Coquille Eagles

Last Thursday evening the Fraternal Order of Eagles met in business session at their headquarters in the I.O.O.F. hall. It was one of the best and liveliest meetings held in many months and was largely attended.

It was voted to send delegates to the state convention, to be held at Klamath Falls the latter part of June. Both the old officers, who have served the past year, and the newly elected officers were elected to represent the local Aerie. The Coquille Aerie will also enter a team to compete with other state Aeries at the convention in ritualistic work and will strive earnestly to retain those laurels which they have won during the last two state conventions.

Thursday evening, June 2nd, will be social night and a feed and entertainment are promised. It will also be installation night for the newly elected officers, for both the Aerie and the Ladies Auxiliary and a joint installation will be held.

Keen interest is being shown by all members of the local Aerie and the attendance at the meetings is growing steadily. It is up to every Brother to attend and to make No. 2196 the best Aerie its size in the state.

FSA Funds for Farmers

Cos county farmers interested in co-operative purchasing of portable sprinkler irrigation outfits or purebred dairy sires are requested to contact the Farm Security office in the court house, Coquille, before June 15, announces Dale R. Winn, FSA supervisor. Present indications point to the need for some type of irrigation equipment that can be used on a number of farms.

Loans to FSA borrowers and other farmers unable to secure necessary equipment on an individual basis can be made by the Farm Security Administration to provide for joint use of and purchase of these facilities.

Irrigation co-operatives can be set up either on the master-borrower or joint-ownership plan. In the first plan the entire loan is made to one borrower and enough additional farmers sign participation agreements to insure economical use of equipment and repayment of the loan over a period of years. The second plan involves joint purchase of equipment by a group of farmers. Loans are usually made for the life of the equipment with interest at three per cent. Similarly, groups can be organized for the purchase of purebred dairy sires to build up their herds.

Before applying for a co-operative loan, farmers are asked to canvass their district to find out how many require use of sprinkling systems or dairy sires and determine whether there is enough need for the service to set it up on a sound basis and provide for scheduled repayment of the loan.

As FSA funds for the remainder of the fiscal year ending July 1 are limited and considerable time is required to work out a co-operative, all applications should be in before June 15, said Winn.

"A Family Affair" Next Tuesday

Tuesday evening, June 7, at Coquille Community Hall promises to be one of the most lively and entertaining evenings of the season. Coquille Townsend Club No. 1 presents a three-act comedy, "A Family Affair." This is to be followed by a dance. Specialties will be presented between acts of the play and it is promised by those in charge of the entertainment that from the first curtain until the strains of "Home Sweet Home" are played that there will not be one dull moment. There will be four hours of entertainment—two hours of the comedy and special acts and two hours of dancing—all for the price of 25 cents for adults and ten cents for children over the age of seven.

The cast for the play is as follows: Dan Gillespie, a good fellow whose imagination runs away with him - Pete Pearl
Jorkins Jobson, his gardener; a high authority on potato bugs - Lane Leneve
Deacon Smith, who finds it difficult to be good under adverse circumstances - Ernest Embree
Sally, Dan's good-hearted little cook, who, unlike most women, can really keep a secret - Mrs. Genevieve Preston
Mrs. Jobson, the matronly market and means business - Dora Culbertson
Louisiana, a dark brunette, on the warpath - Gertie Leneve
Wives and babies appear before the audience with such startling suddenness and in such astounding numbers that the spectators are left gasping for breath. And you will get a kick out of Miss Camson in her relentless pursuit of a husband; the Deacon's bewilderment at the sudden happenings of events; Sally's brave struggle to guard her secret; Dan's helpless mixup with wives and babies; Louisiana on the warpath and Jobson's jealousy, which causes him to "bile up and stop over."

Mrs. Louisa Miller

Mrs. Louisa Miller, wife of Per L. Miller, whose home is across the highway from the high school, passed away last Friday evening, following an operation for tumor removal.

Funeral services were conducted at the Gano Funeral Home Monday at three p. m., by Rev. H. A. Minter. Interment was in I. O. O. F. cemetery No. 2.

Mrs. Miller was born in Delta, Colo., May 19, 1899, and was eight days past 39 years of age. The family came here recently from Dillard, where they had resided for 12 years. In the short time they had been in Coquille she had endeared herself to all who met her, and the wealth of flowers from friends in Douglas county testified to the esteem in which she was held by those who knew her well.

She is survived by her husband and a daughter, Virginia, 14, her mother, Mrs. Bonnell, who resides with her son, Wm. J. Bonnell, on Spurgeon Hill, another brother, Burton G. Bonnell, of Delta, Colo., and the following sisters: Anna E. Claypool, Anaheim, Calif.; Selma C. Barnett, Rifle, Colo.; Margaret L. Brockway, Montrose, Colo., and Bertha B. Barnett, Silt, Colo.

Clean-Up Campaign Still On

The clean-up campaign in Coquille did not close with Clean-up week. The cans and rubbish may have been gathered up and hauled away but that is a small part of what the civic improvement committee hopes to accomplish.

The best lawn contest is to be decided the first of June, but the clean-up and paint contest is for the summer. J. L. Smith reminded again Tuesday that the committee would like to have the names of all those contemplating an improvement of their property, either business or residential.

Myrtle Point Secures Cattle & Horse Raisers Convention

The Oregon Cattle and Horse Raisers' association, in annual session at Baker last week, accepted the Myrtle Point invitation to hold the 1933 convention in that city. Coquille endorsed the Myrtle Point invitation and will assist the sister city in any way possible in entertaining the hundreds of visitors.

Baker this year raised and spent $3,000 for convention expenses and entertainment and the Coos county cities have a real job ahead of them if they do anything like as well.

Delegates from Coos county this year were Albert Powers and Ellis Dement.

"Thanks For The Memory"

The class of 1928 sincerely appreciates the honor accorded them by the class of 1938, in being chosen as the subject for the splendid and highly interesting speeches, which were so well delivered at the commencement exercises.

The contents of these speeches called forth many happy memories of our high school days, which we now realize were among the happiest of one's life. May the class of '38 be received by a kind and appreciative world; may you each know the happiness that comes from finding friendships and attaining successes.

The following little sonnet is dedicated to your class:

SONNET TO THE CLASS OF '38
Walk through life's vineyard on commencement eve
And pluck, as plucking grapes to make new wine,
Each treasured, worthwhile interlude,
but leave
All bitter thoughts to wither on the vine.
Now press them in the cask of memory
And add the vintage of each passing year
Whose every hour, in retrospect, will be
A purple cluster from a vine grown
In youth's vigor spent, old age sits by
The fire
Of sipping glasses of rich droughts that bring
Cheer to a drab and dismal day; in truth,
Declining years will seem as gay as youth
Warmed by the sweet wine of remembering.
—Jo Terres Brockmann, and the class of '28.

Mrs. Bryant In Line For State Presidency

Four delegates from the local Business and Professional Women's Club intend leaving next week for McMinnville where the annual state convention of the club is to be held June 10, 11 and 12. They go with high hopes that one of their number, Mrs. Leona Bryant, will be selected as state

MISS AMY LEWELLEN
Speaker at State Convention of B. P. W. Clubs

President. She has served two years as second vice president and two as first vice president and there is not any indication that another candidate is being considered for the presidency for the next two years.

Besides Mrs. Bryant those going to McMinnville are Mesdames Harriett Osika, Viola Newton and Georgia Richmond, and others may yet decide to go.

Representative of the National Federation of B. P. W. clubs who will attend the Oregon convention is Miss Amy Lewellen, of Pullman, Wash., who is Public Affairs chairman of the National B. P. W. She is also national third vice president.

High spots of the year's work of the National Federation will be presented by Miss Lewellen, amongst which will be the national program entitled "Our Town's Business," which has been the theme for many good programs of local clubs throughout the 48 states; also "Why Women Work," upon which a national survey has been published which shows that women work because of necessity and not for pin money.

Rebekahs Report on Convention

The delegates to the Rebekah Assembly at Pendleton reported on their trip at the regular session of Mamie Rebekah Lodge last week. They said that they had all kinds of weather: rain, snow and heat. The delegates enjoyed a real barbecue on the fair grounds, which was a treat to most of them. The next convention will be held in Klamath Falls.

"Always a Woman" Is Added To Cockeyed Comedy Cycle

ZANY PICTURE CO-STARS NEW SCREAM TEAM

"There's Always a Woman," Columbia's current contribution to the cockeyed comedy cycle comprising "The Awful Truth," "Theodora Goes Wild" and "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," will be on view at the Roxy Theatre for a three-day engagement starting Sunday.

Co-starred in this gay new romantic comedy is the scream-team of Melvyn Douglas and Joan Blondell, appearing together for the first time. Douglas won his comedy spurs in "Theodora Goes Wild" and repeated in "I Met Him in Paris" and "I'll Take Romance." Miss Blondell has been garnering laughs from the screen for many years with most recent appearances in "The Perfect Specimen" and "Stand-in."

A thin thread of mystery weaves through the story of "There's Always a Woman," which was directed by Alexander Hall from Gladys Lehman's screen adaptation of Wilson Collison's popular magazine story.

The plot, briefly, concerns the mad antics of a bewildering young blonde wife who starts out to prove to her detective-husband that she, too, can be a Sherlockian sleuth. This wild-eyed situation arises when Douglas bequeaths his defunct private detective agency to his spirited wife and returns to his former post with the District Attorney.

Soon afterwards a murder occurs in which friend husband finds his investigations considerably hampered by the counter-moves made by his wife, representing the accused. Affairs for the harassed Douglas reach such a state that he must obtain a warrant to search his own home for an incriminating letter obtained by Joan and wanted by the police.

Mary Astor and Frances Drake are prominently featured in the supporting cast, which includes Robert Paige, Jerome Cowan and Thurston Hall.
