Wrestling, Fight Cards Next Week

Kid Burns should put up a wof of a battle. Drew is a scientific boy who has great prospects in the boxing world if he just doesn't try to rush along too fast. Burns is less well known to southern Oregon fans, but he is going to surprise a lot of the ring worms when he steps in there and shows his stuff against Drews. There won't be more than two pounds difference between the two boys. Burns will weigh about 157 and Drews might tip the beam at 159.

The tip on Young Paxton is that he might take Hugh Hamilton, of Myrtle Point in short order. Paxton, a Powers boy, has a hefty punch and will begin throwing it as soon as the bell rings.

All the four rounders are expected to be hot shots of the first order. Roy Cedarstrom, of Marshfield, will referee all the boxing bouts.

The hottest wrestling card that Coquille has had in many a moon will be staged the next night, Aug. 11, under the stars in the new stadium.

Heading the card will be that stellar Oriental mat star, Walter, "Tin Kit" Achiu, native Chinese and former all-star footballer at Dayton university, who has just returned to the United States after a successful campaign in Mexico. He will meet Wild Bill Kenna, former Oregon State college football star in a one-hour match best two falls out of three.

In the 45-minute special event, Sailor Moran, New Orleans, who has been taking a wide lead on his competitors here in the northwest, will meet young Elton Owen, who graduated from the University of Oregon three years ago.

For the 30-minute go, George Spies will meet Rudy Avalon. Both of these boys are from Marshfield.

Achiu, the leading Chinese wrestler in the world and one of the greatest exponents of the jiu jitsu art anywhere, returns from Mexico in the best shape and with one of the best coats of tan that any athlete can boast of. He is naturally dark, anyway, and after several months on the burning plateaus of Mexico he is now so dusky that he could pass for an Ethiopian.

The Chinese grappler has made a host of friends in southwestern Oregon and they will be there to see how he stacks up against Wild Bill Kenna.

Kenna has hit his stride this last ten days and Tuesday night in Salem he decisively defeated George Becker in the main event. Kenna is fixing to follow wrestling rather than coaching and is out for a reputation before trying a campaign throughout the east.

Another guy, who is looking toward a wrestling tour, is Elton Owen, 38 year old husky who will test grips with Sailor Moran. Elton believes that the Sailor is too old to do anything with him and he will be out there to win.

In the prelim, two Marshfield boys who have known each other for years will go out there to see who is the best man. They are George Spies, patrolman on the Marshfield police force and Rudy Avalon, well known for his 20-30 club work. Whoever comes out on top, the boys will shake hands when it is all over with and then forget about it.

The first bout Friday night at the Golden West Days outdoor arena adjoining the Community building will begin at 8:30 p. m.

Miller To Be Taken Back

Sheriff Howell received a wire Tuesday from E. Ray, superintendent of the state farm in Illinois, the Vandalia penitentiary, that he was coming to Coquille to get Clarence Miller, or Clarence Rife, who escaped from there Aug. 1, 1934, after serving one month of a year's sentence for burglary and larceny.

Miller was given a 30-day sentence at Marshfield on a drunk and disorderly charge, July 11, and when his fingerprints were sent to the bureau at Washington, D. C., word came back at once that he was wanted at Vandalia. He had previously served a seven-year stretch in the pen.

Wonderful thing, the finger print. It has caught many a crook.

Bay Man on Serious Charge

Robert Newkirk, arrested for being drunk on the highway, was fined $10 by Justice Barton last Thursday, and was taken to the county jail.

P. J. Cochran was brought over from North Bend Tuesday and is held in lieu of $5,000 bail, set by Justice Maybee, on the charge on contributing to the delinquency of a minor. His crime involved a young girl over there.

Rockefeller made famous.

She expresses great appreciation of our summer climate and intends returning next summer, taking in the San Francisco Exposition.

Services At Coquille

Tabernacle Coming Week

The Gospel Tabernacle, (Assembly of God), at Second and Heath streets, is preparing to continue the policy carried out through the past year of bringing the finest religious speakers and evangelists of the day to Coquille. Advertising appearing this week reminds this city that speakers of the past year have included Howard Carter, general superintendent of Assemblies of God in Great Britain; Paul S. Rahneff, editor of the Morning Star in Sofia, Bulgaria, and Harvey McAlister, of Toronto, Canada.

Beginning Tuesday night, Aug. 9, Rev. Arnold C. Weston, of Tenkodogo, West French Africa, (The Ivory Coast), will be speaking every night for a week. Rev. Mr. Weston has been returned to this country for the purpose of training outgoing missionaries in the new principles which he introduced on the foreign field and which resulted in the greatest modern revival on the mission field. Previous to going abroad, Mr. Weston taught for four years in the Southern California Bible school and is now established there for the second time. He has suffered great persecution in Africa and has many interesting stories to tell. He says that great political unrest is evident even in the remote sections of Africa and that the French government looks upon all missionaries as military spies which causes considerable embarrassment as well as actual danger in their work.

Evangelist N. W. Jennings, of Old Virginia, will follow immediately upon the conclusion of Rev. Weston's meeting here. He and Harvey McAlister were the leading speakers at the Oregon statewide camp meeting just concluded at Turner, Oregon, during which over 1200 people were camped on the grounds.

Bids For More Wide Streets

for permission to install a thousand gallon tank, buried four feet deep, at the service station now being constructed on Front street. The present ordinance limits the capacity of gasoline tanks to 600 gallons, but the councilmen instructed the city attorney to prepare an amendment which will permit the installation of 1000 gallon tanks, and the Gilmore company was given the permission they requested. The storage on the property here will be only for the service station and not a substitution supply.

By a vote of 4 to 2 the council approved the application of Beatrice Berkowitz for a package B liquor license for her place in the former McLeod building, across the highway from Fitzgerald's service station. The approval was on condition that dances there should not continue after midnight.

Permission was given Peart & Ireland to install the pumps at their new service station on the highway south of the high school, on condition that they would be moved so as not to interfere with sidewalk traffic if later the city should decide to widen Taylor street in co-operation with the state highway department.

Mike Broad offered to pay the city what it had invested in the property on Coulter street, which was sold a short time ago to W. A. Stephens, at the rate of $30 a month. The city has over $1300 invested there in street improvements and taxes. He was advised to wait a few days before making a contract as the Sunshine Dairy milk house is to be sold to satisfy the liens against it.

Carl Mack, chairman of the park commission, informed the council that Bert Folsom would donate land for a street along the east side of the ball park if the city would gravel it. Mr. Mack advocated it to provide more parking space around the park, but the councilmen were doubtful that the benefit to the city would justify the expense and referred the matter to the street committee for investigation and report.

Councilman Wood reported for the committee to which had been referred the charges against local police officers that the committee could find no justification for the charges and stated that the business men of Coquille were entirely satisfied with the way police matters are being handled. This led to a motion by Councilman Seelye that an executive session of the council be held, after the regular meeting, to hear what further complaints Kermit Shaw desired to make. Of the three councilmen interviewed since that meeting it is learned that Shaw's charges did not amount to anything, and the matter is a closed issue as far as the council is concerned.
