Beany Dean Headliner on Card Friday Night
 With a top card of grappling lined up for Coquille Friday night at the Coquille Community Building, Promoter Harry Elliott, who handles such affairs for this part of Oregon, expects a large crowd of fans to turn out.
 Headlining the cards will be the one-hour bout between Beany Dean and Pete Sherman, who is no relation to Ben Sherman.
 Dean will take Buresh's place, who had been signed up earlier in the week to oppose Sherman.
 Yesterday Stanley Buresh received a wire telling that his wife is seriously ill in a Detroit hospital with lockjaw. So the Australian grappler is winding up his affairs in Oregon in order to hurry back to her.
 The main event between Pete Sherman and Beany Dean should provide all the action and excitement that the fans can stand.
 Sherman is one of the fastest and most powerfully built grapplers to hit Oregon yet. He trimmed Jimmy Heffner in Portland last Monday and will be all set for Dean Friday night here.
 In the 45-minute special go George Wagner, of Houston, Texas, will meet Wild Bill Kenna, former Oregon State college athlete who has been coaching at Condon high school. Bill says that after working out during the winter with 35 young football huskies, he won't have any worries against one wrestler.
 Kenna's last match in Coquille was last fall when he set the welkin to ringing with his rowdy tactics.
 In the prelim of 30 minutes, Al Szasz, popular Hungarian, will meet Jimmy Heffner, last of Columbus, Ohio.
 The first match begins at 8:30 and ringside seats are on sale at Bill's Place in Coquille.
 The 69th annual commencement at Oregon State College will start Friday of this week and continue until 10 a. m. next Tuesday when the graduation exercises will be held in the men's gymnasium with Dr. Joseph Mason Artman, of Chicago, making the address.

Real Thoughtfulness
 A SOLACE
 Funeral Direction as we render it provides a comforting memory picture of the last scene of a loved one's presence. A departed one cannot be recalled. Nor can this last scene be re-enacted. For this reason it is urgently advisable to consider Funeral Direction in advance of its need.

Some Cook! And she played bridge all afternoon too!

 And yet when I bought my Electric Range HE thought it was just "another gadget"
 I sent my old kitchen stove to the junk dealer and bought a modern Electric Range. It is astonishing how many inconveniences one can put up with, but let any woman with an old-fashioned range cook one meal on a modern, automatic electric range, with its perfectly controlled heat . . . or even see it done . . . and she will never rest until the old "museum piece" is replaced by a modern, time and labor-saving, efficient, economical electric range.
 Cooking on a modern automatic electric range is quicker, surer. Experimenting and guess work are a thing of the past. And there is no smoke, no soot, no pot-watching. You are really free from kitchen slavery.
 No Charge for Wiring in Connection with Range Service.
