Style Show At Card Party Friday

A feature of the Junior Woman's club card parties Friday afternoon and evening at the Guild Hall will be a showing of spring and summer garments by Mrs. Charles Kash. The garments all come from Ella Mae Pratt, Ltd., of Long Beach, a shop in which Mrs. Phillip Johnson, Mrs. Kash's sister-in-law, has an interest. Mrs. Johnson has sent a large assortment of beautiful garments, from which Mrs. Kash has selected the choicest to display on her models. Though the complete list of models cannot be given at this time, among those who will show the garments are Mrs. Stanley Ayers, Norene McKeown, Vesta Miley and Janie Kramer. The afternoon showing will be at 4 p. m., after bridge and pinocle players have finished their games. Tea will be served during the show. In the evening, the models will appear at 8 p. m., when dessert will be served. Cards will follow the showing.

For reservations at either party, one may call Mrs. Don McEniry, 227-R. Mrs. Alton Clausen is assisting Mrs. Kash in the display of clothes. Mrs. R. J. Connarn is chairman of the refreshment committee, Mrs. Dan Fish, tables and cards, Mrs. Wendell Sandall and Mrs. L. B. Gould, prizes and Mrs. Don McEniry, general chairman.

Heard President's Wife Last Evening

A carload from Coquille, F. G. Leslie, Dr. Jas. Richmond, Everett Sealey, Miss Glenada Kendall and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. LaBerge, drove out to Eugene yesterday to hear Mrs. Franklin Delano Roosevelt speak in McArthur court last evening. They had hoped to get some inkling from her remarks as to what might be in the Presidential mind, but were disappointed.

To phrase it a little differently from what one of the party did, the paucity of ideas was matched by the flow of words.
