1939 Chev. Due Here This Week

"We saw something!" declared Cliff Gulseth, manager of Southwestern Motors, Chevrolet dealer in Coquille, when he and members of his sales and service departments returned from Portland where they attended a pre-showing of the new 1939 Chevrolet. "On October 22, the most startling announcement in automobile history will be released at the public showing of the new 1939 model Chevrolet," said Gulseth. "Our 1938 car was America's number one sales leader—and it has practically everything—but this new car is so outstanding and offers so much for so little money that I think America will proclaim it the greatest automobile buy of all times when it is introduced on October 22. "The 1939 Chevrolet is bigger and better in every way than the '38 car and incorporates seventy-five improvements of such utility, beauty and economy that I am convinced we have a car that the public will buy in great numbers.

"We were advised that immediate deliveries will be available on announcement day and that the Chevrolet plant in Oakland is in full production," continued Mr. Gulseth. "Our preferred order campaign for the 1939 car has been the most successful in Chevrolet history and the production rate has been stepped up over the 1938 product year because of the advance orders for a car that only a few of us have actually seen. We think this is a great tribute to the public acceptance and reputation of the Chevrolet product."
