Dunning Music Club Dinner Last Saturday Evening

The senior group of the Dunning Music club was entertained Saturday evening at six o'clock dinner at the home of their supervisor, Mrs. Roy Fox. Hostesses for the occasion were Helene Gage and Betty Lou Donsted, with Mrs. Fox assisting. Lighted tapers, carnations and freebies formed the table centerpiece.

The topic for presentation of the evening's program was, "What Is Opera," by Mrs. Fox. Diana Powers assisted by giving a story of an opera. Each member responded to roll call with the name of an opera. Members of the club are: Phyllis Bunch, Geraldine Cole, JoAnne Knight, Mary Alice Nosler, Mavis Tyrrell, Margaret Ann Wilson, Betty Emery, Glenda Clinton, Kay Leslie, Harriet Tozier, Betty Lou Donsted, Donna Rankin, Diana Powers.

FIRESTONE CHAMPION GUARANTEED SAFEST

Local Dealer Offers 2-Day Free Trial To Prove Quicker Stopping

Oscar Larson, local Firestone dealer at City Motors, is so confident that the new Firestone champion tire represents the greatest achievement in safety engineering ever introduced in tire construction that they are offering a two-day free trial to every Coquille motorist this month.

"The new Firestone champion tire is built with a safety-locked cord body which provides greater strength than heretofore. This outstanding feature enables Firestone to use a thicker, tougher, deeper tread which not only assures greater life but faster stopping action," Mr. Larson said.

Tuesday night brought from two to four inches of snow. Fairview valley looked more like a fairy land than a valley where logging takes place.

Townsend Club News

Another enjoyable social evening for more than 200 Townsendites was that Tuesday evening.

The children's play and songs, coached by Mrs. Roth, were very good and every one enjoyed them, also the songs of Harold (Jeff) Ocheltree, Billie (Matt) Cardwell and the Embree family, jokes by Lans Leneve and verse by Tom Drake.

The nominations for the advisory board for the ensuing year were: Mesdames Z. C. Strang, M. Schroeder, Leach, Wimer, Messrs. Ernest Embree, Jim Brockman, Hathaway, Bill Roth and Geo. Swinney. Election will be next Tuesday, February 14, with refreshments for members.

A hand of thanks and appreciation was given the officers for their wonderful work of the past year by lay members.

The membership campaign is still on. Have you brought in your two new members? That is the Key to Success for the Townsend Plan.

Casino Owner Plans Big Renovation Here

Charlie Elkins, proprietor of the Casino, local beer parlor, is planning to open up one of the finest bar rooms in this section of the state when the present remodeling is completed in the former Norcott building, which Mr. Elkins recently purchased.

A new bar and backbar, with a new refrigeration system, will be installed which will cost several thousand dollars. A definite floor scheme will be carried out and a new floor and new walls are being built in the building at the present time. Mr. Elkins plans to move in about two weeks from the Gilkey building, where the business is now located. He will retain the same business name.

Oregon Dairymen Adopt Plans For Increasing Sales

Sales promotion for dairy products and steps to insure continued high quality of Oregon dairy products were included in the program for the coming year by the Oregon Dairymen's association, which held its forty-sixth annual meeting in Eugene last week in February.

The much discussed plan of providing an advertising fund to increase dairy products sales was handled by a special committee, whose report was adopted by the convention, urging that a bill be sponsored to provide funds for promoting and increasing the use of dairy products, such a bill to be patterned somewhat after one in Washington.

W. E. Cross, of Coquille, was a member of the committee which submitted the report to the convention.

A related resolution adopted urged a changed in the present inspection and licensing law for butter and cheese makers which would be intended to eliminate a few instances of poor quality products being exported to the detriment of Oregon markets in other states.

Geo. Fullenwider, of Carlton, was re-elected for his eighth term as president, and Roger Morse, of O.S.C., was re-elected secretary.

A Belated Grange Report

About thirty-five members were present at the last Coquille Grange meeting held on Jan. 27.

Games were played during the lecture hour and everyone enjoyed them very much. Ida Oerding and Mildred English were appointed to be in charge of the meeting to be held on Feb. 10. They announced that there would be a Valentine box. Each member is urged to come and bring at least one valentine or many more as they wish.

The members were asked to give ideas on ways to raise money for the Lecture Hour. It was decided to have a pie social some time in the near future.

Master Joe Varney asked all officers and as many members as could, to visit the Myrtle Point Grange with him on Tuesday, Feb. 7.

At the close of the meeting cookies and coffee were served.

To Demonstrate Pruning, Spraying

Methods of pruning the home orchard and of spraying for insect pest and disease control will be demonstrated and discussed by O. T. McWhorter, extension horticulturist at Oregon State College, at two farm meetings in Coos county on February 14 to 15, according to arrangements completed by George Jenkins, county agricultural agent.

The first meeting will be at the H. C. Whitesel farm on Larson Inlet at 1:30 p. m. on Tuesday, February 14. The second meeting will be at the Henry George farm on Rink creek road, near Coquille, on Wednesday, February 15, at 10:00 a. m. Both of these meetings will be informal, and anyone interested in discussing methods of providing better care for the home orchard is invited to be present, it is announced.

These meetings are part of a major project, developed jointly by Julia Bennett, home demonstration agent, and the county agricultural agent, which are designed to lend encouragement towards better care of the home orchard, the production of an adequate supply and a wider variety of garden crops, and to food preservation through storage and canning.

NOW IMPOUNDING WATER FOR NEXT SUMMER

The gates of the big dam on the headwaters of Rink Creek were closed Monday evening and from now on the water will be impounded for next summer's supply. After the workmen who were raising the dam had reached the point in the filling that the gates could be closed, it required an additional four days to finish clearing the huge reservoir of logs and debris.
