B. P. W. Has Big Sister System

Naomi Crews, second vice president of the Business and Professional Woman's club, conducted the business meeting of the organization held Monday evening at Guild hall. As an innovation, each member responding to the roll call gave a brief description of her job. Another new idea instituted in the club by Florence Barton, chairman of the membership committee, is the Big Sister system, which provides each member with a club sister. The two sisters race to see which will call the other first concerning club meetings. Mrs. Barton's idea has caused much favorable comment among other clubs, especially those where attendance has not been satisfactory. Announcement was made that $60.00 had been cleared on the club's recent rummage sale. Yearbooks, which had been planned by a committee composed of Harriet Oelka, chairman, Leona Bryant, Bertha Smith and Margarita Brodie, were passed out to all members. A committee, headed by Clara Stauff, assisted by Saima Caughell and Inez Chase, was appointed to go over the constitution and by-laws of the club and make recommendations for necessary changes at the next meeting. Joyce Owen and Patricia Peart were voted in as new members.

Members attending the meeting were Saima Caughell, Ida Owen, Ruth Beyers, Clara Stauff, Ida Oerding, Annie Robinson, Inez Chase, Georgia Richmond, Bertha Smith, Dale Claver, Inez Rover, Eva Stevens, Cherie Mae Hartwell, Mae Barton, Florence Hallock, Florence Barton, Margarita Brodie, Hazel Hanna, Edith Walton, Edna Robison, Clara Little, Viola Newton, Belle Knife, LaVerne Knife, Ruth Toyne and Ethel Roop.
