

C. of C. Provides Christmas Cheer

As you go down the streets of your own Coquille town, aren't you just quite a bit pleased and proud to know that the business men here are mainly responsible for making it the best decorated little city of its size (and perhaps many much larger) in the state.

When you look about and compare it with other places and hear the favorable comment by strangers from other states, you may even appreciate it more so.

There is much more work involved in preparing, installing and dismantling of Christmas street decorations than most folks might believe. The little group of seven or eight, who did the actual work and furnished all the material will only receive a rather low wage rate for their one week of hard labor.

If you have not yet had an opportunity to add your bit toward helping to beautify your good old home town and thereby join in spreading a little more Christmas cheer, we shall be glad to hear from you.

Mrs. O. C. Sanford For State President

Accompanying a picture of Mrs. Oliver C. Sanford of this city, in the Women's Activities section of the Oregonian yesterday, was an article by that paper's club editor, concerning the endorsement by the Coquille Woman's Club of Mrs. Sanford as a candidate for president of the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs at the annual meeting to be held next June in Corvallis. The article follows:

Mrs. Oliver C. Sanford of Coquille was endorsed Tuesday by the Coquille Woman's club as its candidate for president of the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs, which will elect new officers next spring. Mrs. Sanford, who is one of Coos county's best-known clubwomen, is the first announced candidate for a federation post at the coming election, which will be a highlight of the state convention at Corvallis in early June. News that she is definitely in the running to succeed Mrs. Harold D. Peterson of Dallas in the federation's top job will be of interest to clubwomen in every part of the state.

The club's action Tuesday endorsing Mrs. Sanford followed a vote taken by its executive board last week approving her candidacy.

Mrs. Sanford is serving now as first vice-president on Mrs. Peterson's board, a post to which she was elected at the Pendleton convention in 1938. Before that she was for two years the chairman for its law enforcement division, for another two years a member of its second district board. She has been a member of the Coquille club since 1910, filling all of its important chairmanships and offices and serving as its president in 1936. The Coquille club, by the way, which was organized in 1902 and affiliated with the state federation in 1903, had not had a state officer elected from its membership until Mrs. Sanford was chosen for the first vice-presidency nearly three years ago.

In addition to her club service, Mrs. Sanford has been active in fraternal organizations, serving for two years as guardian of Bethel No. 15 of Job's Daughters and as worthy matron of the Eastern Star. She has been actively identified, too, with civic affairs in Coquille since she went there to make her home in the early years of her marriage. Mr. Sanford has been for many years a prominent banker and a lawyer in Coos county.

Mrs. George Chaney, who is president of the Coquille Woman's club this year, will direct its efforts on behalf of Mrs. Sanford's candidacy.

McKinley News

Elizabeth Christensen, local teacher, has had a severe cold but is still teaching. There are five children absent.

One hundred and twenty 3-C enrollees are suffering from the mild flu that has been sweeping the western states.

Lee Mast spent a few days in the hospital receiving treatment for the flu. Mrs. Mast has been quite ill, too, but is now convalescing at home. Mrs. Lyman King, the Mast's daughter, has been caring for her parents.

When Mr. Jackson was injured at the Levison Mill, he was taken to the hospital for treatment. Mr. Levison took him in and on returning brought Lee Mast home from the hospital.

W. W. Lawhorn and R. H. Lawhorn accompanied friends on a goose hunt in Klamath Falls area.

Glen Hutton, the McKinley mail carrier, is being assisted with the heavy holiday mails by Mr. Culver, of Bridge.

Mrs. W. W. Lawhorn and Mrs. Kenneth Hansen were business callers in Marshfield Monday.

McKinley had a real touch of winter Monday night when the temperature dropped to twenty-three degrees.

Friends of Mrs. H. L. Hansen will be glad to know that she is recovering from the effects of a bad fall.

McGinty Not Salty

Manager Wood of the Liberty Theatre would like it known that his next attraction, "The Great McGinty," the new Paramount picture which plays at his Theatre Friday and Saturday is not a sea story. As a matter of fact there is very little, if any, water in the whole story.

"Most people, it seems, remember something about a song that went, 'Down Went McGinty to the bottom of the sea'—and that's all," says Mr. Wood, and continues, "even that McGinty wasn't seafaring, nor did he go down to the bottom of the sea until the last verse."

The screen's McGinty gets to the bottom of most everything but the sea, and he's glad to clear this matter up for Mr. Wood.
