

WHA'D'YA MEAN — STILL LIFE?
Roxy Theatre Thur., Fri., Sat.

Straight, Place and Show

The artist who drew this picture of the RITZ BROTHERS in Damon Runyon's "Straight, Place and Show," the 36th Century-Fox comedy at Roxy Theatre Thursday, Friday, Saturday, wanted to call it "Still Life." He says if there's still life left in him he's going to see the picture again and die laughing. The first time he laughed himself hoarse (lower left).

Damon has those Ritzes on the Runyons! In other, and more sober, words, this means that the daffy Ritz Brothers are starred in Damon Runyon's "Straight, Place and Show," which opens tonight at the Roxy.

The film shows the Ritzes off (as usual) to the races, where they buy horses, sell horses, rent horses, steal horses — in fact they're a little hoarse themselves before the story reaches its 149th, and final, climax of laughter.

Based on a play by Damon Runyon and Irving Caesar, the comic story is spiced by a romantic triangle between Richard Arlen, Ethel Merman and Phyllis Brooks.

The Ritzes play a trio of down-and-out pony track operators thrust into big-time racing when Richard Arlen bestows a thoroughbred on them. In characteristic fashion they build the story up to a series of hilarious high spots topped by their having to ride the competing horses in a race so that their own entry can win.

David Butler directed the film, under the supervision of Darryl F. Zanuck. It is the latest of the Movie Quiz $250,000 contest pictures.

Local Butcher Runs Amuck on Motorcycle

Carl Dement, 25, butcher at Henninger Market, is nursing some very painful sores, cuts and bruises this week after smacking the side of an auto driven by W. H. Phillips as it was turning into the Port Orford Cedar company yards at Millington, near Marshfield last Friday afternoon.

Dement was driving the cycle from Marshfield and apparently did not see Phillips signal for a turn at the lumber yard and crashed into the side of the car as it turned across the road in front of him. He was rushed to the Wesley hospital in Marshfield by ambulance and his injuries were reported as slight brain concussion, a severe scalp wound and a bruised eye. The right leg was badly skinned.

He was not so seriously injured as believed at first, as he was back in his butcher shop Saturday afternoon for a while. Harry Williams, local butcher, took over the duties at the market during Dement's absence.

It pays to buy Bergen's fresh, crisp flowers and potted plants. — tfs
