Camp Fire Girls Have Christmas Pageant

"Oh, Come All Ye Faithful," was the title of the Campfire Christmas pageant given to an audience of 200 parents and friends last Thursday evening at the Washington School auditorium. The pageant, a nativity play, told the old, yet ever new Christmas story in three acts, blended by golden voices of eighteen beautiful choristers in white and red uniforms. The cast, under the direction of Cherie Mae Hartwell, included: Donna Mae Smith, Donna Mae Gormley, Velma Coy, Betty Lee Renfro and Lucille Morse; merchants and market people, Norma Miller, Anna Lee Mannellin, Joyce Benham and Louise Terry; page, Versie Willis; angels, Harriet Walker, Norma Helvie and Iris Fox; Mary, Mary Boone; Joseph, Carol Kronsteiner; wise men, Mary Ann Walker, Roberts Medley and Jean Darnell. The wise men are to be complimented on their splendid solos.

The chorus, under the direction of Miss Ethel Roop, included Carol Jean Gray, Sally Bonney, Anne Harbison, Joanne Savage, Alene Hunt, Betty May Howe, Rose Marie Peart, Leal Shuck, Dorothy Hughes, Verlin Scott, Nancy Lee Pruitt, Dorothy Welsh, Lenora Wornstaff, Leatha Harless, and Geraldine Price. Mrs. C. A. Smith's group sang several lovely songs and Yvonne Capps recited the poem, "The Night Before Christmas." Mrs. Estelle Harbison gave a delightful talk on the organization and purpose of the Camp Fire movement.

The Camp Fire girls, led by Miss Jean Polson, brought their gifts to be sent to the Doernbecher Hospital and laid them under a beautifully decorated Christmas tree. Miss Polson, Miss Kareen Dunton and Mrs. Harry Godard made four regulation toy bags in which to send the gifts to the hospital. The program closed with everyone singing, "Silent Night."

Instead of startling the white house with the ring of a bell or buzzer—why not make your home more peaceful with the lovely melody of a Nu Tone Chime. See and hear our Nu Tone Chimes. Hooton Electric Shop.

Riverton News

Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Johnson, of Silverton, Ore., Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Griffin and children, of Medford, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Stonecypher and children, of Winchester Bay, will all spend Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nilsen, coming in the latter part of this week.

Mrs. Nancy Sullivan, of Eureka, California, is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Joe Nilsen, over the holidays.

Mrs. Carl Tucker received word from Portland Tuesday morning that her brother living there is very ill. Her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Rockhold, and brother, Jack Young, and Mr. and Mrs. Tucker left that evening to go to Portland.

There was quite a large number who enjoyed a Christmas party at the George Hathaway home on the Bandon highway Saturday night. The rooms were beautifully decorated with cedar and Christmas bells. Refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served about twelve o'clock. The evening was spent in dancing and several interesting card games were played. Those enjoying the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Drake and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. Wimer, Mrs. Crumley and daughter, Louise, Gilbert Bogard, Mr. and Mrs. William Roth, Chester, Gladys, Milton and Wilma Roth, Johnnie Fisher, Mrs. Mary Olsen, Bobbie Morgan, Roy Detillon, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kuechl and Olive Emma, Mr. and Mrs. George Hepler, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Detillon, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Shelton, Charlotte Bogard, Earl Trejbal, Glen Collier, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Collier and son, Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Verner Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Hathaway, Mrs. Joe Collier, Frank, Eva and Marvin, Charles Idle, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Prusler, Elsie Mae and Marcene, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Prusler, Betty Jean and Delores and Mr. and Mrs. George Hathaway.

The Junior Woman's Club enjoyed its annual Christmas party in Guild hall Tuesday evening this week. Dessert was served at individual tables under the direction of Mrs. J. Arthur Berg, chairman. Every table was decorated with a bright Christmas paper cover containing a Santa Claus, a red candle, and a "Merry Christmas" at each plate. A Santa Claus candle and a sprig of holly made up the attractive centerpiece at each table. The cake was decorated with white icing and a Christmas tree design in the middle of each individual piece.

A very large Christmas tree, beautifully lighted, stood in the center of the north end of the hall. Mary Stevens as good St. Nick, handled the gift exchange. As each girl entered the room, she deposited a wrapped gift which bore her own name. Later, slips of paper were passed and each girl drew a name. When Santa called that name, the girl who held it responded and received her gift. All had fun dashing around to inspect the presents which the others received. Edna Shrock, accompanied by Inez Rover, led the group in the singing of a series of Christmas carols.

Each girl during the evening wore on her dress a small red cloth stocking with her name printed on it with white ink. Holly and a decorative bow of golden ribbon were at the top of the stocking. Several girls during the course of the party admitted that they were very conscious that it was "English" holly that they were wearing on their dresses. They recruited help to get the sharp points pulled off the offending leaves!

Ruth Dey, program chairman, divided the girls into two groups—those who wished to play bridge and those who preferred to play other games. Tally cards were in the form of red art paper bells with a 1933 Christmas seal at the top of each. Georgianna Vaughan won first prize at bridge and Eleanor McClellan, low. At games, Vi Connarn, Doris Sayre, and Mary Stevens were given awards of merit.

Members attending the party were Helen Ayres, Eunice Barrow, Margaret Bellott, Alberta Brandon, Jane Brault, Ellen Braxton, Emma Briggs, Doris Caudle, Myrtle Clausen, Ruth Dey, Hazel Foss, Peg Gould, Genevieve Grant, Zelma Hopkins, Grace Hughes, Bernice Ireland, Esther Jensen, Marjorie Knight, Gladys May, Eleanor McClellan, Lucille McEniry, Lorraine Perrott, Jean Polson, Maybell Robinson, Inez Rover, Leah Rover, Doris Sayre, Edna Shrock, Estel Suhler, Mary Stevens, Maxine Stevens, Georgianna Vaughan, Marie Wagner, Carol Young, Josephine Purkey, Vi Connarn, Constance Powder, Grace Greenough, Evelyn Elliott, and Mrs. J. Arthur Berg, contact chairman.

Guests included Faye Waggoner, Ruth Clayton and Dorothy Harris.

John Williams Voted As Tops

Johnny Williams, who had been voted the most valuable player on the Red Devils football team this fall by the members of the squad, was presented with a handsome pen and pencil set by the Coquille Fraternal Order of Eagles at their sessions last Thursday evening. Coach "Spike" Leslie and all the members of the squad were present and the coach presented each one to the assemblage. The presentation of the set was made by James N. Jacobson.

It was all a part of the program arranged by W. H. Walbert to whom President G. E. Stark had turned the gavel over after the Eagles' business session and Mr. Walbert acted as master of ceremonies for the hour and a half program, which included a comic recitation by Dewey Moss, a cowboy song by Henry Edgerman, who also sang other selections, and a talk by Coach Leslie.

The high light of the program was the talk by Kenneth Leatherman, who told of his bicycle tour of Europe last summer. He was in Ger-
