Radio Study Club - Program Nov. 18

Mother! Father! Have you ever wondered what to do to help your child in his school life? Does it seem to you that everything about school has changed from the time when you learned your A. B. C.'s? Dr. Elizabeth Montgomery, assistant professor of education at the University of Oregon has many vital suggestions for you if you are interested and wondering about your child and his school?

The next lecture in this year's series will be "If Reading Is Difficult," and is presented over KOOS on Friday, November 18, at 3:30 o'clock.

Join a Radio Study Club near you—or organize one. It isn't too late and it's easy to do. The program for the rest of the series is:

4th—"If Spelling Is Difficult"—A discussion of common errors in spelling. Why they are made and how to help correct them.

5th—"If Arithmetic Is Difficult"—Do children have trouble with arithmetic because they have had no practical experience with numbers; because arithmetic has a bad reputation?

6th—"What If Brother 'Flunks'?"—Development of personality and character. How are children influenced by experiences in school. If Brother is aggressive and has been humiliated by failing, he is apt to hate school, to play truant, to become a smart aleck in class or a bully on the playground.

7th—"What If Sister 'Flunks'?"—If Sister fails she is more apt to be passive, to sit and daydream, or to give up trying and accept defeat, or to worry and try so hard that she is constantly tense and excitable.

8th—"When Abilities Differ"—All people are different. Not every one can be an artist, or a musician, or even equally good in all school subjects.

9th—"Examining Intelligence Tests"—What intelligence tests measure. How they are given and what uses are made of them in school.

10th—"Is Your Child Left-Handed?"—What is meant by hand preference? How is it measured? Should a left-handed child be made to write with his right hand?

11th—"Learning To Talk, A Serious Job"—Why a child talks. How he learns to make words from his babbling. Why some children persistently talk baby talk.

12th—"If Brother Fails To Talk Well"—What to do about persistent baby talk and lisping. Can stuttering be overcome? Is it related to hand preference?

13th—"Is Your Child's School Up-To-Date?"—Does your school attempt to adjust the work to individual differences and at the same time provide for socializing experiences. What is the purpose of the special room?

News From County Supt. Office

Liquor and Cigarettes To Minors
Cooe county teachers in county institute on November 4 demanded of law enforcement officers and business men adherence to the law prohibiting the sale of liquor and cigarettes to minors.

Among other resolutions and objectives were those pertaining to the following: favoring the election of Rex Putnam, state superintendent; non-partisan election of state superintendent; more safety education; state support of schools; a parent-education program to be sponsored by the Oregon State College.

The members of the committee on resolutions and objectives were: Miss Anna Clinkenbeard, Marshfield; Clarence Church, Myrtle Point; Floyd Summers, Myrtle Point; Maurice Adams, Powers; Martin J. Elle, Marshfield; Burton W. Dunn, Coquille, chairman.

Norway
Norway school celebrated Halloween by having a social and with the proceeds secured a radio for the school. The children listen every day to the broadcasts and on Friday the parents in the district who have formed a radio club will hear Dr. Montgomery's lecture on child education.

Gravelford
The patrons of Gravelford on Halloween resumed their old plan of getting together for a late dinner. After the dinner the evening was spent in Halloween games and stunts.
