

"Bundles For Britain" Meeting

Actual organization of the local Bundles for Britain body took place Tuesday evening at Guild hall. Four Marshfield women, Mrs. Charles Feller, Mrs. Edward Shepherd, Mrs. Sam Thomson and Doris Pickard, all of whom are departmental heads in the Bay town's organization, were present to answer questions and outline accepted procedure in the work. Mrs. R. A. Wernich called the meeting to order and presided until officers were elected. Mrs. T. B. Currie was chosen president, Mrs. Charles Stauff, treasurer and Mrs. Ray Jeub, secretary. Mrs. Currie took over the meeting and appointed Mrs. A. O. Walker as knitting chairman. Before the local organization was 15 minutes old, Mrs. Stauff, the treasurer, was able to report a balance in the treasury of $24.17. First contribution was made by Mrs. Sam Thomson, president of the Marshfield group, who gave the treasurer $1 for "Good Luck." Other contributions included $1 from Mrs. Jack Doland, president of the Sixth Column; $5.00, proceeds from Mrs. McClary's party; $6.67 miscellaneous donations; and $10 from the Woman's club.

Mrs. Walker, who has on hand a large supply of the yarn specified for use in Bundles for Britain knitting, is giving approved directions for making garments. Cost of yarn for the various garments runs from 30 cents, which buys the amount necessary to knit mittens, to $1.80 for enough to make a man's turtle-neck sweater. According to the Marshfield visitors, many people who do not wish to knit are paying for yarn which may be used by a worker who does not find it convenient to buy her own.

Next regular meeting of the organization will be held Tuesday at 7:30 at Guild hall. Mrs. Walker will be there with the yarn to start new knitters and to help those already at work. Knitters who wish to start on a garment before Tuesday may call Mrs. Walker at her home.

Beside the four Marshfield women, the meeting was attended by Mesdames Ray Vaughan, T. B. Currie, George Chaney, R. A. Wernich, U. E. McClary, Ed McKeown, A. M. McIntee, Jack Dolan, F. H. McKibben, Charles Stauff, A. O. Walker, Ray Jeub, George Maynard and William Mansell.

In planning the Bundles for Britain bridge party, Mrs. McClary deliberately dispensed with elaborate preparations. The only concession permitted her ingenuity was the coin cup, wrapped bundle fashion in blue calico print, and three similarly wrapped prizes, high score for Mrs. Don McCune, second for Mrs. Frank Thrift and consolation for Mrs. T. B. Currie. Attending the party were Mesdames George Chaney, president of the Woman's club, Ray Vaughan, Junior Woman's club president, T. B. Currie, D. E. Rackleff, Weldon Kline, R. L. Stewart, R. F. Milne, Ralph Taylor, R. E. Boober, F. L. Greenough, R. A. Jeub, W. H. Pierce, Harold Ziegler, Ed McKeown, Don McEniry, Phil Bourns, L. E. Hazard, L. A. Lundquist, Frank Thrift and George Maynard.

Pinochle parties will be launched for people who prefer that game and Mrs. J. R. Bunch will start a series of sewing parties.

C. Of C. Hears Talk On Measures

An attendance of more than a score at the Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting Tuesday noon, heard J. E. Norton, chairman of the chamber's legislative committee, give an instructive and explanatory talk on many of the bills which have been introduced in the legislature at Salem.

One of the many he discussed briefly will, if passed, change the time for redemption of property sold to pay delinquent taxes, from the present year-period to one of 90 days before the sale becomes final. In the same measure the time after delinquency when a lot or tract can be foreclosed for non-payment of taxes will be changed from three years to two if the measure becomes a law.

One bill on which the chamber voted to ask Senator Walsh and Representatives Huggins and Carter to oppose is the "equal rights" bill which would forbid all places of public service the right to refuse service to anyone because of color. Oregon has a very small colored population, most of it in Portland, and there is no need for this piece of legislation being brought up at each session as it has been for years.

Another measure which B. W. Dunn discussed at length was the vocational education bill, which would levy a tax on all school districts in the state, starting at a quarter of a mill the first year and increasing a quarter mill each year for three years, to establish state vocational schools in half a dozen of the larger small cities in the state. Experience proves that the attendance in such schools is 98 or 99 per cent from the district where it is located and that the outlying school districts receive no benefit at all from their tax contributions.

Mr. Dunn said the Coquille district would be required to pay $2000 for establishing such schools. He favors, if vocational education is to be extended by legislative enactment that it be applied to districts of the first class, of which there are 87 in the state, and that each district support its own only.

This bill is not the one being considered to establish junior colleges at many separated places.

Clarence Coe, of Marshfield, was present and was asked to tell of the commission's refusal to give any hint on the time when straightening of the highway between Bunker Hill and Coquille might start, and of the usual sidestepping done when work on Highway 101 is asked.

Last year something over $400,000 was spent on 101, but what good is the Bunker Hill widened approach when this way from there the same old narrow winding strip of concrete must be used.

A new route down the hill through Bandon was laid out—it hasn't been surfaced yet—but the elimination of the curves below Port Orford in Curry, and those between here and Marshfield, seem to be something the highway commissioners cannot bring themselves to start.

One reason advanced was that the national defense commissions are going to insist that all highway construction shall first be on roads leading to military centers.

The Red Devils were not "on" as strenuously in their game with the Pirates in the gym here Tuesday evening as they were in their first tilt with the Bay boys, and for a time the final decision was in doubt. One reason was that Russell Kollar was not connecting with his long shots from mid floor as consistently as he has in some of the previous games, but at that he made two perfect throws of the hair-raising variety.

Marshfield got off to a flying start with two baskets before Coquille got started and the first quarter ended 18 to 9 in favor of the visitors.

The count was knotted 18 all at the half, but in the third Coquille forged to fourpoint lead, 27 to 23, and dropped back only one point in the final frame, the Red Devils' supporters clanging the "victory bell" for a 35-32 win.

Dale Stevens, who has filled the substitute role in all the previous games, played more than three quarters Tuesday night and was an important cog in the Red Devils' defense.

Morin, Marshfield lanky center, was high scorer for the evening with 13 points. McIntee, with 11, was next high.

The Pirates took the "B" squads' preliminary by a 1-13 count.

Bobcats Had Too Much On Ball The First Half

Due to laxity and inefficiency on the part of the officials, the Myrtle Point Bobcats nosed out the Coquille Red Devils in a football game played on the basketball court in the Myrtle Point gym last Friday evening, 46 to 45. It was one of the roughest and wildest games in which the local quint has ever participated and the lighter members of the red and white squad were bowled over like ten pins. Even so the Red Devils could have won out had they caged as large a percentage of their free throws as did the Bobcats. Of the seven personal fouls called on Coquille, Myrtle Point converted four. Coquille converted only one of its six free throws.

Although the Bobcats lead at the end of the hectic first half, 33 to 15, the Devils outscored them 27 to 13 in the second canto.

The same evening the North Bend Bulldogs lost to the Astoria Fishermen at the Bay by a single point, 33-32, in a non-conference game.

Grange Names Building Committee

At the meeting of Coquille Grange No. 396 Friday evening, the following people were chosen as members of the Building committee: Henry George, J. W. Ruble, Ed Detlefsen, Joe Varney, Edna Rakestraw, Ida Oerding and Alice Standley. The chief task of this body will be to raise funds for the construction of a grange hall on the Sanford Heights site purchased last summer. According to present plans, ground will not be broken for the building until there is sufficient cash on hand to complete construction.

Henry George, master, conducted the meeting. He appointed Ruth Varney as the new drill captain. Three officers, George Gilman, and W. L. Kistner, members of the executive committee and Effie Shindoll, lecturer, were installed during the meeting. At a ceremony directed by J. W. Ruble, Joe Varney was presented with a Past Master's pin.

During the social hour which followed the business meeting, Henry George won the "pig in a poke" and Ida Oerding won the flour drawing. Effie Shindoll will superintend arrangements for a Valentine party scheduled for Feb. 7.

Olivers Given One Year

Alfred A. Olivers, who pleaded guilty last week in circuit court to placing his wife in a house of prostitution at the Bay, was sentenced on Tuesday by Judge Brand to a year in the pen. A stay of execution for 30 days was ordered, after which time, spent in the county jail, he will be placed on probation for five years.

Riverton Loses Two To Junior Hi

The Riverton school and the Coquille Junior High boys' basketball quintets and the girls' volleyball team from each school met for the second time this month, last Saturday, on the gym floor here. The Riverton squads both won at the first meeting, but last Saturday the Junior High teams won both games, the girls 37 to 33, and the boys 11 to 10. Sammy Kramer, with eight points, was high scorer.

Next Saturday the regular and the midget basketball teams of Junior Hi will play Bandon teams down there.

Debate Squad Determined To Regain Lost Championship

(Coquille Hi-Times)

Coquille High School debaters have started their work for the year on one of the most potent questions: "Resolved, that the Federal Government should have more power." In these days of dictatorships and threatened dictatorships such a topic should easily arouse much argument. Among the debaters who have reported for work this year are Jerry Butler, who is a two year letterman; Tom Martin, a member of last year's team; Patty Brady, Louise Butler, and Andrew Briner. Several others have signified their intention of entering the fray.

The plan this year is the same as it has been for the past few years. The Coos County Schoolmasters' Club is sponsoring a tournament, to be preceded by a number of practice debates. These will be held on February 11 and 13.

Mrs. Beyers, the debate coach, when asked concerning the prospects for the year, said that the prospects for this year are good, and that the squad members are trying hard to regain the county championship which they lost last year after having held it for six consecutive years. Whatever happens, we know that Coquille High School is behind all her teams.

Sues Because He Could Not Get The Rent

In a suit filed last Thursday in circuit court by Robert C. Train, Mrs. Lena V. Alley and E. A. Brayton are named the defendants.

In his allegations the plaintiff states that he was engaged to move a house on North Taylor, belonging to Mrs. Alley—the one which was moved back from the highway—build a septic tank, a retaining wall, and do other things to put the place in shape. For this he received a down payment of $400 and was to receive the balance of $300 from the monthly rentals from the house. But before there was any rent money paid him, he alleges that the house was torn down. He is suing for $654.

Budgets, Account Books Help

Farm families in Coos county have proved during the past year that budgets and account books are essential for better farm and home living, according to Norman Fletcher, county FSA supervisor, Coquille.

Three account book meetings were held during the past week at which time the 1940 account books were summarized. The 1941 account books were started after explaining the account book program to new borrowers.

These farm families report that keeping current records enables them to know at all times their exact financial status. Moreover, a summary and analysis of accounts at the end of the operating year are necessary in planning operations for the coming year.
