

Society and Clubs

by Catherine Maynard, Telephone 185-L

Mrs. J. L. Smith was the hostess at luncheon Thursday for members of the Justamere club. The luncheon table was attractive with a gay centerpiece of Spring flowers. Club members sewed and visited during the afternoon. Those present were Mesdames Leona Bryant, Bert Folsom, F. L. Greenough, M. O. Hawkins, J. A. Lamb, A. J. Sherwood, J. L. Smith, R. A. Wernich and H. A. Young.

For their aunt, Mrs. James Richmond, Mrs. Harold Gould and Mrs. Harold Hatcher entertained Friday evening at a surprise birthday party at the Gould home. Many of the guests were nieces of Mrs. Richmond. As tokens of their affection and esteem, they joined in bringing her lovely gifts. After a pleasant evening of sewing and visiting, the two hostesses served birthday cake and other refreshments. Members of the party were Mesdames Clarence Osika, Alan Terry of Bandor, E. C. Barker of Myrtle Point, Inez Chase, Edgar Rickard of Myrtle Point, Morris Harvey, Harold Gould, James Richmond and Harold Hatcher.

Bridge players gathered Friday for dessert luncheon at the R. A. Wernich home, where Mrs. George Maynard entertained informally that plans might be formulated for organizing a small club. Mrs. R. F. Beals was the afternoon's high scoring player. Club members present were Mesdames Harold Stromquist, J. K. Henninger, Bob Nelson, R. F. Beals, George McClellan, W. M. Sandall and George Maynard. Mrs. R. E. Harbison substituted for Mrs. L. B. Gould.

St. Patrick would have been a welcome guest at the Past Noble Grands party given Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Harry Hunt. Decorations, refreshments and favors all paid tribute to his day. There were even clay pipes, tied with green ribbons, in readiness for each guest to salute him. After the business meeting, conducted by the president, Ida Oerding, there were games. Inez Chase was awarded a prize for her rapidity and accuracy in unscrambling Irish words. Members present were Inez Chase, Estelle Dunn, Flora Dunne, Maude Green, Lenora Hunt, Ida Oerding, Hester Holverstott, Jennie Price, Bertha Holbrook, Annie Robinson, Myrtle Noah, Harriet Schaer and Iva Hufford, of Myrtle Point.

Business and Professional Women's club members will have an opportunity Monday evening to be what they have always wanted to be. Dressed according to styles dictated by their submerged selves, they will appear as they would be had circumstances and opportunities permitted the fulfillment of childhood wishes.

The girls of the Coquille High school's senior class will be guests at the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Stevens gave a "500" party Friday evening. To Mrs. J. L. Stevens went honors befitting the high-scoring player. Luxuriant purple iris made attractive bouquets. Refreshments were served late in the evening to the following: Messrs. and Mesdames L.P. Fugelson, J. L. Stevens, C. Vernon Smith and Stanton Stevens.

La casa McClary was the scene of a gay party Tuesday evening when Senora U. E. McClary invited friends for comida by bridge. Devor was Mexican. The centerpiece was a wooden bowl filled with brown and gold ears of dried corn. Pottery of brown and ivory was used for the dinner service. Gay Mexican place cards guided the guests. Mrs. Guy Mauney and Major G. L. Maynard had the highest totals on their Mexican tallies. The guests were Senoras U. E. McClary, Marjorie Knight, president of the Bachelor Girls, at the club's Friday luncheon meeting at the Coquille Hotel, appointed Ellen Braxton to a post on the membership committee. Miss Braxton succeeds Harriet Webb, the latest club member to join the group of Bachelorettes now living in Portland. Attending the luncheon meeting were Margaret Belloni, Carol Young, Vesta Milley, Norene McKeown, Gladys Mays, Lydia Holstien, Maxine Johnson, Rose Matney, Winifred Stone, Marjorie Knight, Eileen Kendall, Eva Schroeder, Patricia Peart, Harriet Webb and Jane Brault.

Variety was added to the bridge club party given Thursday by Mrs. Ray Vaughan, who took her guests to Brandon's for dessert before the bridge games at her home. Mrs. Wm. Barrow was high scorer and Mrs. Henry McCue, second. Club members present were Mesdames Andy Anderson, William Barrow, J. Eric Tucker, Don McEniry, Henry McCue, Marlin Brandon, Elbert Schroeder and Ray Vaughan.

Mrs. C. C. McCurdy entertained the K. Y. N. club Wednesday afternoon at a sewing party and informal tea. Members present were Mesdames Will Myers, Elmer Neely, Eugene Nostler, Jim Dawson, Fred McNelly, Roy Pettingill, Bob Geaney, V. R. McCurdy, L. G. Ray, B. L. Tracy, Sam Sturgeon and Miss Patricia Nostler.

Discussion of plans for a benefit card party filled most of the business session of the Pro America meeting held Monday afternoon at the R. A. Wernich home. Mrs. Harold McCue, treasurer, gave a report on the organization's satisfactory financial status. Mrs. George L. Maynard conducted the meeting.

Three candidates were initiated into the Rebekah lodge Tuesday evening at an impressive ceremony led by Edith Gruenwald, Noble Grand. The initiates were Lois Strong, Aurora Willard and Hazel Strong. During a brief business meeting the Noble Grand appointed Lois Fenn and Mary Clinton as members of a committee to appear with her at the Oddfellow meeting to formulate plans for a potluck dinner and card party.

Two guests, Mrs. Florence Hallock, a member of the Kirby lodge and Mrs. Catherine Norton of the Ashland, Wisconsin lodge, were present. Refreshments were served by a committee composed of Louis Brown, Maude Green, Cathryn Erickson and Edith Gruenwald.

Peach blossoms, arranged in an Early American crystal bowl, made an effective centerpiece on the dinner table for members of the Monday Night club when they were entertained this week by Mrs. Muri Pettit at dinner and bridge. Wood lilies added their graceful decoration to the other rooms. Mrs. J. L. Smith won first prize, Mrs. E. W. Lorenz, traveling prize, and Mrs. Leona Bryant, consolation. Mrs. Bryant substituted for Mrs. Jane Williams. Members entertained by Mrs. Pettit were Mesdames Bert Folsom, Edna Hartson, J. A. Lamb, E. W. Lorenz, H. W. Pierce and J. L. Smith.

Knitters Wanted Tuesday Evenings

Knitters, and more knitters, are invited to come to the Bundles for Britain meetings on Tuesday evenings at the Guild hall. Mrs. A. O. Walker, knitting chairman, has just received a large supply of yarn, enough to supply all the nimble fingers ready to work for Britain.

According to Mrs. T. B. Currie, president of the local organization, donations continue to swell the treasury. The Eagles, the Royal Neighbors, the business and Professional Women's club, the First Aid class and several private contributions have added to available funds during the past week. Two groups, the Study club and the Dorcas society of the Seventh Day Adventist church, are this week commencing to sew hospital garments.
