McKinley News

When the McKinley Welfare Club held its regular meeting in Cherry creek park on Sunday, a very nice time was had by those attending. It was decided that the hall should be wired at once and, also that an exit door from the rear of the stage be put in. This door has long been needed and it was thought best to do it now before the fall and winter months when the building is most used and entertainments given there.

The Jolly Gardeners will meet with Mrs. Kenneth Hansen this Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Schroeder and a party of friends were Sunday guests at the W. W. Lawhorn home. On Monday Mrs. Schroeder returned to the Lawhorn's bringing with her a sister from California whom Mrs. Lawhorn had known years ago.

Bridge Notes

Frank Culver and daughter, Elsie Ann, were Coquille visitors Saturday afternoon. On their return home in the evening, they brought Tommy from the Mast hospital, in Myrtle Point where he submitted to an appendectomy on July 28. Complications which developed a few days after the operations have delayed his recovery, so he is still confined to his bed.

Miss Mary Gray, of Bakerfield, Calif., arrived Thursday for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Archie L. Booher, and family.

Bridge friends of the E. E. Nelson family learn with deep regret of the death of Noel Nelson, in July, at Milton-Freewater, where he had been living the past few years. His death followed an operation for appendicitis. He leaves his wife, a little daughter, three years old, and a baby son, a few weeks old. The Nelsons lived in this community for several years. The sympathy of many friends in this county goes out to the bereaved ones.

"Managing My Talents," is the topic for Christian Endeavor next Sunday evening, and Miss Lynn Culver is the leader. A very interesting meeting was held last Sunday evening, among the trees on the creek bank, at Hooton's Haven. Miss Virginia Beckett was the leader. After the meeting, which was held early, there was a potluck lunch, after which several went to the Myrtle Point church of Christ to the closing service of an evangelistic meeting, conducted by Medford Jones and Harry Baird.

Mrs. Glen Hutton and Mrs. Matilda Hill enjoyed a Wednesday afternoon visit from the following guests: Mrs. Martha E. Mulkey, Mrs. Frances Holmstrom and Mrs. Eugene E. Nosler, all of Coquille; Mrs. Turner B. MacDonald, of Port Orford, and her sister and nephew, Mrs. P. O'Harris and Bobby, of Ashland; Mrs. Frank Culver and daughters, Lynn and Elsie Ann, and Miss Mary Lou Culver, of Bridge.

Misses Virginia and Vivienne Lake, who went home with their aunt, Mrs. Albert Guthrie, to Palo Alto, Calif., are coming with their desk, Kirby Guthrie, who stopped over here for a few days before going to the Rogue river for some fishing. Mr. and Mrs. Lake and daughters took their guest on a trip to Agnes and Ilabe Sunday.

The following group enjoyed a potluck supper, on Wednesday evening of last week, at Hooton's Haven: Mr. and Mrs. Forrest L. Moon, Zella May, Eugene and Edgar, of Myrtle Point; Mr. Moon's sister and niece, Mrs. Carl Hill, Elleen and Anna Lou, of Chehalis, Wash.; Mrs. Turner B. Mac-Donald, of Port Orford, and her sister and nephew, Mrs. M. P. O'Harris and Bobby, of Ashland; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hutton, Mrs. A. O. Hooton and Maude. Mrs. MacDonald, Mrs. O'Harris and Bobby remained overnight at the Hooton home.

Bulletins On Preserving Food

A new extension bulletin on "Home Food Preservation" has just been released by the home economic extension service, according to the home demonstration agent, Mrs. Dorothy Bishop. This bulletin includes various suggestions for the preservation of food in many different ways including canning, drying, salting, smoking, and storing.

The preservation of surplus products at home for family use makes possible a variety in the diet and reduces the cost of living for many families. Winter gardens and storing, salting, drying, and freezing of foods may well be increased. Good aims for canned products are safety for use, freedom from spoilage, and desirability for eating.

This bulletin is available by writing or calling at the office of the home demonstration agent at the courthouse in Coquille.

Better Home Lighting Demonstrations This Month

Four demonstrations on "Better Home Lighting" will be given through out Coos county this month by the home demonstration agent, Mrs. Dorothy Bishop, assisted by Miss Lois Kutz, Home Management Specialist of the Oregon State College Extension Service. These meetings will be as follows:

August 22, Sumner Grange Hall, 1:30 p. m.

August 23, Locust Grove, home of Mrs. E. F. Hoffman of Powers Junction, 1:30 p. m.

August 27, Fairview Community Building, 8:00 p. m.

August 29, Catching Inlet, at the home of Everett Messerly, 8:00 p. m.

These meetings are a part of a joint rural electrification, water supply, and sanitation project as adopted by the Coos county home demonstration agent and county agricultural agent for major attention effective January 1, 1940. The expansion of rural electrification lines in Coos county which will make electricity available to approximately 800 rural homes, who are at the present without this service, is the reason for giving special attention to the home lighting phase of this project at this time.

One Coquille Enlistment

Coquille has produced one enlistment at Portland so far this month for the regular army. Marvin Moore, 29, was accepted and forwarded to Portland for final examinations and actual enlistment by Sergeant John W. Garvey, commander of the Marshfield recruiting sub-station.

Moore was enlisted for the 53rd Infantry, Camp Ord, California, and was among 124 enlisted from Oregon August 1-10.

Qualified single men between the ages of 18 and 35 are being enlisted for assignment to western army posts, with a few going to Alaska. Openings are still available in practically all branches of the service, in units just being formed and in the old established regiments.

Additional Time For Tenant Farm Loan Applications

Additional time has been provided for acceptance of applications for tenant farm loans to be made in Coos county for this year's program, advises Norman Fletcher, county farm security administration supervisor, 201 Laird Building, Coquille.

Final date has been extended to Saturday, August 31, 1940. This has been brought about by the increased interest in the Tenant Purchase Program as evidenced by receipt of applications.

As soon as applications are closed, the Tenant Purchase committee will begin reviewing applications of farms intended for purchase and make recommendations for applications best qualified for farm ownership.
