

Minor Mention

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Morris expect to leave Friday for San Francisco and Oakland for a few weeks' visit. They will also visit a sister of his in Medford on their way home.

Mrs. Clarence Barton of Miss May's Shop left Sunday on a buying trip to Seattle. She was joined at Eugene by Mary Margaret Gedney, who is employed at the shop and had gone out the day before.

M. F. Pettit of J. A. Lamb Co. is expected home today from a trip to Portland on which he left Friday evening. A three day hardware dealers' convention was held there the first of this week.

Mrs. R. W. Pullen, of Granite Falls, Wash., accompanied by Mrs. A. Tucker of Arlington, Wash., and William Miller, was a Coquille visitor during the past week. Although here primarily on business in connection with her timber claims, she took time out to look up her old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Bard Kesner, of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Miller, of Bandon. Before returning home they will visit relatives in Medford.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Fitzpatrick came down from Newport Saturday evening and left for home again Monday morning. Fitz says he has a nice business in the seaside town, excellent equipment and that he is very much pleased with the location.

Ivyn Murray, son of Mrs. Roy Wheeler, returned Wednesday from Los Angeles.

Marjorie Knight visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Knight of Eugene, over the week-end. She drove up there with Mr. and Mrs. John Belloni, of Myrtle Point.

Lunelle Chapin spent the week-end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alleen Dement.

Glen Moffett, of Corvallis, was here Friday to meet his sister, Hazel Moffett and drive her to Medford for the week-end.

Morjorie Child returned Saturday from California, where she spent a week assembling new stock for the Excel Dress Shoppe. According to Mrs. Child, Oakland is rapidly developing into a clothes manufacturing center. Among other high style items ordered by Mrs. Child was some of the new and eccentric costume jewelry so popular in San Francisco.

Mrs. William Taylor and son, Billy, were house guests Tuesday and Wednesday at the Sherman Morris home.

Mr. and Mrs. Iris Ireland spent the week-end in Portland.

Mrs. Ernest Whereast on Friday accompanied Mr. and Mrs. William Howell on a rush trip to Eugene.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig Perrott and Judy on Sunday went to Langlois, where they will spend the next two months, while Mr. Perrott is working on the construction of a new creamery building.

Mrs. Norma Zelle, who had spent the previous three weeks here with her mother, Mrs. Rose Ashton, left last Friday evening for her home in Salt Lake City.

Mrs. L. P. Fugelson has a seven months old Brahma pullet which recently laid an egg rivaling a goose egg in size. It measured six and one-half inches around the long way, four and one half the other.

Claire M Gray and F. C. True, of Broadbent, went out to Eugene last Saturday for the basketball game. They were accompanied home by K. P. Lawrence, who had gone out for Father's Day at the university.

Oscar Larson, of City Motors, returned last evening from a business trip to Portland on which he left Monday.

Does Know His Onions

Last week the Sentinel published a story that would cast some doubt on Frank Leslie's knowledge of onions. This week we must correct that impression and admit he does know them in a figurative sense at least.

Friday afternoon he went out to Eugene, accompanied by Dr. Jas. Richmond and Supt. B. W. Dunn, to attend the basketball game. The other two had already secured their tickets so Mr. Leslie went to McArthur Court at 6:15—the window opened at 7:00—to buy his ticket. There were possibly a hundred in line at the time, standing in two lines. At eight o'clock he was still 15 feet from the ticket window.

He had been observing a racket which the students, or some of them were working. They would crowd in at the window with a bunch of bills in their hands, and then come down the line trying to sell for a dollar the tickets they had paid 55 cents for.

Mr. Leslie was naturally indignant when the window closed at 8:00 and he had not yet secured a ticket, nor did he hesitate to tell what he thought of such racketeering methods.

Pretty soon a young man stepped up and asked if he wanted a ticket and upon being informed very emphatically that he did, the young man handed him a complimentary.

But here again is a doubt that the city recorder really does know his jonquils. He sat in the general admission section Saturday night and then Monday morning when he found the stub in his pocket learned that it was for a reserved seat!

To Speak At C. of C. Tuesday

The Investment Bankers Association of America, realizing as other fields of business so today, the importance of public relations, has inaugurated a public information program designed to acquaint the public with the economic function of the investment banking business.

The Investment Bankers Association raised the funds with which to cover the cost of the program by popular subscription among the investment dealers throughout the country. The educational feature of the program is carried through the medium of a film entitled "Investing in America's Future." It will be shown to civic, social and community clubs, lodges, trade unions and any other organization where the membership is interested in educational subjects, free of charge, and with an operator and speaker furnished.

A. L. Hawn, of the firm of E. M. Adams & Co., of Portland, Oregon, will appear before the Chamber of Commerce of Coquille at their meeting next Tuesday, February 18, at noon and present this program.

The Portland Committee on Speakers and Engagements reports that this program has been enthusiastically received wherever it has been shown, and the Investment Bankers Association has received many compliments on the educational value of the program.
