and other products; to regulate and in certain cases forbid picketing and boycotting; to give to the courts jurisdiction for the enforcement of this act; to provide a penalty for the violation of this act, and to repeal all other acts in conflict with this act.

Be It Enacted By The People Of The State Of Oregon:

Section 1. Whenever in any statute or other law of this state the term "labor dispute" is used, such term is hereby defined for all purposes to mean and include only an actual bona fide controversy in which the disputants stand in proximate relation of employer and the majority of his or its employees and which directly concerns matters directly pertaining to wages, hours, or working conditions of the employees of the particular employer directly involved in such controversy. Disputes between organizations or groups of employees as to which shall act for the employees in dealing with the employer shall not be classed as labor disputes, and the refusal of an employer to deal with either party to any such jurisdictional controversy shall not operate to make the dispute a labor dispute within the meaning of this act.

Section 2. It shall be unlawful for any person, persons, association or organization to obstruct or prevent, or attempt to obstruct or prevent, the lawful buying, selling, transporting, receiving, delivering, manufacturing, harvesting, processing, handling or marketing of any agricultural or other products.

Section 3. It shall be unlawful for any persons, persons, association, or organization, to picket or patrol, or post pickets or patrols, in or near the premises or property owned, occupied, controlled or used by an employer or employers unless there is an actual bona fide existing labor dispute between said employer or employers and his or their employees. It shall also be unlawful to boycott directly or indirectly any employer, or the business of such employer, not directly involved as a party in a labor dispute.

Section 4. It shall be unlawful for any organization, association, or person, legally authorized to act as collective bargaining agent or representative of laboring people, to make any charge, or exaction for initiation fees, dues, fines or other exactions, which will create a fund in excess of the legitimate requirements of such organization, association, or person, in carrying out the lawful purpose or activities of such organization, association or person. Every such organization, association and person shall keep accurate books itemizing all receipts and expenditures and the purpose of such expenditures. Any members of any labor organization or association shall be entitled at all reasonable times to inspect the books, records and accounts of such association, or organization, or any agent or representative thereof, and to have an accounting of all money and property thereof.

Section 5. It shall be unlawful for any association, organization or person by any direct or indirect means to prevent, hinder or molest any person from seeking to engage or engaging his services to any person, firm, corporation or association desiring to employ him.

Section 6. Civil Remedy. The Circuit Courts of this state, and the Judges thereof, shall have full power, authority and jurisdiction to enforce this act, including full power to issue restraining orders and temporary and permanent injunctions, which may be necessary or appropriate to carry out and enforce each and every provision of this act.

Section 7. Criminal Remedy. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished accordingly.

Section 8. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

BRIDGE

Arthur Hillabold was absent from school last week, suffering with a severe cold, which threatened to develop into pneumonia.

The local Christian Endeavor society was represented at the Myrtle Union party in Coquille Friday night by Misses Nadine Ellis and Eleanor Menegat and Mr. and Mrs. John F. Dunckley.

Mrs. A. M. Ison was in the Mast hospital in Myrtle Point for several days last week, receiving treatment for a severe cold on her lungs.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Peggerton came in last week from Redmond to visit relatives and friends in this vicinity. Clyde Puett and Miss Lou Hooton were dinner guests Sunday at the Roy L. Beckett home.

The occasion was in honor of Joan's second birthday anniversary, which occurs on April 5. Other guests present were Mrs. W. A. Lett, of Myrtle Point, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wilson and children, Virginia, Burton and Earl, of Sitkum.

Mrs. Lucy Culver has been ill for about two weeks and seems to be growing weaker.

There was a good attendance at the Grange meeting Friday evening. An interesting feature of the Lecturer's hour was a talk by Chas. F. Gilroy, who had returned the week before from southern California, where he had spent three months or more. The program also included a skit and song or two. Refreshments of meat pie and coffee were served by John Koch, Henry Brownson and Vern Magill.

The people of the community are cordially invited to attend the Good Friday service at the church here on Friday afternoon, April 15.
