

Philharmonic Concert In Portland, February 18

Interesting and diverting music, with the pointer toward the Portland premiere of Jaoimr Weinberger's Prelude and Fuge on "Dixie," will be heard at the Portland Philharmonic concert Tuesday, February 18, in the public auditorium. Dainty melodies of the Paderewski Minuet in G, programmed to celebrate the golden anniversary of the Polish composer's American debut, will mingle with the familiar tune of Dixie in concert garb, and with the overture to the opera, "The Flying Dutchman" by Wagner on the second half of the program. First half will be devoted to the Tchaikovsky symphony No. 4 and a short talk on "Paderewski, the Musician and Patriot," by Countess Morag Zamoyka, wife of a Polish count in German captivity.

Weinberger, a Czech-Slovakian, arrived in the United States in 1939 after the music of his nation had been banned in Germany and the countries under its domination. In one year, with the shelter and security offered by his adopted country, this prolific contemporary wrote more than a score of compositions.

The Philharmonic box office opens Friday at Sherman, Clay & Co.

Camp Fire Girls

Each Campfire group elected new officers at last week's meetings. Girls heading the Tando group, led by Mrs. Charles Meyers and Miss Ethel Roop, are Anne Harbison, president; Donna Mae Howe, vice president; Carol Jean Gray, secretary; Nancy Haga, song leader, and Sally Bonney, sergeant at arms. The Tando girls are working on their headbands and assembling books of leaves from local trees. Some of the leaves are dried and pasted in the books, while others are sketched.

Calling cards, 50 for $1.00.

Parkersburg News

Fritz Hull of Marshfield spent Sunday on the creek calling on friends. Fritz is proprietor of a meat market in Marshfield.

John Haga is razing his cabins at the Bear Creek Service Station. Willis Van Leuven, Don Fellows and Clint Fellows are doing the work. Mr. Haga plans to use some of the lumber in the store at Myrtle Point and some of it at his own home at the top of Bear Creek hill.

The Parkersburg Community club will meet at the home of Mrs. Gladys Bernetz next Wednesday, Feb. 19. Visitors are cordially invited. At this meeting plans will be completed for the club's part in the program to be given at Riverton, Feb. 28, for the benefit of the school cafeteria fund.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Culver left for Eugene Tuesday morning. They plan to be gone several days and visit a brother at Eugene and a sister in Portland. Mr. Culver took a tailor load of day-old calves to his brother.

Mrs. Norris and two sons came in from California Sunday to visit at the home of her brother, Edgar Gillespie. Junior and Lawrence have entered school and plan to make their home with their uncle this summer.

1940 Production Fox and Mink

One million dollars was added to Oregon's 1940 income by the development of the fox and mink industry, members of the Coquille Unit of the Fox and Mink Breeders association learned Sunday at a day-long meeting held at the George Steward place. These figures were revealed in a bulletin issued recently by the Department of Agriculture.

Mrs. C. M. Hartwell, a director in the state association, reported on business discussed at a directors' meeting held early in January. Among proposed changes in the state association's by-laws, only one may effect the local unit. This unit, the largest in the state, embraces Coos, Curry, Douglas, Josephine and Jackson counties. According to Mrs. Hartwell, there was some discussion at the directors' meeting in regard to reducing the size of the Coquille unit. Due to comparatively small number of breeders, within the district, Mrs. Hartwell believed that the boundaries would not be subject to change.

The annual meeting, Mrs. Hartwell announced, will be held March 1 at Salem.

SOCIAL NOTES

The Bachelor Girls held their first evening party Thursday. Meeting for dinner at the hotel, they attended "The Mark of Zorro" at the Roxy. Helen Lund was taken into the club. "Cokes" for the crowd were set up by L. W. Claver, manager of the Roxy. Three guests, Jane Brault, Jean Polson and Bessie Christiansen, attended the dinner and theatre party. Members present were Marjorie Knight, Vesta Milley, Carol Young, Aloha Allen, Doris Compton, Winifred Stone, Patricia Peart, Eileen Kendall, Maxine Johnson, Margaret Belloni, Norene McKeown, Rose Matney, Gladys Mays, Harriet Webb, Ellen Braxton and Lydia Holstien.

Members of the Myrtle club were entertained Thursday by Mrs. Bertha Edwards. A short business meeting, was followed by sewing. Mrs. Edwards served tea to her guests who were Tessie Ruble and club members who included Mesdames Edna Anderson, Helen Anderson, Faye Darby, Aina Eckholm, Margaret Mullin, Pearl Ruble, Ina Sandine, Margaret Southymayd, Alice Standley, Ruth Varney and Angie Yoakum.

Valentine games were high entertainment Friday evening for members of the Past Noble Grands, who gathered at the home of Mrs. Birdie Skeels. Assisting Mrs. Skeels in planning the party were Mrs. Inez Chase and Ethel Roop. Prizes for skill at the games were won by Mesdames Estelle Dunn, Florabelle Boober and Flora Dunne. Ida Oerding, president of the club, conducted a short business meeting before the fun started. Mrs. Skeels and Mrs. Chase served refreshments to the following members: Mesdames Estelle Dunn, Flora Dunn, Maude Green, Lenora Hunt, Hester Holverstott, Bertha Holbrook, Jennie Price, Myrtle Noah, Annie Robinson, Harriet Schaefer, Birdie Minard of Spokane, Florabelle Boober and the Misses Ethel Roop and Ida Oerding.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Ball observed their fifty-fourth wedding anniversary last Wednesday. In observance of the happy occasion, Mrs. Frank Thrift, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ball, gave a dinner party. Those who joined in the celebration were Messrs. and Mesdames M. O. Hawkins, Frank Thrift, the honored guests, Mr. and Mrs. Ball, Mrs. Sarah P. Thrift and Tom Thrift.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Clausen gathered at the Clausen home Saturday evening for pinocle. To the George McClellans went undisputed honors, for Mrs. McClellan held high score for women, while her husband was the high scoring man. Mrs. Carl Gilbert and Dan Fish were consoled. Charles Briggs was the lucky winner of the traveling prize. Saving best till last, Mrs. Clausen served a midnight lunch of homemade chicken tamales and fresh-baked cloverleaf rolls. The guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Charles Briggs, George McClellan, Carl Gilbert, Dan Fish and Phil Bourns.

Many members of St. James' Guild drove to Bandon Tuesday for the luncheon and party given by members of St. James Guild for the local group. The party was held at Bandon's Legion hall, which was festively decorated in tune with the Valentine theme. Mrs. Ida Owen and Mrs. Lee Hand each won a door prize, while Mrs. E. W. Lorenz won first prize at bridge and Mrs. Leona Bryant, playing the same game, took the consolation prize.

Members of St. James Guild attending the party were Mesdames Bert Folsom, L. H. Hazard, H. Lorenz, E. W. Lorenz, Annie Robinson, Martha Gratke, A. O. Walker, Charles Stauff, Robert Plith, F. A. Pook, Ida Owen, James Watson, Leona Bryant, H. W. Pierce, L. L. Rosa, George Laird, Clara Pierce, C. T. Selbig, John Martin, Lee Hand, A. J. Sherwood, C. V. Smith and Rev. C. M. Guilbert.

At the current meeting of the Saturday Evening bridge club, which met for dessert with Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Boober, Don McCune rolled up top score. Club members enjoying the party were Messrs. and Mesdames W. E. Bosserman, Harold Ziegler, Don McCune and R. E. Boober.

If, at a party, a prize were given to the person who could make the most words out of the name "Ruth Sherwood," could you guess for whom the party was given. You're right. Mrs. Oscar Larson, on Thursday evening gave a surprise birthday party for Mrs. George (Ruth) Sherwood. Archie Walker, by the way, won the word game. Pinocle and paper games filled the rest of the evening. Mrs. Larson served refreshments at card tables, which were lighted with small hurricane lamps. Mrs. Sherwood received birthday remembrances from the guests, who were Messrs. and Mesdames Bert Sanders, A. O. Walker, Harold Huddle, Frank Fish, Lee Hand, George Sherwood, Oscar Larson and Mesdames Fred Kunz and Grace C. Phean, of Aberdeen.

Mrs. Jay Carter, who had a birthday last week, was given presents Thursday by each of the members of the Charta club, who were entertained at luncheon by Mrs. Walter Paulson. Prizes at pinocle, for the afternoon, were won by Mrs. Ernest Whereat, first; Mrs. Ted Snyder, consolation, and Mrs. Val Harless, traveler. Mrs. E. C. Yarbrough substituted at the meeting. Members present were Mesdames Jay Carter, Val Harless, D. G. Ireland, Edna Stewart, Ted Snyder, Ernest Whereat and Walter Paulson.

Mrs. Paul Simpson and Miss Jennie Lafferty, co-hostesses Thursday afternoon for the regular meeting of the Dorcas Division of the Church of Christ Missionary society, entertained at the Simpson home. They served dessert luncheon before members of the church group took up their business meeting, which was conducted by Mrs. V. L. Bailey. During the meeting, members drew names to determine devotion leaders for the remainder of the year. Mrs. Levi Wilson, who led devotions at Thursday's meeting, asked each member to quote a love verse from the Bible, an innovation in recognition of St. Valentine's day.

Time after the business meeting was spent working on dish towels, which the group sells for 20 and 25 cents, depending upon the size and amount of handwork on the article.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Fred Probst and Mrs. George Grigg. Members present were Mesdames Levi Wilson, Don Shores, John Boots, Irvin McKee, Amos Paine, Walter Newton, Fred Martin, Doffus Bash, Elwyn Nosler, V. L. Bailey, Alton Dungey, Belle Hooton, Harold McCas, E. H. O'Dell, Jerry Peart, Paul Simpson, W. A. Sloan, Art Towne and Miss Jennie Lafferty.

Mrs. E. E. Johnson was assisted Thursday in entertaining members of the Justamere club by her daughter, Mrs. Charles Kash. Luncheon was served at an attractive table, decorated with a white pottery group which included a figure holding Japanese Quince blossoms and pottery candle holders carrying white tapers.

While club members were sewing, Mrs. Kash showed some of the chic clothing she is handling on consignment from her sister-in-law's specialty shop in Los Angeles. Members present were Mesdames Leona Bryant, Bert Folsom, F. L. Greenough, M. O. Hawkins, L. H. Hazard, J. A. Lamb, H. W. Pierce, O. C. Sanford, A. J. Sherwood, J. L. Smith, R. A. Wernich, Jane Williams and H. A. Young.

The jonquils in the J. A. Lamb yard underwent a blitzkrieg Monday when Mrs. Lamb raided the garden for flowers to decorate her home for the Monday Night club dinner party and bridge. Proof of the success of her attack was found in the lavish bouquets decorating the living room and the attractive bouquet of spring flowers on the dinner table.

News was made when Mrs. H. W. Pierce was awarded the consolation prize. Mrs. J. L. Smith held the proper cards to entitle her to honor prize and Mrs. Edna Hartson won the prize for high score. Members present were Mesdames Bert Folsom, Edna Hartson, E. W. Lorenz, Muri Pettit, H. W. Pierce, J. L. Smith and Jane Williams.

Mrs. Carol Helvie, on her birthday Friday, entertained the members of her birthday club, who combined in giving her a very nice present. Mrs. Helvie served birthday cake and other refreshments at the tea hour to the following club members: Mesdames A. O. Culbertson, Charles Culbertson, Gordon Epps, William Gaffey, Wayne Goodman, Charles Lewis, Leslie McElhaney, Ed Morris, Ealie Oddy, Ivan Shuck and Albert Wells.

Spring flowers made a gay centerpiece at the dining table where Mrs. Jack McLaren on Tuesday served dessert luncheon to members of her Pinocle club. Mrs. Ernest Whereat became the club's newest member. Mrs. Mollie Wersh, a guest, won the travelling prize, while Mrs. Charles Lewis took first prize and Mrs. Albert Wells received second. Members present were Mesdames A. O. Culbertson, Ralph Hurlbutt, A. A. Kyle, Charles Lewis, Leslie McElhaney, Ralph Menning, Jack McLaren, Albert Wells, Roy Wheeler, Ed Yarbrough and Ernest Whereat.

Second in the series of benefit parties for the Holy Name Altar society was given Saturday evening by Mrs. Thomas Gamblin. At pinocle, prizes were won by Mrs. Carl Alwert, high woman, Frank Shea, high man. Mrs. Catherine Shea, women's consolation, and Bob McCarthy, men's consolation. The Gamblin home was attractively decorated with floral arrangements made of Japanese quince and spiras.

Guests at the party were Messrs.

and Mesdames Norbert Bruggeman, John Norton, George Griggs, Merle Kramer, Wilbur Ritchie, Thomas Gamblin, Mesdames Catherine Shea, Carl Alwert, M. J. McCarthy, Miss Jane Kramer and Messrs. Frank Shea and Bob McCarthy.

The Holy Name Altar society met Tuesday evening. Newly elected officers conducted their first meeting, which was given over mainly to discussion of the public card party scheduled for Feb. 22 at the Coquille Hotel. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Thomas Gamblin. Luxuriant bouquets of bright daffodils added their loveliness to the meeting. Members present were Mesdames John Norton, Carl Alwert, M. J. McCarthy, Catherine Shea, Bob Geaney, Marian Anderson, Denning, Wilbur Ritchie, Merle Kramer, Norbert Bruggeman, Evelyn LaBarge, John Mather, Miss Jane Kramer and Father Daniel K. Kelly.
