CORNERSTONE CLASS HAS CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Cornerstone Class of the Church of Christ held its Christmas party at the church Saturday evening with Mrs. Paul Simpson and Donald Farr as hosts. All sorts of games were enjoyed, after which Santa appeared with a pack full of gifts which were sent to the Children's Farm Home at Corvallis. Popcorn balls and punch were served by the hosts. Present were: Messrs. and Mesdames Levi Wilson, Elbert Halstead, Berlyn Billings, John Sullivan, Adrian Sias, Geo. Chapman, Ernest Odell, Henry George, Herbert Souder, Emma Frances Mulkey, Mabel Camp, Katherine Estey, Ruth Towne, Messrs. Johnnie Montelius, Roger Teeney, Loren and Donald Salisbury, Fred Towne, Floyd Jarvis and the hosts.

Christmas Program At Fat Elk School

A Christmas program and pageant of the Nativity has been prepared by the children of the Fat Elk school district for the entertainment of their parents, patrons of the district and friends.

Each adult attending is asked to bring an inexpensive wrapped gift, with no name, for the gift exchange.

Following the program Santa Claus is scheduled for a visit. The ladies of the district are serving Christmas cookies and coffee, at the close of the evening, Friday, Dec. 23.

Mrs. Florence Oerding is the teacher in charge. School will then close for a week's vacation, to reopen on January 2, 1939.

Revival meetings begin in the Tabernacle the Tuesday evening following the Christmas program. Evangelist Harvey McAlister, who was at the church last summer for four days in the "Camp Meeting Preview," is to return for a two weeks meeting. Mrs. McAlister, vibra harp soloist and children's evangelist, is to come with him this time. There will be meetings every night in the week except Monday, and Tuesday and Thursday evenings will be devine healing services.

Recreation Institute Great Success

Sunday Schools, young people's groups, schools, 4-H clubs, Extension Units, Civic clubs, Granges, and women's clubs were represented at the Recreational Institute held on December 19 and 20 in the Coquille high school. These leaders came from an aggregate group of a thousand members in the various organizations who will be receiving some help in recreation from them.

From the time the men and women leaders registered until the meeting adjourned, preparatory games, equipment games, music, and folk games carried them along.

At the last session, the group as a body asked that another meeting be held in the spring. The leaders were asked to report how they used the recreational material in their groups and whether they made any games at home. A collection of favorite games, skits, songs, stunts, and puzzles is being started, and any person having an especial favorite was asked to give it to Julia Bennett, home demonstration agent.

Those attending the institute were: Mrs. J. N. Gearhart, Myrtle Point; Esther Davidson, H. E. Watkins, Mrs. H. E. Watkins, Reginald Menegat,

Arago; Marguerite Chaney, Edith Dunn, Coquille; Viola Johnson, Mrs. Mildred Waldo, McKinley; Gertrude DeBoer, Gravel Ford; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Christensen, Mr. and Mrs. J. T.
