Weaver Bros. And Elviry Hold Top Place In Comedy

The Weaver Brothers and Elviry, stars of the Republic Picture "Down in Arkansas," coming to the Liberty Theatre Friday Saturday and Sunday, have been on the stage as a team for 23 years. Their Arkansas Traveller act is famous from Canada to Mexico, all over the United States.

Back in 1915 they started on a small town circuit, playing through the middle west. Later they went on the Orpheum Circuit, and travelled the entire country. Leon, who plays the Arkansas Traveller, developed the act of playing an ordinary saw. He plays the entire melody of "Home Sweet Home" by striking the saw only four times.

"Down in Arkansas" the famous trio is seen as hill-billies in the mountains of Arkansas. Their antics are causing audiences to say it is one of the most hilarious musicals to come out of Hollywood in many seasons.

An excellent supporting cast includes Pinky Tomlin, Ralph Byrd, June Storey, Berton Churchill, "Big Boy" Williams, Gertrude Green, Alan Bridge, Chester Cunnels, and many others.

"Down in Arkansas" is from a screen play by the McGowan Brothers, Dorrell and Stuart, and was directed by Nick Grindle.
