Coos County's Large Timber Volume

The forests of Coos county contain a saw-timber volume of nearly 20 billion board feet, according to a report, "Forest Statistics for Coos County, Oregon," just released by Stephen N. Wyckoff, director of the Pacific Northwest Forest and Range Experiment Station. The report, written by F. L. Morvets, gives the results of a revision of an inventory of the county's forests made by the Forest Service as a part of a nationwide survey of forest resources.

During the interval between inventories—the original in 1932 and the revision in 1938—reduction in the volume of saw timber in the county through cutting for commodity production and fire amounted to approximately 2.3 billion board feet.

Although Port Orford cedar comprises only about 2 percent of the present saw-timber volume, it has furnished about 11 percent of the average annual sawlog production during the 6-year period. This species is the county's most valuable commercial tree and its utilization during the last 15 years has been a very important factor in the economic development of Coos county.

Copies of the report may be obtained from the experiment station, 424 U. S. Court House, Portland, Oregon, or may be seen at the Sentinel office.

Confucius Also Has Lot To Say About Traffic Safety Slogans

Quick to react to popular fads, motorists are capitalizing on the current "Confucius Say" jingles in their safety-minded slogans that reach the desk of W. G. Julier, safety engineer of the Gilmore Oil Company.

That a large number of motorists are constantly thinking in terms of safe driving, is shown in the quantity of slogans received by Julier from the public, safety groups, and Gilmore employees.

Some of the new "Confucius Say" slogans recently received are:

Confucius say: Much safer to have cobra for pet than to pet while driving car.

Confucius say: Man who parks double would also park feet on furniture in your home.

Confucius say: Man who jumps stop light in hurry to meet ancestors.

Confucius say: He who drives with horn instead of brake will learn his lesson too late.

Confucius say: It better to give away the right of way than throw away right to live.

Confucius say: Blowing horn in traffic jam like donkey braying at the moon.

Confucius say: He who doesn't care about using good motor oil will soon have to care about changing motors.

Confucius say: Man who has lead on throttle foot better have silver when he meet judge.

We have to take off our hat to Sir Ground Hog; he knows his stuff. His six weeks of seclusion or hibernation was up last Friday and where could you find more perfect days than were Sunday and Monday, after anything but perfect weather the great part of the time since February 2!

Brewer Action Program Now in Twelve States

In twelve states—one fourth of the nation—the new "clean-up or close-up" program of the American Brewing Industry is now in full swing. The movement is to be gradually extended into other states.

In these twelve states, brewers and beer distributors are engaged in active cooperation with law enforcement officials to assure the maintenance of orderly, lawful conditions wherever beer is sold.

Since the first of the year three new states, Arkansas, Missouri and Georgia, have installed the industry's program of acceptance of the social responsibility of brewing. Launched as an experiment in Nebraska in 1935, this program proved so successful in eliminating anti-social conditions where they were associated with the sale of beer that it was adopted last year in Alabama, Kansas, Maine, Tennessee, North Carolina, Mississippi, Oklahoma and West Virginia.

The movement is being sponsored by the United Brewers Industrial Foundation, representing brewers in all sections of the country. It is designed to protect an industry which contributes a million dollars a day in taxes, utilizes the products of three million acres of farm land annually and helps provide employment for a million people, from the irresponsible actions of a small number of law-violating dealers.

The plan consists of systematic investigations of retail outlets, and prompt appeals to the constituted authorities for revocation of the licenses of persistent law violators.

Riverton School Honor Roll

Alice Church headed the honor roll list at Riverton high school last six weeks with a "straight one" average. Others on the honor roll were Geraldine Guerin, sophomore, and Rhea Anthony, freshman.

Those who missed the honor roll by one grade below "two" were Gladys McIntee, Warren Smith, Ethel Chappell, Genevieve Fetch, June White, Keith Young and Mayme Royer.

Those who had perfect attendance for the period were Floyd Cooper, Harry Ward, Warren Smith, Orville Young, Bonnie Edwards, Keith Young, Genevieve Fetch, June White and Ronald Holbrook.

Pie Social

The present prospects are for a record crowd and a record good time at the pie social and dance to be given Saturday night, March 23, in the Riverton gymnasium. Don Estes' five-piece orchestra will furnish the music. A floor show and pie auction will be part of the entertainment. For those who do not wish to dance, there will be several card tables in the balcony for pinochle, cribbage and Chinese checkers.

The girls around school this week have been canvassing the male population of the institution to determine what kinds of pies have the greatest appeal to the boys. The paper editor reports that all the boys she has interviewed so far have been unanimous in specifying lemon pie.

Ladies will present a pie or 25c for admission. Gentlemen will pay 25c. The pies will be auctioned and the girl who brings the pie will help the purchaser eat it. Coffee will be sold, also.

The receipts from the event will be used to defray the expense of the automobile accident suffered by the basketball team on its way to the Ashland tournament.

Huggins Sends Check

The first receipt for the pie social was a check for $2 from the Huggins Insurance Company which saw the announcement of the pie social in the paper. The letter which accompanied the check expressed regret that the writer could not attend the social and commended the student body on its efforts to raise money to repair the car which was damaged on the Ashland trip.

Glee Club

The Riverton high school glee club and Mrs. Rawe have been making plans for musical numbers for the commencement exercises.

Mrs. Marcella Rawe, who has handled most of the high school music this year, has been much appreciated by the students and community. She is the primary teacher and has generously given her times after hours, and without remuneration, to assist the high school songsters.

Lunch Project

Mr. Hillstrom, of the Coos county relief agency, called at Riverton Monday afternoon to discuss the school's application for surplus commodities. He expressed approval of the application, which, when, and if, approved by the relief commission, will bring assistance to the lunch project in the form of foods such as butter, eggs, rice, beans, and the like. The amount of food allotted depends upon the number of relief or marginal relief cases in the school.

Orville Young Takes Second

Orville Young, who won the Coos county F. F. A. speaking contest, entered the district contest in Grants Pass last Saturday. He made an excellent showing and won second place in a district meet against such schools as Grants Pass. Orville is a sophomore.

"THANKS FOR A LOVELY EVENING..."

A new kind of beer retailing is bringing wholesome recreation to millions of Americans!

America's new kind of beer retailer wants to sell good beer, of course... but he is also keenly aware of his social responsibility to the community. He makes sure that his place is clean and inviting—and scrupulously free of anti-social influences of any kind.

The Brewing Industry wants all of beer's retailers to be of this type. We do not want any other kind. And we are taking action to eliminate any abuses in beer retailing that may occur.

We have instituted a new plan... now in effect in a few states and being extended as rapidly as possible... to protect your right to drink good beer in decent surroundings. May we tell you about it... in an interesting free booklet? Write: United Brewers Industrial Foundation, 19 East 40th Street, New York, N. Y.

BEER... a beverage of moderation
