J. G. W. club members, who live in various parts of the county, gathered Friday at the home of Mrs. Marvin Lyons of Marshfield, where they were entertained by Mrs. C. E. Huling and Mrs. Lyons, at a delightful luncheon. As is the J. G. W. custom, the group spent the afternoon sewing. Mrs. L. W. Oddy was a guest. Members present included Mesdames Bert Folsom, L. L. Rosa, J. A. Lamb, Jane Williams, Birdie Skeels, E. E. Johnson, E. W. Lorenz, J. E. Norton, Ella Walstrom of Bandon, C. J. Fuhrman of Sixes, Marvin Lyons and C. E. Huling of Marshfield.

Mrs. Guy Mauney, on Saturday evening, gave a birthday party for her sister, Margaret Paulson. The guests were entertained in the playroom. They played "Indications," a new variation of the old game of charades and made records on the new record maker and phonograph, which was Mr. Paulson's birthday present for Margaret. At midnight, a buffet supper was served to the invited guests, who included Messrs. and Mesdames Tallant Greenough, Stanley Ayres, Phillip Anderson, Misses Mary Margaret Gedney, Marjorie Knight, Carol Young, Vesta Milley, Messrs. David Smith Bill Pook, Don Smith, Ham Thrift, and Dr. Marshall Kennedy.

Organized two weeks ago, the newest Friday pinochle club met this week with Mrs. Fred Grant for desert luncheon. At the current meeting, the club was named The Three S's. Discussion of a club name took place at the dining table, which was decorated with a bouquet of narcissus. Mrs. Charles Mentzer won the door prize, while Mrs. Oscar Larson took first prize and Mrs. John Fisher, consolation. Those present were Mesdames Orville Hughes, Oscar Larson, Glen Jones, Woodrow Jones, John Shoemate, Charles Mentzer, John Fisher and Fred Grant.

Mrs. Don Estes was hostess for the current Tuesday Night club party. First prize at bridge was won by Mrs. O. T. Gant and second prize by Mrs. Julius Ruble. Mrs. Estes served refreshments when her guests had finished their bridge match. Mrs. T. K. Foss substituted for Mrs. Kenneth Kistner. Regular members present were Mesdames J. E. Axtell, Lanis Bosworth, O. T. Gant, Kenneth Kistner, Walter Litsenberger, Julius Ruble, Ed Walker and Fred Watson.

Mrs. M. Morrot entertained the members of her club at a bridge luncheon Friday. Fragrant violets made a pleasing centerpiece. Members of the party were Mesdames A. L. Burch, Bill Boell, Frank Dungey, Bill Peart, Gene Cole, Mae Ensele and Maggie Simmons of Eureka.

Members of the Three Links Sewing club were entertained Tuesday by Mrs. T. S. Stevens. During a short business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Tom Brown, president, plans were discussed for the club's annual bazaar. All sewing, during the afternoon was new articles for the bazaar. Mrs.

Stevens served tea to the group. The trays of cookies and small cakes were festively decorated in honor of St. Valentine. Those present were Mesdames E. E. Stephens, Tom Brown, E. E. Boober, Tom Erickson, Val Harless, George Holbrook, Irving Larson, Fred Schaar, Hobart Schaar, Ed Tuel, Sherman Morris and the Misses Edna Bates and Edith Gruenwald.

Mrs. Graydon Crews entertained at desert bridge Friday evening. Reflecting the general trend of national consciousness, Mrs. Crews emphasized the patriotic note in her decorations and color scheme. Favours and tally cards were red, white and blue, and blue violets made the floral part of the centerpiece. Hazel Hanna won a prize for high score and Alberta Tyrrell was given a guest prize. Those present were Mesdames Bob Nelson, Glen Claver, Ralph Cochran, Hazel Hanna, Alberta Tyrrell and the Misses Norene McKeown and Ellen Braxton.

After practice Tuesday evening, the members of the Drill team of Manie Rebekah lodge gave a handkerchief shower for their captain, Ena Harless. As an additional surprise, they served refreshments. Drill team members planning the informal party for Mrs. Harless were Myrtle Benham, Evelyn Eriabin, Frances Brown, Bernice Clark, Lillian Clark, Outhryn Erickson, Edith Gruenwald, Bertha Holbrook, Merle Kellenberger, Helen Larson, Iola Moore, Harriet Schaar, Mildred Schaar, Lois Fenn, Wilda Mae VanMeter, Eileen Kendall and Dora Kendall.

Mrs. George Griggs on Friday gave a small party for her little daughter, Nancy, who was three years old that day. Nancy had three guests, one for each of her years. The four children were served birthday cake and ice cream at a child-sized dining table which was decorated with gay favours and brightly colored balloons. During the party, Mrs. Griggs took technical moving pictures of Nancy and her guest, who were Linda Lou Gamblin, Gerald Wilson and Gene Simpson. The mothers, Mesdames Tom Gamblin, Levi Wilson and Paul Simpson, attended the party too.

Church Societies

Hostesses for Wednesday's meeting of St. James Guild were Mrs. H. N. Lorenz and Mrs. John Martin. During the business meeting there was a discussion of plans for a public card party to be given Feb. 18, at the Guild hall. Lucky winners of prizes at the drawing were Rev. C. M. Guilbert, who won two prizes, Mrs. Charles Stauff, Mrs. Bert Folsom, Mrs. H. N. Lorenz, Mrs. C. Vernon Smith and Mrs. F. A. Pook. The two members of the hostess committee served refreshments to the following Guild members: Mesdames Bert Folsom, Gosline, Martha Gratke, C. M. Guilbert, L. H. Hazard, E. W. Lorenz, H. N. Lorenz, Wm. Mansell, John Martin, Ida Owen, Robert Plieth, F. A. Pook, Annie Robinson, Julius Ruble, Charles Stauff, A. J. Sherwood, C. Vernon Smith, A. O. Walker, James Watson and R. L. Stewart.

Mrs. M. R. Kramer entertained Friday evening at a benefit pinochle party for the Holy Name Altar society. The two first prizes were won by Mrs. Thomas Gamblin and Frank Shea, while consolation were won by Mrs. M. J. McCarthy and Carl Alwert. Refreshments were served to the following: Messrs and Mesdames J. L. Stevens, Howard Pointer, Bob Geaney, Carl Alwert, Thomas Gamblin, John Norton, Merle Kramer, Mesdames Kathryn Shea, M. J. McCarthy, Tharon Thornton, Miss Jane Kramer and Messrs. Frank Shea and Bill Knox.

New officers of the Holy Name Altar society were elected Sunday at a business meeting held after church services. Mrs. John Norton is the new president. Mrs. Thomas Gamblin, vice president and Mrs. Carl Alwert, secretary. Mrs. Norton was appointed chairman for a public card party, which will be held before Lent. Party executives include Mrs. Evelyn LaBarge and Mrs. Ritchie, refreshments; Mrs. Tharon Thornton and Mrs. N. J. McCarthy, tickets; Mrs. LeNorme Pownder, prizes; Mrs. Norbert Bruggeman, tables; Mrs. Ed McKeown, bridge; and Mrs. Carl Alwert, pinochle.

The Study club of the W. S. C. S. of Pioneer Methodist church held a meeting Thursday at the home of Mrs. Birdie Skeels. Club members arrived at noon to share a potluck dinner. The program, arranged by Mrs. George Taylor, was composed of a variety of interesting features. Mrs. Leonard Peterson read a poem, entitled "The Genesis of the Exodus." Mrs. Clarion Gourmley sang the solo "I Will Follow Thee," and later in the program gave a talk on the subject,

"The Church Serving the Emigrant." Mrs. Leonard Peart gave a poem, which was followed by a talk entitled "Youth on the Highway," presented by Mrs. W. P. Laws. Mrs. H. J. Jensen spoke on the subject "The Family Pulls up Stakes," and Mrs. Walter Oerding's subject was "Ministering to Shifting Populations. Those present were Mesdames Eli-
