Coquille Eagles

The business meeting of the local Fraternal Order of Eagles, last Thursday evening was a whizzer. It was the longest and the most lively business session held since our charter was formed.

E. L. Vinton's resignation as worthy president was accepted and Carl Mack and Ray Gilkey were nominated for the chair.

Ernie Johnson and Chuck Lewis were nominated for vice-president, as that chair was declared vacant, owing to the fact that Mr. Johnson, who was vice president, declined to accept the worthy president's chair.

The local Aerie, as well as the Ladies' Auxiliary, are to take an active part in the big celebration to be held here in August and which is being promoted by Mr. McDuffee—a man who "knows his onions" and is planning a real celebration.

The delegates who attended the big state convention held at Klamath Falls reported. They were Clyde Barrow, Roy Wheeler, John Wirth and Lans Leneve. A. Johnson, who also attended, was not present at the meeting Thursday. The delegation reported that much favorable progress was made and that many new issues and moves were launched to increase interest and promote the welfare of Eaglesdom in this state.

While Coos Bay Aerie brought home a large percentage of the prize money and cups offered for drill competition, members of the Coquille Aerie are exceedingly proud of the fact that their report of progress which was presented on the floor of the convention, was declared the best submitted by any Aerie in the entire state. The delegation received the personal congratulations of Secretary of State Earl Snell, who attended the convention.

The election of worthy president and vice-president will be held this evening. Although being modest and of a retiring nature (did I hear some Eagle snicker?) I am forced to admit that I was high man in the last membership drive. Let that be a lesson to these boat builders!—Press Correspondent.

Canadian Travel Bureau
Issues Attractive Booklet

The resident of the United States who is planning a vacation "across the line" should write to the Canadian Travel Bureau, Department of Transport, Ottawa, Canada, and he will receive, by return mail, a booklet which is a masterpiece of travel literature, ranking with the best produced in any country.

This publication which goes by the intriguing title of "Canada Your Friendly Neighbor Invites You" presents some 80 pages of extremely able photographs, colored plates by well-known Canadian artists and smoothly written, inviting copy. So many spots beckon—so many wilderness roads challenge the imagination—so many national playgrounds send forth their invitation—that it is hard to choose between them.

The booklet will be forwarded, free of charge, to anyone asking for it.

Over 100 At Rackleff Golden Wedding Ceremony

At two o'clock the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march rang out, played by Mrs. Oluf Aasen of Arago, and the ushers, grandsons of the couple, Ellis Rackleff, of Arago, and Edward Rackleff, of Canby, led the procession to the altar. Two granddaughters, Mary Maxine and Lela Marie Rackleff, bridesmaids; then the eldest son, Lawrence Rackleff, and the only daughter, Mrs. T. W. Laird, came as the attendants; followed by the "bride and groom" of fifty years.

A background of gold flowers, scotch broom, yellow calla lilies, snapdragons and other massed yellow garden flowers formed in the shape of an arch framed a picture so beautiful to all who saw it that it will long be a cherished memory.

While they stood facing their friends, Mrs. S. C. McAllister sang "Smiling Through" and "The Sunshine of Your Smile"—songs that must have been written with such happy faces in mind. Rev. W. S. Smith, of Coquille, stepped forward and read a most impressive ceremony, written especially for the tender "Golden Wedding" commemoration. Following this the friends congratulated them even to the extent of a shower of rice.

Then all retired to the church parlors where more than a hundred sat at long tables beautifully decorated with bouquets of flowers and yellow candy favors and were served refreshments prepared by four sisters-in-law, Mrs. Ralph Rackleff, Mrs. Lyman Rackleff and Mrs. Charles Rackleff, of Myrtle Point, and Mrs. George Rackleff, of Marshfield. Mrs. Angus Rackleff, Mrs. Howard Rackleff, Mrs. Leta Baker, Maxine Rackleff, Lela Rackleff, Rosemary Shaw and Ann Hawkins assisted with the serving. While all were seated Marianne Rackleff passed a golden book for the signatures of those present.

David Rackleff, of Coquille, acted as the host and introduced each guest, many being relatives from a distance and others old, old friends and all were anxious to add their words of commendation and congratulations. The bride cut the three-tiered elaborately decorated cake and a slice was passed to each guest. The pleasant visiting continued for two hours and closed with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" by all those present.

Mrs. David Rackleff, of Coquille, and Mrs. Lawrence Rackleff, of Arago, issued the invitations but they were assisted by Mrs. Donald Rackleff, of San Francisco, and Mrs. T. W. Laird, of Merrill. Mrs. J. H. McCloskey, of Norway, superintended the floral decorations. Many of the beautiful flowers were sent by Mrs. Robert Munford, of Arago. Mrs. Will Lundy, of Myrtle Point, was the fortunate lady who caught the bride's bouquet.

Among the guests were eight couples who had lived together fifty years or more: the bride and groom; Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hoyt, of Bandon, who have passed their sixty-fourth year together; Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Morrison, of Bandon; Mr. and Mrs. William Brady, of Coquille, who have passed their sixtieth year together; Captain and Mrs. Levi Snyder; Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Hansen, and Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Watkins.

Among those present from a distance were two aunts of the groom, Mrs. Nannie Giles, of San Francisco, and Mrs. Marietta Haines, of Elkton; an aunt of the bride, Mrs. Mary Edwards, of Allegany. Other relatives present: four brothers of the groom, George, of Marshfield, Lyman, Charles and Ralph, of Myrtle Point, and their sister, Mrs. Jack Peppard, of southern Washington, who will remain for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Roy Abbott, of Coquille; two brothers of the bride, Ed and L. J. Roberts, of Myrtle Point. Mrs. Olive Shaw, of Portland, cousin of the groom, brought Mr. and Mrs. Rackleff from Canby for the occasion.

The complete list of guests follows: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Roberts and Betty, Mrs. Corda Lewellen, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schroeder, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Rackleff, L. J. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. George Rackleff, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rackleff, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rackleff, C. H. Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rackleff, Olive M. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Rackleff and Marianne, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Rackleff and Mary Maxine and Ellis, Mrs. T. W. Laird and Donald, Ellen Rackleff, Mrs. Roy Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Peppard, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hoyt, George Moulton, John Leneve, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Morrison, Estella Steward, Mr. and Mrs. Harold McCue, Mrs. Angus Rackleff, Mrs. Howard Rackleff, Rosemary Shaw, Edward and Lela Rackleff, Phyllis and Billie Lehmanowsky, Rev. W. S. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Snyder, Mrs. Edwin Barker, Mrs. Paul Brewer, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Sumerlin, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCloskey, Emma Hermann, Mrs. Tom Dickson, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Volkmar, Mrs. Belle Bennett, Mrs. H. L. Bossen, Mrs. Nannie Giles, Iris Haines, Mrs. Marietta Haines, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Myers, Mrs. Stanley Halter, Mrs. Naomi Robison, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Weekley, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Boak, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Watkins, Mrs. Mary Galloway, A. J. Radabaugh, Mrs. Ed Carter, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Aasen, Mr. and Mrs. John Carl, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lewellen, Mrs. L. L. Sumerlin, Kathryn Sumerlin, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lundy, Mr. and Mrs. N. G. W. Perkins, Mrs. H. H. Harris, Rev. and Mrs. Hugh Mitchelmore, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Brady, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hoffman, Rachel Hoffman Grieg, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Hawkins and Ann, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Heard, Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Hansen, and Mrs. Emily Miller.

Mrs. T. W. Laird chose her mother's wedding day for her own, so she honored her own twenty-second anniversary. Business prevented her husband from making the trip to celebrate it with her.

Homemakers' Camp Program Outlined

rector. Camp assistants and instructors will be recruited from both counties, and Coos county will have many well known and capable women leading various groups.

Lake Clatsop will be the scene of much activity during the first week in August, for women attending camp leave their cares and families behind to shift for themselves.

Activities such as swimming, crafts, nature walks, bird lore, singing, acting, hiking and the like are open to the campers and interest is the only prerequisite to active participation in any or all of them. As there are no regulations, rules or requirements at the camp, women attending will have a real vacation in doing just what they wish to do. The cooking and other routine work will be done by people engaged for that purpose. Cost of the camp will be $4.50 for the entire period from Tuesday noon, August 2, to Sunday, the 7th. Produce may be brought for $1.50 of the total, or the whole fee may be paid in cash if the homemaker desires.

Homemakers' vacation camp was held at Croft's Lake last year during the last week in July. About 30 regular campers took advantage of the chance to have a vacation rest and to take part in the many recreational and hobby activities. Although the camp will be held in Lane county this year so that the women may have a change of scenery at this beautiful camp, plans for next year will probably locate the camp in Coos county again.

Any woman in the county may register for this camp. Those who attended last year, as well as those who have never attended, are invited to register. For more information concerning the vacation camp, consult Miss Julia Bennett at the county agent's office in Coquille.

Matters in Probate Court
Dr. V. L. Hamilton was last Wednesday appointed administrator of the estate left by Claudio Martins, who died at his ranch home up the river on July 2. Appraisers of the estate which is estimated to consist of $8,000 in real property and $2500 in personal, are Geo. Davis, M. Daniels and R. C. Vaughan.

Calling cards, 50 for $1.00.
