The Casino Plays Saturday

The Casino basketball team will play the Port Orford entry in the valley league at Port Orford Saturday evening, December 10, according to Fred Coleman, who is managing the team. The team will play Powers here in the Community Building Monday, December 12.

The entry lost one of its first games last week to Myrtle Point by a score of 33-20 but the score did not indicate the close game that it was.

Plywood Basket Ball Team Is Organized

The Plywood basketball team, representing the Smith Wood-Products plywood plant, will again take the floor this season with a strong line-up. Among the players already practicing are Jim Duffy, Morse Stonecypher, Bill McCarthy, Bob Scorby, Palmer King and Chub Allord. Other players are also expected to join the team later. Games with Coos Bay, Myrtle Point, Powers and Port Orford teams will be arranged. Chub Allord is acting as manager and floor leader.

Coquille Casaba Artists Train In New Gymnasium

Members of Coach Earl Leslie's basketball squad will commence practice in the new gymnasium at the high school next week if present plans materialize. The only thing that has been holding them from using the new structure has been the failure of baskets arriving to place on the backboards.

Twenty-seven members are on the squad at the present time and some fine material is quite apparent. Vern Knox, of Grants Pass, is showing some talent on the forward post. He transferred from the southern city this year. Bill Ray, of Riverton, is another who shows promise at guard or forward post.

The regulars who are back in uniform include Ralph Fuhrman, Everett Smith and Marvin Goodman. These boys are looking fine as do several other members of last year's squad. Everyone is getting ready for the season's first game in January and much interest is being shown by squad members in the practice and just who will be in the starting line-up.

Buffalo Hunters All Happy

The final Round-Up of the big Buffalo Hunt was held in Pioneer Hall Tuesday evening of this week when most of the buffalo hunters met to compare trophies. The Red Wing tribe followed the leadership of Chief Sitting Bull while the Eagle Eye tribe were led by Chief Dirty Face. In the medicine ball contest there was no final decision because of the curfew sounding too soon and scattering most of the squaws out to round up the papooses.

Most of the other contests were fought out to clear-cut decisions for one or the other of the two tribes. The snake dance was easily won by the Eagle Eyes and brought forth many grunts of satisfaction from Chief Dirty Face. But the Red Wings evened the score when it came to the dog-eating contest, and proved conclusively that long and systematic training could make a world of difference for enthusiastic dog-eaters. Winning contestants were rewarded with liberal rations of jerked buffalo meat, washed down with pokeberry juice.

There were 1696 buffalos brought in, but these are expected to be increased by several hundred within the next few days. Squaw Rosalie Oatman won the prize for guessing nearest to the correct number with

Smart Aleck
"Do you mean to say that Sandy is famous for his after-dinner speaking?"
"I'll say! He always manages to be speaking on the telephone when the waiter brings the check."—Pathfinder Magazine.

STUNG AGAIN
"Sam says he ran up against a regular vamp yesterday."
"Some girl worked him for an ice cream soda."

That's Different
Clairvoyant—Young man, do you wish to have your future read from the lines of your hand, the coffee grounds or from the crystal?
Youth—I came to ask for the hand of your daughter.
Clairvoyant—Then will you tell me what are your prospects for the future?

More's the Pity
Auntie—I do hope you will like my present. I couldn't decide whether you would like a large check or a small one.
Impecunious Nephew—Any cheque would be ripping, auntie.
Auntie—Ah, what a pity I bought you a striped tie after all.

Father's View
"Tell me, pater, what is heredity?"
"The force, my child, that arranges that all your good traits be inherited from your mama and all your bad ones from me."—Royal Arcanum Bulletin.

Something Done
Mother (to small son who is going to a party)—Now, dear, what are you going to do when you've had enough to eat?
Little Tommy—Come home.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Some Crust!
Father—When I was a little boy, I always ate the crusts.
Willie—Did you like them?
Father—Of course, I did!
Willie—Then you can have mine.—New York Post.

The common coffee tree grows to a height of from 18 to 20 feet.

her guess of 1700. The prize for the greatest number brought in by any one family went to the tepee of W. P. Laws. "Jail" Smith carried away all honors in war whooping, while his squaw distinguished herself as a round-up artist.

Plans are now being made by both tribes to make the buffalo hunt an annual event, although it is not yet certain whether permission to leave the reservation can again be secured.

Don't Buy Bottles From Youngsters

Editor Sentinel: Again yesterday the Juvenile Office was called upon to consider and hear the complaint of a business house against two small boys, charging them with stealing two cases of empty bottles. The incentive behind this pilfering is to sell the bottles for a few dimes. The pilfering is a first step to greater crime. Permit us to suggest that if the tradespeople of the town would refuse to buy any such articles from these small boys the incentive would be automatically eliminated and the first step to a career of crime would be prevented. Respectfully, R. H. Mast, Probation Officer.
