

(Society Continued)

Forty sat down to the dinner given by the members of the Loyal Women's class to the winning men's class at the Church of Christ Monday evening. The contest lasted twelve weeks and the women, proving they were good losers, provided a royal feast for the men. Mrs. John Widmark and Mrs. E. Davidson had charge of decorating the tables, etc., and Mrs. Gus McCullough and Mrs. Merle Willey had charge of the entertainment which consisted of games, stunts and a community sing.

Past Matrons and Patrons At Banquet Saturday Evening

The annual Christmas party of the Past Matrons, Past Patrons, wives and husbands, was held Saturday evening in the Masonic Temple, starting with a six-thirty o'clock turkey dinner in the banquet hall. The table, decorated attractively with Yuletide trimmings, was loaded with good things to eat. At the table, singing was enjoyed, followed by short Christmas stories. Following the dinner, the assemblage wended its way to the room where Santa was very much in evidence, with gifts for all. Cards and chatting filled the evening hours. Present were: Messrs. and Mesdames G. A. Ulett, W. C. Ulett, Bert Folsom, Henry Lorenz, Frank Leslie, Hal Pierce, W. E. Bosserman, C. A. Rietman, A. N. Gould, Lefe Compton, H. A. Young, O. B. Harriman, V. G. Hazel, B. W. Dunn, J. E. Norton, Mesdames Huldah Ellingson, Flora Dunne, Ed. Lorenz, Edna Hartson, Effie Miller, Bertha Smith, Sadie Jayes, A. J. Sherwood, Ida Owen, Jeanette Pierce, Jessie Campbell, Fred Kunz, Wm. Candlin, Misses Bess Maudy, Edna Robison, and John Quick.

W.C.T.U. Members

The W. C. T. U. met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Leslie. In the absence of both the president and vice president, the secretary, Mrs. Walter Oerding, conducted a short business meeting. Devotions were led by Mrs. H. L. Johnson. Scripture was taken from the second chapter of Luke. Following the business meeting, Mrs. W. A. Ireland presented a short program. The members and friends brought gifts for the Children's Farm Home at Corvallis, which will be sent on for their Christmas tree. A social time followed, with delicious fruit cake and coffee served by Mrs. Leslie and Mrs. Birdie Skeels to the following ladies: Mesdames H. L. Johnson, W. A. Ireland, Geo. Gray, Berlyn Billings, Sadie Jayes, Blanche Davis, Miranda Way, Alice Holverstott, Harold McCue, Walter Oerding, Henry Cardwell, J. W. McGuffin, Jennie Adams, Louis Fugelson, V. L. Technicolor Drama Opens Tonight At Roxy For Three Days

Roxy Theatre Has "Valley Of The Giants"

Wayne Morris and Claire Trevor head the cast of "Valley of the Giants," the Technicolor picture based by Warner Bros. on the famous Peter B. Kyne novel of the same name, which opens tonight for three days at the Roxy Theatre. It is the story of the successful fight waged to prevent the utter despoilation of California's famous redwood forests by ruthless eastern lumber interests (represented by Charles Bickford) around the turn of the century. While it is concerned with one local aspect of this fight, telling in highly exciting manner of the clash between one such despoiler and an artistic young local lumberman, it is typical of the situation throughout the redwood country at that time.

And modern audiences will discover a curious parallel between the methods employed by the exploiters of more than thirty years ago and those of the men who have come to be known today as racketeers. Graft and corruption, legalistic trickery and physical violence all have their part in the story, but it is the last-mentioned method that gives the new Warner picture its most thrilling moments.

The picture has two of the most hair-raising sequences ever filmed. One depicts the rescue of the heroine from a runaway freight caboose just a moment before it reaches a trestle which, with supports deliberately cut away by the villain's henchmen, collapses under the weight of four lumber-laden flat cars. The other shows a terrific battle between villain and hero atop a dam and the dynamiting of the dam.

Supporting the two stars is one of the most notable casts ever assembled for such a production, including Charles Bickford, Frank McHugh, Alan Hale, Jack La Rue, Donald Crisp, John Litel and Dick Purcell.

Christmas Operetta At Bridge Dec. 22

An operetta, "The Magi's Gift," by Clare M. Grubb and Bryceson Trebarne, will be presented by the Bridge school and community chorus in the school auditorium, December 22, at 8:15 p. m.

The scene of the operetta is in medieval England on Christmas Eve and includes carolers, mummers and dancers characteristic of the medieval period. The Nativity is cleverly woven into the plot and is a scene from an old mystery play of the middle ages.

Mrs. Orlin Lew is leader of the community chorus and is rehearsing the operetta music. Cherie Mae Hartwell is in charge of the scenery, stage setting and lighting. Eleanor Menegat is in charge of costumes, properties and make-up.

The operetta is under the sponsorship of the community Christmas committee composed of representatives from the grange, civic club, church and school. No admission fee will be charged.

Give a new Corona Portable Typewriter for Christmas. Models from $29.75 up. Easy terms. H. S. Norton Music and Stationery.
