"Bundles for Britain"—the telephone wires are stringing the words about town, every sewing circle is passing them around, and they make a bridge of conversation across every card table. Had the Social Calendar listed all the benefit parties already scheduled for the fund, it would have filled a column. At Mrs. McClary's benefit bridge Tuesday, Mrs. Greenough planned two tables for today. Christie Thrift and Lucille McEniry are having four tables at Christie's Friday afternoon. Eighty card players will congregate at Guild hall Monday afternoon when Mesdames Boober, Ziegler, Ralph Taylor, Vaughan, Berg, Maynard, Jeub, Stewart, Rackleff and Kline combine their efforts to enlist aid for England.

During a telephone conversation with Mrs. Ralph Taylor, she said that she was rounding up pinochle players to start a series of B. 4 B. (Bundles for Britain) parties.

Though Mrs. J. R. Bunch could not be reached to verify the report, several sources affirm that she is beginning to assemble guests for a benefit sewing party. To assure that local aid will have the best possible organization, two knitting experts are executives of our Bundles for Britain unit. Eva Currie is the president and Bonnie Walker is knitting chairman. Mrs. Charles Stauff is the treasurer.

An all-day quilting party was enjoyed by members of the Myrtle club, who met Thursday with Margaret Southmayd, who served a delicious and hearty noon dinner for the busy quilters. Guests at the quilting bee were Mrs. Don Schmidt, Mrs. George Hoffmann, Mrs. Frank Southmayd, Joyce Anderson and Glen Kierstien. Myrtle club members present were Mesdames Alice Standley, Lorene Chard, Ruth Varney, Margaret Mullin, Aina Eckholm, Ina Sandine, Bertha Edwards, Pearl Ruble, Edna Anderson and Margaret Southmayd.

At a lovely party Saturday evening, Mrs. Ralph Taylor complimented Mrs. Drue Cunningham and Mr. Taylor, both of whom celebrated their birthdays the latter part of the week. Several bright bouquets of yellow acacia lent their color to the gaiety of the scene. Mrs. Rudy Johnson and J. L. Stevens were high scorers at pinochle, while Mrs. Cunningham and C. Vernon Smith were consoled. Mr. Smith won the traveling prize.

An attractive and delicious buffet supper was enjoyed after the cards. Among the buffet items were two birthday cakes, one for each of the honored guests. Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Harry Todd, Rudy Johnson, J. L. Stevens, Drue Cunningham, Lee Hand, C. Vernon Smith and Ralph Taylor.

An impromptu dessert-pinochle party was given Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Ernest Whereat. As so often happens with spur-of-the-moment parties, it was a huge success. Mrs. Jay Carter won first prize, Mrs. Ted Snyder, consolation, and Mrs. E. C. Yarbrough, traveling prize. The guests were Mesdames S. A. Morris, E. C. Yarbrough, D. G. Ireland, Jay Carter, Edna Stewart, Val Hartless and Ted Snyder.

Members of the Saturday Evening bridge club gathered at the Harold Ziegler home this week for a 4:30 potluck dinner, before their bridge session. Mrs. R. E. Boober was the evening's bridge champion. Guests of the club were Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Pierce. Members present were Messrs. and Mesdames W. E. Bosserman, R. E. Boober and Harold Ziegler.

Mrs. Frank Thrift entertained the members of the Duplicate club Friday afternoon. Following a delicious dessert luncheon, served at the dining table, which was covered with a handsome lace cloth and carried a centerpiece of crisp, lavender blossomed heather, everyone took turns at the duplicate boards.

Mrs. Thrift and Mrs. A. E. Collier were the high scoring couple while Mrs. H. W. Pierce and Mrs. George Maynard were second high. Mrs. Maynard was a guest invited for the afternoon's play. Members present were Mesdames A. B. Collier, H. W. Pierce, Ed McKeown, U. E. McClary, R. E. Boober, Albert Powers and Frank Thrift.

Emma Ellis, who recently announced her engagement to Phillip O'Brien, was delightfully surprised Thursday evening when Mrs. Ray Mattoon, Helen Brandt and Eileen Kendall gave a miscellaneous bridal shower for her at the Ed Morris home. After friends, who gathered for the party, had seen the attractive and useful gifts brought to Miss Ganser, they played pinochle. Refreshments were served late in the evening to the following: Mesdames Sandy O'Brien, Harold Dey, Bill Matetka, Ambrose Caudie, R. T. Sliester, Irwin Woodward, E. H. Souder, Clinton Bess, Nita Martin, Ed Morris, Ray Mattoon, the Misses Emma Ellis, Eileen Kendall and Helen Brandt.

Bachelor Girls, at their regular Friday luncheon, increased their ranks with two new members, Eva Schroeder and Dorris Compton, who accepted the pledge. At a brief business meeting, presided over by Marjorie Knight, president, plans were made to meet next Feb. 8 for a dinner party at the hotel and a theatre party. The girls will see "The Mark of Zorro." Members attending the meeting were Margaret Belloni, Carol Young, Vesta Miley, Norene McKeown, Gladys Mays, Ellen Braxton, Lydia Holsten, Maxine Johnson, Rose Matney, Winifred Stone and Marjorie Knight.

Mrs. George Burr, hostess for the Monday evening meeting of members of the Get-Together club, was showered with dish towels by her guests, who chose that nice gesture as their way of saying "Happy Birthday." Mrs. E. E. Benham took home a prize to show that she was the evening's pinochle champion. The door prize was won by Mrs. Jim Towne. Refreshments were served to the following members present: Mesdames E. E. Benham, George Burr, William Jones, Oscar Larson, James McGul-Howard Detlefsen and Keith Kribs. Jim Towne and Melvin Giles.

A pink and white bassinet filled with shower gifts was presented Friday afternoon to Mrs. Keith Kribs at a party given in her honor by Mrs. James Lewellen and Mrs. Eldon Brodie at the home of Mrs. Melden Carl, of Arago. Dainty refreshments were served after everyone had enjoyed seeing Mrs. Kribs' gifts. Invited guests were Mesdames Earl Cross, O. E. Rakestraw, Alex Mackey, Ray Detlefsen, Cedric Cross and Miss Priscilla Hickam, of Coquille, Mesdames Albert Little, Clarence Schroeder, Stanley Halter, Frank Burbank, Melden Carl and Lawrence Rackleff, of Arago, and Mesdames Don Auer, Eldon Brodie and James Lewellen, of Myrtle Point.

Three new members were voted into the N. O. M. A. club Tuesday evening when Mrs. Tom Stevens entertained the group. The new members are Mesdames LeRoy Swinney, fin. Ellis Martindale, Guy Torrey. Mrs. Don Auer won the house prize at the meeting. Members discussed plans for a party to include their husbands which will be given soon. Refreshments were served to the following members present: Mesdames Don Auer, Melden Carl, Ray Detlefsen, Denton Ellingson, Sherman Morris, Harold Stevens, Tom Stevens and Dennis Wagner.

Mrs. L. H. Hazard entertained the members of her bridge club for dessert luncheon and cards Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. U. E. McClary won the high score prize and Mrs. D. E. Rackleff received a guest prize. Members present were Mesdames F. L. Greenough, M. O. Hawkins, U. E. McClary, R. F. Milne, H. W. Pierce, Albert Powers, Ed McKeown and L. H. Hazard.

The members of the Justamere club met Thursday for one o'clock luncheon with Mrs. H. W. Pierce. Sewing and lively conversation filled the afternoon for the following members present: Mesdames R. A. Wernich, M. O. Hawkins, A. J. Sherwood, Jane Williams, H. W. Pierce, Bert Folsom, Leona Bryant, E. E. Johnson and J. A. Lamb.

Linda Clausen's third birthday was a gala event in her life, for her mother, Mrs. Anna Clausen, and father, Mr. J. A. Clausen, have a party to celebrate the important day. After a few games, the children gathered round a low table for refreshments. The young guests all sang "Happy Birthday" to Linda while she blew out the candles on her pink and white birthday cake. Gay crepe paper table accessories were as important to the children as the favors they received. Linda's guests were Donna McClellan, Clifflie Briggs, Rosetta Olson, Freddie Shelton, Fern Leach and Diana Jensen. Mrs. Clausen's guests included Mesdames Jack Leach, Charles Briggs and Mary Olson.
