Blood For Britain—Every week, 300 or more quarts of a thick, almost colorless liquid are being shipped across the Atlantic to England. It is not a life destroyer; this is a life-saver. It is blood plasma, the fluid part of human blood. Six hundred donors in America are each week giving up a sixth to a quarter of their blood for the aid of—who knows whom? And more stand ready to do the same, should need arise—Norman Commerville, Chairman—Canadian Red Cross, in the February Rotarian magazine.

Smaller Amount Phosphate Available

To assist in establishing better stands of perennial grasses and legumes and to increase the percentage of clover in the mixture, four car loads, including 190 tons of treble superphosphate arrived in Coos county the past week for use as a conservation material through the Agricultural Conservation Program. While some of the phosphate was taken directly from the cars by farmers who had placed orders for it, a supply has been stored in Coquille and in Marshfield where it will be available as long as it lasts to others by contacting the county agricultural agent who is secretary of the local association.

During the past year 444 tons of the treble superphosphate was furnished by the government for use on over 750 farms. While a few reported to the county office and to supervisors checking compliance that they were able to detect no benefits from its application, most of the reports showed favorable results. Since less than one-half of the amount used last year will be available during 1941 for distribution on a larger number of farms, those who are interested in securing phosphate this year are urged by the county committee to make arrangements for it early.

Ground shell is expected to be available to co-operators in this program as a conservation material again during 1941. As soon as the bid submitted by the local association is approved, the ground shell can be distributed as a grant of aid, it was reported. On this basis, committee-man pointed out that the allowance is enough even on the smaller tracts, to pay for a full load of four tons of the ground shell and to pay part or all of the cost of hauling, depending on the distance from the shell plant. Arrangements should be made for the ground shell at the county agent's office where the necessary forms are available and can be mailed to co-operators upon request.

"Dads" To Gather At U. of O.

In the minds of more than 3,500 students at the University of Oregon in Eugene, every highway, railroad and airway in the the Northwest will lead to the University of Oregon next week end to transport their fathers through the newly-installed campus entrance gates to the fourteenth annual "Dad's Day" weekend.

The February 7-9 period will follow out the theme of "The gates are open, Dad!" to fit in with the new attraction which now fronts East Eleventh avenue at the northwest corner of the campus. The dads have a special claim on the green wrought-iron gates, since the fathers' organization was the leading impetus behind the drive to raise funds for the project.

Calling cards, 50 for $1.00.

Townsend Club

The Coquille Townsend club met for regular business session Tuesday, with president Fred Von Pegert, in the chair.

Several new members were brought in at this time. The county caravan of clubs will meet at North Bend, Sunday, Feb. 23. Lets have a good crowd.

Don't forget next Tuesday the 11th, is the date for the basket social. Be sure not to miss this event, ladies bring baskets. Sandwiches and coffee were served to those present. Fifty in number. Mrs. J. W. Bryan won the door prize.
