4-H Club Leaders Elect Officers

4-H Club Leaders of Coos county, attending a regular meeting of the Local Leaders' Association in the court house at Coquille on Monday evening, August 26, adopted a constitution and by laws which provides an outline to be followed by the organization, according to Edwin Weststrom, of Hauser, president of the Leaders' group. The official name of the organization is now the Coquille Local 4-H Leaders' Association and its object shall be to promote and develop a better understanding of 4-H club work. Members include all past and present club leaders and friends who are interested in co-operating with the Leaders in promoting club work.

Officers include a president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer, and the executive committee which will manage the affairs of the association between meetings, will consist of the officers for the current year with those for the past year. Officers serving at this time in addition to Miss Weststrom, president, are Robert Lundy of Myrtle Point, vice-president, and Maxine Ruckelshof, of Arago, secretary-treasurer. Meetings are to be held quarterly at different points throughout the county, and programs will include, demonstrations by club members, discussions read by state club leaders and subject material pertaining to the different projects.

Miss Weststrom and Mrs. Mayre Laird, local leaders who attended 4-H Club summer school in Corvallis in June, each gave an interesting report their attendance at the school as chaperones for 59 Coos county members who attended. Tentative plans were made to invite members of all organizations within the county to attend the next meeting which will probably be held in Marshfield.

Grange Council To Meet At Bridge

The next meeting of the Coos Grange Council will be held following the next regular meeting of the Bridge Grange, which will be held on Friday, September 8, at 8:00 p. m., according to E. L. Peterson, Pomona Grange Master and chairman of the Council.

While all Grange members in Coos county are welcome, at Council meetings, they are of special importance to all officers of the Pomona and subordinate granges. A short meeting of the Bridge Grange will be held prior to the Council session, it was stated.
