Society and Clubs

Mrs. J. E. Axtell was hostess to two lovely parties last week, one Thursday and one Friday. The rooms and tables were tastefully decorated with vases of fall flowers. The guests met for one-fifteen o'clock dessert luncheon and later spent the afternoon playing contract bridge. Thursday afternoon Mrs. R. E. Boober won high at contract and Mrs. H. L. Clasterbos, second. Friday Mrs. M. M. Newdall won first prize and Mrs. C. T. Selbig, second. Guests invited for the parties were: Mesdames H. L. Clasterbos, C. M. Gray, D. E. Rackliff, A. A. Hall, R. L. Stewart, F. A. Bab, B. W. Dunn, R. E. Boober, Bert Folsom, Harry Slack, C. W. Kline, F. S. Stevens, C. T. Selbig, M. M. Newdall, E. D. McCune, E. A. Walker, O. T. Gant, D. G. Ireland, C. P. Zuanwalt, Julius Ruble, Jos. Knight, Walter Litzenger, D. B. Estes and Frank Martin.

The "Myrtle Club" met at the home of Mrs. Angie Yoskam Thursday afternoon. After a short business meeting, the members sewed, chatted, etc. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. Those present were: Mesdames Ruth Varney, Pearl Ruble, Sue Smith, Alice Standley, Alva Eckholm, Lorene Chard, Helen Anderson and the hostess.

Mrs. Roy Barton was hostess to the "Checkmating Club" Thursday for one o'clock dessert luncheon. The ladies spent a most enjoyable afternoon sewing, knitting and chatting. Those present were: Mrs. Lloyd Oddy and Mesdames Guy Churchill, D. D. Dale, B. H. Savage, W. W. Langworthy and Mirvyn Lyons, all of Marshfield.

The "Friday Duplicate Club" met at the home of Mrs. Frank Thrift for one o'clock dessert luncheon Friday. Duplicate was played with Mrs. Hal Pierce and Mrs. Mary McKeown being high for the afternoon. This was the end of the series. Mrs. J. L. Aasen won high and Mrs. Hal Pierce, second. Those present were: Mesdames J. L. Aasen, Mary McKeown, R. E. Boober, Hal Pierce, A. B. Collier, U. E. McClary, Geo. Johnson and the hostess.

Mrs. Belmont Ireland was hostess to her bridge club for one-thirty o'clock luncheon Friday. Contract was played with Mrs. S. A. Morris winning high score and Mrs. Carl Ellison, second. Those present were: Mesdames Gary Ellison, Earl Ticknor, S. A. Morris, Carl Dement, Ray Detlefsen, Melvin Greenfield, Fred Jensen and the hostess.

Mrs. C. P. Zuanwalt entertained her bridge club Thursday for one o'clock luncheon. The house looked lovely with bouquets of fall flowers. After a most delicious luncheon, contract bridge was played. Mrs. Ralph Kring, of Myrtle Point, won high score and Mrs. Richard Arnold, also of Myrtle Point, won second. Mrs. C. T. Selbig received consolation. Those present were: Mesdames Geo. Johnson, C. T. Selbig, Walter Litzenger, M. M. Newdall, of Coquille, and Mesdames John Arnold, Richard Arnold and Ralph Kring, of Myrtle Point.

The "Omit Club" was entertained Thursday evening at the home of Miss Luene St. Clair. Bridge was played with Mrs. Monroe Swindall winning high score and Mrs. Lloyd Wood receiving consolation. Those present were: Misses Margaret Belloni, Georgianna Johnson, Aloha Allen, Betty Axtell, Helen Lund, Mrs. Monroe Swindall, Mrs. Lloyd Wood and the hostess.

Mrs. J. E. Axtell was hostess to a lovely one o'clock dessert luncheon a week ago in honor of Mrs. James Mills, who left Coquille to make her home in Eugene. The general color scheme was pink, flowers and place cards carrying out the motif. Bridge was played during the afternoon, Mrs. Ted Hornecker won high score prize and Mrs. Elbert Schroeder, second. Mrs. Mills received a lovely guest prize. Those present were: Mesdames Wm. Barrow, Elbert Schroeder, Ted Hornecker, D. G. McEnry, T. T. Denison, Paul Trojel, Geo. McClellan, Lewis Wiltshire, R. F. Milne, R. T. Slater, Geo. Jenkins and the guest of honor, Mrs. Mills.

Nancy Lee Grant celebrated her eighth birthday Friday with a theatre party at the Roxy. The little guests met at Nancy Lee's home at six o'clock, where they were served ice cream and cake and then taken to see "Jane Withers." Those enjoying the occasion were: Donna Mae Howe, Alene Hunt, Velma Coy, Dorothy Jean Hughes, Sally Bonney, Mona Dodge, Betty Lou Dalton, Joanne Savage, Ann Harbison, Lenora Wornstaff and the hostess.

The N. O. M. A. club met at the home of Mrs. Laverne Ellington Tuesday evening. Plans were talked over in regard to a Hallowe'en party later. Knitting, sewing and chatting occupied the evening, followed by delicious refreshments served by the hostess. Mrs. S. A. Morris received the door prize. Those present were: Mesdames Ruth Dey, Frances Detlefsen, Alice Morris, Ruth Clayton, Ferry DeJarnett, Yvonne Carl, Lucille Ellison, Bernice Ireland, Lorraine Perrott, Maxine Stevens and the hostess.

Miss Joanne Perrott, niece of Mrs. F. C. McNelly, was tendered a lovely one-fifteen o'clock dessert luncheon and miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. McNelly, Monday, with Mrs. T. B. Currie and Mrs. H. S. Norton as joint hostesses. The color scheme was orchid and silver, the flowers and place cards carrying out the motif. At the table where the guest of honor sat, a beautiful silver basket filled with fuchsias and mixed flowers, flanked by orchid tapers, formed the centerpiece. The silver basket was a gift of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Perrott, on their 25th wedding anniversary.

Following the dessert luncheon, the large array of gifts was opened by the bride-to-be. She was also the recipient of jams and jellies from her many friends. Mrs. J. E. Perrott of Marshfield, and Mrs. J. E. Perrott of Myrtle Point, her mother, were recipients of a gift from the hostesses. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in knitting, sewing and chatting.

Invited guests were: Mesdames Jennie Price, Callie Leach, Ula Leach, Jack Leach, Craig Perrott, Harold Stevens, Faye Perrott, Mary McKeown, E. M. Kay, Bert Folsom, Jas. Watson, Lufe Compton, E. E. Brady, of Allegany; Mrs. Virginia Hillstrom, of Marshfield; Mrs. Emma McNelly, of Hillsboro; Mrs. Kelly Carver, of Myrtle Point; Misses Jean McNelly and

Eileen Morris, Mrs. J. E. Perrott, of Bandon; Mrs. Glenn Neideigh, of Myrtle Point; the honored guest, Miss Joanne Perrott, and the hostesses. Joanne plans to be married in October to Mr. David Chase, of Portland, who expects to work for the Southern Pacific out of Portland and Eugene.

Mrs. J. E. Axtell entertained her bridge club Tuesday evening. Contract was played with Mrs. Ray Vaughan winning high score and Mrs. O. T. Gant, second. Delicious refreshments were served at a late hour. Those present were: Mesdames Julius Ruble, Walter Litzenger, O. T. Gant, E. A. Walker, D. B. Estes, Paul Trojel, Ray Vaughan, C. M. Gray and the hostess.

Job's Daughter, Bethel 15, held an election Monday evening for a new marshal, as Miss Margaret Stewart resigned from her office to attend college. Jeanne Clasterbos was elected marshal; Jean Laird was elected guide, and Donna Dean Bosserman, junior princess. Installation of the officers followed with the following girls acting as installing officers: Beverly Norton was the chief installing officer; Joy Norton, installing secretary; Muriel Davis, installing musician; Peggy Wernich, installing chaplain; Margaret Smith, installing guide, and Videlle Kelley, installing marshal. Wednesday, Oct. 5, the Grand Guardian, Mrs. Anna Belle Ackerman, will make an official visit for the purpose of inspection. The Marshfield Bethel will meet with the Coquille Bethel for a six-thirty o'clock potluck dinner. The ritualistic work will be exemplified in the evening.

Last Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. M. Schroeder gave a birthday party with refreshments for their daughter, Catherine. Guests arrived at two o'clock and played games until four when refreshments were served. Girls and boys attending were: Jane Koenen, Flo Young, Leonard Sutton, Rodney Waterman, Warren Hathaway, Catherine Schroeder.

"Sky Giant" Teams Three Stars in a Whirlind Chronicle of Daredevil Fliers

Richard Dix, Chester Morris, Joan Fontaine Co-Starred In Tempestuous Romance and Adventure Among The Dangerous Heroes Of Modern Aviation
—At Roxy Tonight, Friday, Saturday

Dealing with the lives and loves of today's airmen, RKO Radio's "Sky Giant," stars Richard Dix, Chester Morris and Joan Fontaine in a gripping story of test flying and the dangerous work of skyway exploration.

Much of the film's action is laid in the colorful setting of an up-to-date aviation school, where the pilots of tomorrow receive their intricate training, while a hazardous mapping flight for a new air route across the Arctic wastes provides many of the picture's dramatic thrills.

Dix has one of the top roles as a happy-go-lucky transport pilot who, against his will, is grounded and compelled to aid Harry Carey, a retired army officer, operate a big flying school. Carey's son, played by Morris, secretly enrolls at the school and at once is in conflict with the older man's stern ideas of discipline.

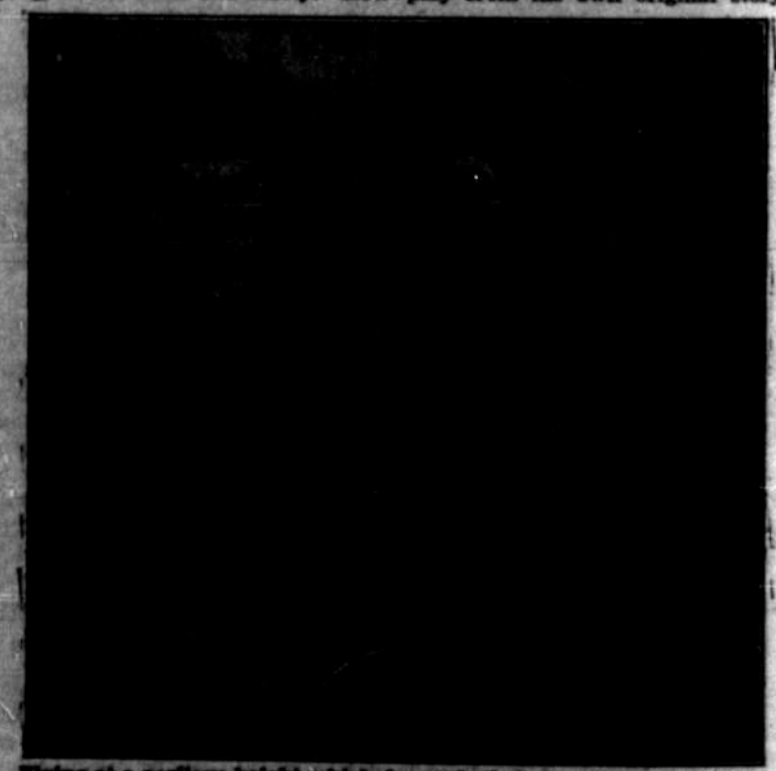

Joan Fontaine creates much of the trouble when both Dix and Morris fall in love with her. The rivalry between them carries on into the air when the two men, along with Miss Fontaine's pilot-cousin, are assigned to fly a big transport across the Arctic to Russia in surveying a proposed new air route.

The crippling of the big plane in a lonely area of Alaska leads into the dramatic climax, when two of the survivors try to bring the third one, dying, to the coast and safety. How this valiant effort succeeds and its results on the romantic complications of the story, make for a powerful ending.

Many of the scenes in the picture were actually filmed at one of the largest aviation schools in California, and disclose in vivid fashion the rigorous training that fledgling fliers undergo before they are allowed to take modern transport planes off the ground. The dramatic occurrences of the perilous Arctic flight forcefully reveal the perils that aviation's trail-breakers face.

The cast includes such notable players as Harry Carey and Paul Guilfoyle. Lew Landers directed the production by Robert Sisk, with Lionel Houser writing the screen play from his own original story.

Flying at a perilous height which demands their breathing oxygen are Chester Morris (left) and Richard Dix in this scene from RKO Radio's "Sky Giant." The two stars appear as daring pilots who attempt to chart a new route to Europe. Joan Fontaine is the third star of the picture and the heart interest of both men.
