FARCE STARS COLBERT WITH GARY COOPER

"Bluebeard's Eighth Wife," the Paramount comedy opening Sunday at the Roxy Theatre, brings Claudette Colbert and Gary Cooper together in a new screen partnership to which both stars have been looking forward for a number of years. They both owe the arrangement to Producer-Director Ernst Lubitsch, who has directed their new comedy of life among Europe's smart set.

Cooper, who broke the long-standing Hollywood tradition that no player of Western parts could succeed in drawing-room roles, explains it this way: "Until Ernst Lubitsch proved to me that I could do comedy and get away with it in 'Design for Living' I just went along in the same rut. But for the confidence 'Design for Living' gave me, I wouldn't have had the courage to do 'Mr. Deeds.' To play opposite such a finished actress as Miss Colbert in a gay, rowdy, romantic piece like 'Bluebeard's Eighth Wife' would have been beyond me but for this."

Miss Colbert also is delighted in the new partnership. Although she worked under Lubitsch before in her recent comedy, "I Met Him in Paris," something always prevented her teaming with Cooper. "Every time I've been about to start a picture," she says, "Gary has been in the midst of another one. It's been like the traffic lights on some streets. If you start out with red, you're stuck with red at every intersection right down the boulevard. Perhaps Gary's cause to become a father accounted for the adjustment. Anyhow, I'm delighted, and after we finish 'Bluebeard' I hope we can play together again."

The new comedy concerns a much-married American multi-millionaire who marries and gets rid of seven wives only to be completely ousted by the eighth whom he marries for just another thrill. The cast of popular players includes Edward Everett Horton, David Niven, Elizabeth Patterson and Herman Bing.

Coquille High School

Dancing Class Popular

About twenty-five couples received instruction in dancing from Mrs. Whitford, local instructor, at the dancing class sponsored by the Girls' League. Each Tuesday a similar class will be held in what is known as the "Learn to Dance Movement."

National Assembly

Thursday a national assembly will be held with Bob Woods, cartoonist, present to entertain the student body.

Enrollment Under Way

The office is engaged at present in registering students for next term's entrance. Those from out of town intending to transfer, as well as local and non-high district eighth graders, are being enrolled.

Seniors to Visit Marshfield

On April 12th the Senior class will go to Marshfield to meet with other senior groups in the county. A representative of the state board of education will lecture and those intending to go to college will have an opportunity to meet with representatives from each of the three leading state institutions of learning.

Junior Prom

The juniors are busily planning their prom, which will take place in the high school gym on April 22. Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs has been selected as the theme. This idea will be carried out in the decorations and entertainment features. Babe's Melody Kings have been selected to furnish the music.

The Australian ballot system will be used in the election of the May Queen today. The polls will be located in room 10, where a committee from the Woman's Club and one from the high school will preside to see that the election is carried on in all fairness.

Lincoln School News

Monday, April 4, had been set for the beginning of training for the track participants but due to stormy weather the date has been postponed until such time as the conditions prove favorable. Coach Tom Preece expects about twenty-five boys to go out for places on the teams that will be selected to compete in the Coos county track meet which is planned for the early part of May.

Students and faculty of the Lincoln school greatly enjoyed films that were shown at the regular assembly on Monday, April 4. These subjects, "What Price Fire?" and "Our Wild Life Resources," were in keeping with the approach of the vacation season and the problems of conservation that arise during that time.

In addition to their regular work the members of the Hi-Lights staff are very busy this week getting the paper ready to be issued on Friday, April 8. One more issue of this student publication is planned for the current school year.

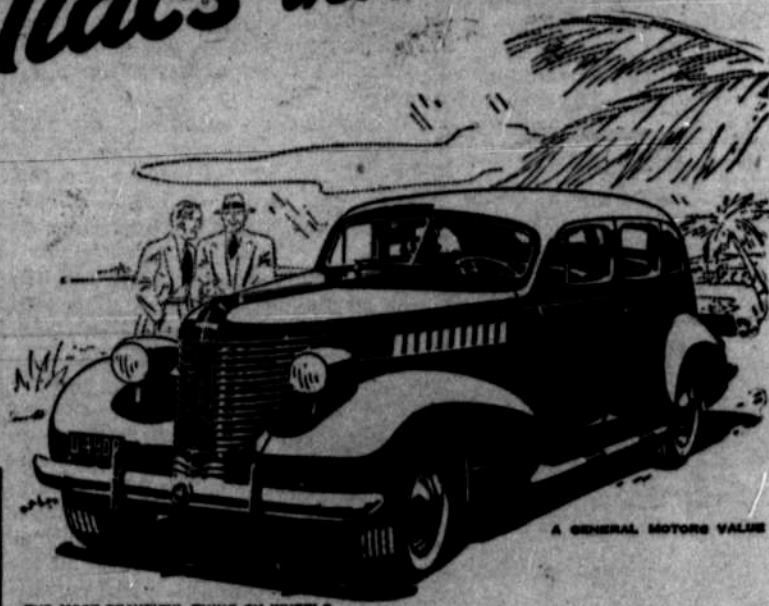

Two new pupils have recently entered the Lincoln School. Bill Baylor from Bandon is the new member of the 7x group and Marvin Lintner from San Jose, California, became a member of 8y.

In the Dressing Room

(By Don Bailey)

About ten boys turned out for the first call of track and a pep talk by the coach. He said that if there is any material that looks good, he will take them to the Southern Oregon meet, which is to be held in three or four weeks.

The Plywood softball team is working up for the softball league and three more are needed for an eight team league. Come on, Myrtle Point, where are your two teams? We also would like to have one from River-ton. They are good ball players down there and the competition will keep up the interest.

Coquille Townsend Club

The Coquille Townsend Club held its business meeting Tuesday evening in the W. O. W. Hall. It was the last meeting to be held in that hall, as the club is moving to the Community Building, where all meetings will be held in the future. The move was prompted by the large attendance at each meeting—half the time there being only standing room available.

This coming Tuesday, April 12, the first meeting will be held at the new quarters in the Community Building. A splendid program is being arranged. This will be followed by a dance. Pop corn and homemade candy will be served. Any person who attends the business session held just prior to the program, will be welcome at the program and dance which follows.

All Townsendites throughout the county and the general public are extended an invitation to attend the big event.

BREWSTER VALLEY

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Krewson were visitors in Myrtle Point and Coquille Sunday evening.

Miss Eleanor King, of Coquille, was a week-end guest at the J. D. Laird home.

Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Laird, Miss Eleanor King, Kenneth Laird and Ben Swanson were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. Abernathy at Dora.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wilson and children, Virginia, Burton and Earl, were guests of Mrs. Wilson's sister, Mrs. A. Reed, of Myrtle Point.

Belle Laird reports that Mrs. Binger Laird has arrived in St. Joseph, Missouri, where she is visiting her sister. Mrs. Laird spent several days visiting her parents and another sister in Omaha, Nebraska.

The rumor was that the Sitkum CCC camp was to be discontinued but this is not true, as new boys are expected to carry on at the camp. The new recruits are from New Jersey and Kentucky.

The pie social and dance held in the Brewster Community Hall Saturday night was a huge success. There was a good crowd and a grand time had by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Laird and children, Lila May and Merle, and Miss Lafferty, of Coquille, were guests at the W. Nickason home Sunday.

Week-end guests of Velma Krewson were Miss Ernestine Luthey and Ellen Rustnald, of Myrtle Point.

cook it because you want to eat it not to keep it from spoiling

How many times have you bought a piece of meat, or a chicken at a special value, when you had other food on hand, and then had to cook your bargain before you wanted to, to keep it from spoiling? That never happens when you have an electric refrigerator. And that's one of the ways in which an electric refrigerator saves you money. You can buy special values, and keep them in the constant cold of your electric refrigerator until you want to use them. The new models have special meat storage compartments, colder than the rest of the storage space, where meats may be kept indefinitely. Quantity buying and its resulting saving is made possible by this feature, too. Of course you want a gleaming new electric refrigerator. There's no reason for not having one.
