Georgia Sherwood Becomes Bride of Chas. Hanson

Miss Georgia Sherwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sherwood, became the bride of Mr. Charles James Hanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hanson of Grafton, N. D., at a pretty ceremony solemnized at the rectory of St. James Episcopal church Saturday at noon, the Rev. G. R. Turney officiating.

The bride looked lovely in a white lace dirndl dress over white satin and carried a colonial bouquet for the occasion and also carried her mother's wedding handkerchief. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Lucille Sherwood, who wore a pink shark-skin afternoon dress with navy blue accessories.

Mr. Leland Vojta acted as best man. The bride's parents and her sister, Jessie, the groom's sister, Mrs. O. E. Larson and her husband were the only guests at the ceremony.

Following the ceremony, a luncheon was served at the home of the bride's parents. Besides the wedding guests, the following were present: L. C. Sherwood, Mrs. B. B. Sanders, Mrs. Harold Huddle and Virginia, Misses Mary Lou Nosler, Beatrice and Lorraine Sanders, Messrs. Lawrence Gulseth, Vern Oderkirk, Bill Walker and Little Jay Larson.

The bride's going-away costume was a gray tailored suit with navy blue accessories. After a short wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Marshfield.

The bride has attended the Coquille schools since the third grade and graduated from Coquille High last year as an honor student.

Miss Pageler Honored

Last Thursday evening the choir of the Pioneer Methodist church entertained to honor Miss Anita Pageler, the director, and Miss Rose Naef, who has served as organist for the past winter, as well as those members who have served so gladly even though not members of Pioneer church.

At the close of the regular practice, Miss Pageler was called to the parlors, to find that refreshments had been provided under the direction of Mrs. James Richmond and Mrs. William Peart. Tables had been set, each place marked by a light green tray, decorated with a large spray of red hawthorne blossoms, and carrying dainty refreshments in the form of angel-food cake with strawberries and whipped cream, and coffee. The rooms were also decorated with the hawthorne blossoms.

At the close, Mrs. J. P. Beyers, acting as spokesman for the group, presented Miss Pageler with a beautiful large myrtlewood vase and Miss Naef with a pair of myrtlewood candlesticks, as tokens of appreciation for their work. She also thanked all who have given so much of their time and effort in making the music of the church reach the high level it has during the past winter, referring to those friends of the church who have given their musical talent so generously in singing with the group. Much favorable comment has come from the congregation and friends of the church alike for the splendid anthems and solos provided each Sunday morning, a really successful season high-lighted by the cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ" by DuBois, which was presented on Good Friday evening, at the church, and again on Easter Sunday afternoon by special request over station KOOS. Service so freely given with such outstanding results certainly deserves all the appreciation which has been proffered.

Coquille is going to miss Miss Pageler and the other teachers who have helped with this choir work, the coming summer, and it is with pleasure we announce that Miss Pageler has agreed to give her services as choir director to Pioneer church again next year.

Additional Social Notes

The N. O. M. A. club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Elynor Miller Tuesday evening. Prizes were won by Mrs. Bernice Ireland and Mrs. Lucille Ellison. The members spent the evening knitting and chatting. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess to the following ladies: Mesdames Ruth Dey, LaVera Ellingsen, Ruth Clayton, Frances Detlefsen, Alice Morris, Lucille Ellison, Bernice Ireland, Yvonne Carl, Milton Greenfield and the hostess.

Over one hundred people attended the Business and Professional Women's club cafeteria dinner held in the basement of the Pioneer Methodist church Tuesday evening. The waitresses looked very attractive with fancy head bands of green and orange. Gifts were given to Mary Jane Dunn, O. B. Hariman, J. P. Beyers, Miss Goldie Childs, Mrs. Miranda Way, Donna Dean Bosserman and Dorothy Belle Newton.

Mrs. O. E. Matoon, of Myrtle Point, mother of Mrs. Raymond Schroeder of Coquille, was pleasantly surprised Tuesday when a group of friends
