State Fox-Mink Breeders To Meet at Salem Saturday

The Coquille unit of the Oregon State Fox and Mink Breeders association will be represented at the annual meeting at Salem, March 1, by Mrs. C. M. Hartwell, Riverton, a director of the state association; Mrs. B. T. Heppner, secretary-treasurer of the local unit, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Potts, of Eastside. Mr. Potts is president of the local group.

The left-hand rule of the road, standard in England and most British possessions, does not obtain in British Columbia which follows the driving rule of "the States."

Handmade rugs were displayed at Monday evening's meeting of the Junior Woman's club, during a program arranged by Grace Greenough on interior decoration. Mrs. L. L. Bonney showed a plaited rug and gave directions for that type of rug-making. A string rug, made by Mrs. Andy Anderson, a knitted rug made by Myrtle DeLong and a section of cotton carpet, knitted by Mrs. Fred Hickok were among the beautiful articles of handicraft exhibited. Eunice Barrow commented on pictures of several attractive interiors. Mrs. R. A. Wernich outlined a few basic principals of interior decoration and helpful suggestions for the novice home painter. Lois Fenn gave a short talk on gardening and answered gardening problem questions.

Following the program, Georgianna Vaughan, who presided over the business meeting, called for reports from standing committee chairmen.

Estel Sohler reported that up-to-date collections from the Christmas Seal sale amount to $601.70 and that 300 letters are still unacknowledged. Mrs. Vaughan announced that the Chamber of Commerce will pay the February milk fund bill. Announcement was made that Powers will entertain the county federation March 18.

Vi Connarn, Lucille Cottengin and Evelyn Mattoon were members of the hostess committee. They served refreshments to the following members and guests: Mesdames L. L. Bonney, J. Arthur Berg, Pearl Ellingson, R. A. Wernich, Fred Hickok, Lois Fenn, Eunice Barrow, Donna Dean Bosserman, Emma Briggs, Ruth Clayton, Evelyn Elliott, Peg Gould, Grace Greenough, Jane Kramer, Catherine Maynard, Gertrude Mehl, Maxine Stevens, Inez Rover, Edna Sandall, Louise Schroeder, Estel Sohler, Mary Stevens, Hazel Sutton, Gertrude Swinney, Mabel Tucker, Georgianna Vaughan, Carol Young, Jean Laird, and Jeannette Wheeler.

Members of the Justamere club enjoyed a delightful party Thursday when Mrs. Leona Bryant entertained at a fried turkey luncheon at her Bandon cottage. The luncheon table carried an unusual centerpiece of choice, variegated camellias. Members present were Mesdames Ben Folsom, F. L. Greenough, L. H. Hazard, J. A. Lamb, H. W. Pierce, A. J. Sherwood, W. S. Sickles, J. L. Smith, R. A. Wernich and H. A. Young.

Two quilts for the families of veterans in the Roseburg hospital were tied Tuesday by members of the American Legion Auxiliary sewing club, when the group met for a day long meeting. At noon, an excellent potluck dinner was served. Members present were Mesdames Clifford Kern, J. E. Axtell, D. E. Rackleff, R. L. Stewart, Lee Hand, George Oeding, Guy Kelley, Beulah Neely, Alton Dungey, Nellie Prey, Claire Gray, Lyman Roth, Mike Broad, Amzy Mintonye and Fred Kunz.

Mystery is pervading meetings of Mamie Rebekah lodge. Edith Gruenewald, noble grand, and Cathryn Erickson, vice grand, have divided members of the lodge into two teams, but no member knows on whose team she belongs. Points are won in a variety of ways by members of the two teams. At Tuesday's evening's lodge meeting a true and false quiz on lodge ritual was given to secure additional points for each team. Attendance at lodge meetings counts, so a complete roll of the lodge is called at every session.

Refreshments, in the George Washington spirit, were served by a committee composed of Myrtle Benham, Ruth Clayton and Estelle Dunn. During the social hour Florabelle Boober led group singing of pep songs.

Lady Luck not only smiled, she beamed and shook hands Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Roy Wheeler, who, at the Pinochle club party given by Mrs. Charles Lewis, received first prize, traveling prize and door prize. Mrs. Ed Yarbrough held second score. Club members gave a towel shower for Mrs. Ernest Whereat, who celebrated her birthday recently. Dessert luncheon was served to the following members and guests: Mesdames Ernest Whereat, A. A. Kyle, Roy Wheeler, Ralph Menning, Ralph Hurlbutt, A. O. Culbertson, Ben Leatherwood, Ed Yarbrough, L. P. McElhaney, Jack McLaren, Charles Lewis and William Hughes.

Mrs. Fay Ambrose of Portland, associate grand matron of the Order of the Eastern Star was feted here Friday at a potluck dinner given after Mrs. Ambrose conducted a school of instruction for local Star officers. Mrs. George Oeding, dinner chairman, planned the attractive decorations adorning the dinner table. Directly in the center of the table was a floral replica of the Eastern Star. From it streamed narrow red, white and blue cellophane ribbons, which ran the length of the table. Tapers, placed at intervals along the steamers, added to the attractiveness of the picture. At Mrs. Ambrose's place was a Spode plate of her chosen pattern.

During dinner, Mrs. Florabelle Boober led group singing. Clarence Osika, worthy patron, welcomed Mrs. Ambrose and she responded with a short talk.

After dinner there was bridge and Chinese checkers. Door prizes were drawn by O. C. Sanford, Mrs. John Martin and Mrs. Ray Jeub.

Spring flowers made a gay setting Tuesday for the N. O. M. A. club party given by Mrs. Dennis Wagner. After an evening of sewing, Mrs. Wagner served refreshments. Guests were Mrs. Bob Hurrell and Ms. Bud Griffin. Members present were Mesdames Harold Stevens, Harold Dey, Marion Clayton, Tom Stevens, S. A. Morris, Ray Dettelsen, Meldon Carl, Keith Kribbs, Howard Dettelsen, Don Auer and Denton Ellingson.

Members of the C. S. C. club who have not been meeting regularly since Christmas, swung into schedule Tuesday afternoon at a sewing party given by Mrs. W. E. Cross. Refreshments were served at the tea hour to the following members: Mesdames Neil McGilvery, J. J. Stanley, Maggi e Simmons, Sam Arnold, Harold Varney, Jack Arnold, W. L. Kistner, W. E. Cross, E. L. Perrott, Meldon Carl and James Watson.

Mrs. Verne Oederkirk and Mrs. Powell Yarbrough entertained at a pinochle party Friday evening, at the Oederkirk home, which was decorated with spring flowers. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. George Durrand high score, Mrs. Jim Schaefer, second and Jean Nye, low. The guests were Mesdames Ray Mattoon, Sandy McBride, George Durrand, Jim Schaefer, Lawrence Gulseth, William Walker, Georgia Hansen, and the Misses Jean Nye, Eileen Kendall and Patricia Peart.

Coquille B. P. W. At Eugene

"In again, out again, gone again, Finnegan," might well be the chant of Business and Professional Women's club members who attended the district conference at Eugene last weekend, and were awarded the traveling cup for being the largest delegation from the greatest distance. A check of local members attending the conference revealed that the conference's official counter had erred by crediting the Coquille group for the presence of Eleanor Menegat, who was a member here last year but has transferred to another club. Loss of Miss Menegat as a member of the Coquille delegation made the Portland club the legitimate winner of the traveling cup contest.

Members attending from here were Florence Burton, Clara Bosserman, Martha Mulkey, Leona Bryant, Ellen Braxton, Viola Newton, Dale Claver, Florence Hallock, Ida Oeding, Annie Robinson, Cherie Mae Hartwell and Edith Walton.

The conference opened with an executive dinner Saturday evening at the Osborne hotel. Later in the evening a reception and musicale were staged at the Baptist church. A drill on parliamentary law was held Sunday morning at the county court house. This was followed by a forum meeting, at which Rose Leubrand, of Heppner, state chairman of international relations, spoke on "What Price Peace." Genevieve Turnipseed, dean of women at Oregon State college, chose as her topic "Women in Government," an excellent speech given at the Sunday luncheon meeting.

Calling cards 50 for $1.00.
