Social Notes

Announcement of the engagement of Lurene St. Clair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack St. Clair to Wasley Laird, son of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Laird, was made Wednesday, May 29, when members of the Omic club met at the St. Clair home for dessert and bridge. The wedding will take place June 14 at St. James Episcopal church.

Decorations as well as refreshments carried the bridal theme. On each table was a miniature bride's bouquet of roses, while at every place was a tiny pastel box containing a gift handkerchief, which bore the names of the engaged couple. Served the guests was ice cream shaped into wedding bells and hearts, accompanied by little cakes frosted to resemble flowers.

Mrs. Lloyd Wood won high score at bridge, while low score was held by Mrs. Robt. Littrell. Members present included Mesdames Monroe Swindall, Preston Moy, Loyd Wood, Ray Mattoon, the Misses Georgianna Johnson, Margaret Belloni, Maxine Johnson and Norlene McKeown. Turney-Felker Rites in Portland

The following account of the wedding in Portland of two well-known former Coquille young people appeared in last Sunday's Oregonian. They will be at home in the Episcopal rectory at Marshfield after June 17:

Miss Betty Catherine Felker, daughter of Major Luther Felker, United States army, retired, and Mrs. Felker, became the bride of Rev. George R. Turney of Marshfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Turney of Princeton, N. J., at a simple ceremony read Monday morning in the chapel of Trinity Episcopal church by Right Rev. Benjamin D. Dagwell, bishop of Oregon.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a three-piece suit of blue crepe with white lace blouse, navy accessories and corsage of orchids.

Miss Barbara Felker, her sister's only attendant, wore a princess dress of navy blue crepe with pink accessories and corsage of gardenias. Rev. Lansing E. Kempton acted as best man.

Bishop Dagwell was host at breakfast for members of the wedding party at the Multnomah club following the ceremony.

An afternoon of sewing and conversation was enjoyed Friday by members of the Myrtle club, who met at the home of May Anthony. Tessie Ruble and Edna Hoffman were guests of the group. Members present included: Mesdames Alice Standley, Margaret Southmayd, Helen Anderson, Ruth Varney, Margaret Mullin, Aina Eckholm, Ina Sandine, Pearl Ruble and the hostess, May Anthony.

Again next Wednesday, June 12, Ward McReynolds will be at the Coquille city hall to examine applicants for drivers' licenses.
